THE EDITOR'S MAIL. Fenian Machinations.

SIR.—The Editorial Notes of this morning's paper contain "some rumors of Fenian machinations against the fortifications at Esquimalt, etc." THE GUARDIAN does not make a business of manufacturing anti-Irish humbug; we may take for granted that such rumors did not develop in your sanctum. Evidently the Fenian Raid Hoodoo is once more resurrected and like the gripple will run its course.

It is supposed that many citizens of the United States who are of Irish lineage, have no great love for the British Empire, but it is absolutely certain that they are endowed with a fair share of common sense. The idea is absurd that they would make or even countenance a raid on Canada which must end as fruitlessly as the one under O'Neil, as ridiculously as the lesser one under Stevens, or as disastrously as Jamieson's Raid on the Boers.

United States' humorists are responsible for a fair share of the nonsense. About New Year's some of them revived the old-time story—A Fenian Raid on Canada. The subject was discussed in some of the foremost journals of the Republic. The Literary Digest of New York, one of the ablest and most impartial reviews in America, gave a summary of the opinions of a few prominent newspapers and concluded with the subjoined:

"Underneath most of the comments seems to be the suspicion that the affair is only an excellent specimen of Irish humor. If the raid bugaboo keeps some of the Canadian troops from starting for South Africa, the most rosy expectations of the plotters, it is surmised, will be realized."

There is absolutely no cause for fear of Fenian Raids or Fenian machinations in this happy Canada of ours. If there were, like the Hon. Edward Blake, the citizens of Irish birth or descent would as readily shoulder the musket in the defence of their country as those who look to England, Scotland or France as the home of their ancestors.

Now when the Empire is recognizing the valor and the brains of the Irish generals and Irish soldiers of the line, when our glorious Queen Empress has herself donned the green immortal shamrock, some there are would raise the cry of Fenian Raid or Fenian machinations to stem the tide of Ireland's rising fortunes. But it is useless. If those who would use it can find nothing better let them desist, fall in with the procession and if from long croaking their voices have become useless for singing, let them whistle the Wearing of the Green a la Kipling.

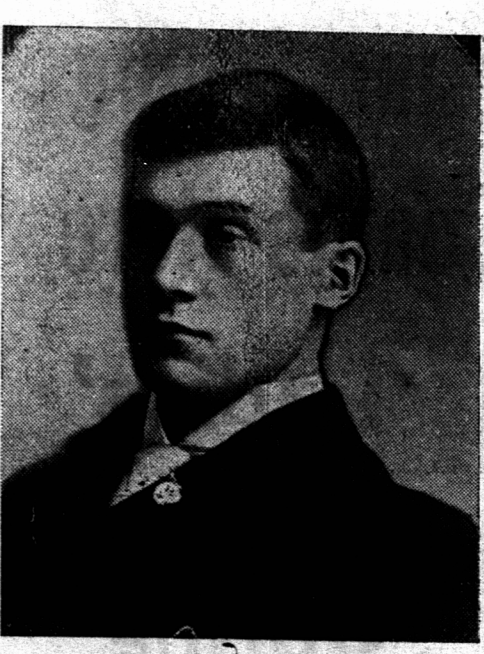

If some persons in Canada have had dreams and Fenian Raid nightmares, it is not to be supposed that the statesmen who rule the destinies of the British Empire share in their mental weakness.

If the Home Government see fit to push forward vigorously the fortifications at Esquimalt might it not dawn on any intelligent man that their reason for doing so is not on account of Fenian machinations, but on account of the supposed unfriendly attitude of Russia, France and perhaps other European powers? Should war arise Esquimalt would be a great base of supply for the British fleet in the Pacific. The Canadian Pacific Railway would be the great arm by which Britain's unlimited resources would be rapidly transferred to the bounds of the earth. Canada would prove to the world even more conclusively than she is now doing,

THE BATTLE OF PAARDEBERG.

Montreal, March 26.—(Special.)—The Herald's letter from Paardeberg giving particulars of the fight in which Roland Taylor of Charlottetown was killed, says:—

The battle raged all day until 5 o'clock when the Cornwalls arrived in support and the commanding officer ordered a charge for which the Brigadiers subsequently expressed regret that it took place as it was not intended.

HOW ROLAND TAYLOR WAS KILLED.

He at the same time warmly congratulated the Canadians as did Lord Roberts. Taylor was shot through the heart while advancing. The wound of Wayne of Charlottetown was slight.

what a pillar of strength she is in that mighty edifice the British Empire.

When Saxon and Scot, Welshman and Irishman, Canadian and Australian, men from every clime where the co-mingled crosses of St. George, St. Andrew and St. Patrick float, are standing shoulder to shoulder in the defence of the Empire, is the time not propitious to let party differences drop, for ancient feuds to be forgotten and for us all to be cemented into one great earth embracing nation.

Each one may look with special devotion to the land of his forefathers and if he lives up to the best traditions of his race he will be a better man and consequently a better citizen.

BULLER READY TO ADVANCE.

LONDON, March 26.—Despatches from Natal contain forecasts of an early movement of Buller's army. These are based upon the formation of volunteer ambulance corps and the opening of a new hospital at Estcourt.

These proofs are valid, in view of the heavy casualty lists which have accompanied Buller's previous operations. Outpost skirmishing is again reported beyond Elandslaagte and an advance towards Dundee seems imminent.

MAFEEKING'S LATEST REPORT.

The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Roberts:—

"A telegram from Nicholson at Bulawayo states that Baden-Powell reports: 'All well to March 13. During the past few days enemy's cordon much relaxed.' The magnitude of the business done between the United States and Canada in lambs and poultry is not realized by those not immediately connected with it. During the months of September, October and November there were shipped from Canada 112,000 lambs, making altogether 500 carloads. These lambs were worth on the average $2.50 a piece, and the total value was therefore about $270,000. There was paid in duties on these lambs to the United States Government $90,000. They were handled by the New England Dressed Meat and Wood Company, of Somerville, Mass. The figures for the same period of 1898, however, show that in the corresponding months of that year there were sent across the line 129,228 lambs. These lambs come from all over Canada.

As regards poultry, there were 8,000 to 10,000 live geese shipped to the poultry yards of Charles M. Austin, of Mansfield, Mass., for feeding purposes. There have been seen at Sabrevois, in the Province of Quebec, as many as 11,500 live geese and 5,000 live ducks at one time and it takes 125 bushels of grain a day to feed them. The firm of S. H. Jones, at Sabrevois, has had at one time as many as 25,000 geese and 15,000 ducks.

The American firms mentioned in this report make most of their purchases in the townships of the Province of Quebec, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Is.

SHOCKING STATE OF AFFAIRS.

Describing the present condition of affairs in Puerto Rico, the correspondent of the Journal and Advertiser at San Juan says: The people are too weak to resist bayonet rule, but their love for the United States is changing to apathy or fierce hatred. In San Juan one can hear on nearly every street half naked children sing the American national hymn. The scene is pathetic. It is almost incredible, but from the district of Cairo comes a message that more than one thousand women in that neighborhood cannot leave their huts because they have no clothes. The same reports came from other districts. There are probably 30,000 naked women in the mountain districts. Thousands of children cannot attend school because the teachers refuse to receive them stark naked, as they present themselves."

"Our Humble Relations."

The question of introducing animals into schools recalls a story in "The Human Boy," that late collection of school yarns by Eden Phillpotts, upon which both critics and those higher critics, children, have set the seal of their approval. The story is called "The Piebald Rat," and relates how "Old Briggs" attempted to "instill the lads with a wholesome fondness for natural history." This fondness for "our humble relations" was carried to such an alarming extent that the boys' desks were soon full of guinea pigs, tadpoles, blind-worms, and dormice. "Then chaps went on collecting till it got to be swaggar to keep big live things in your desk, and the bigger the thing the more swaggar it was." It all ended disastrously, but the boys acquired a fondness for natural history that they retained for some time.

As a matter of fact, it has long been the custom among Chicago teachers to keep animals in the schoolroom, and one teacher has raised several families of white rats to the infinite delight of the children. In this instance each child took his turn at cleaning house for the rats, and on Friday a favored pupil was permitted to become better acquainted with raddom by taking the family home with him for a two days' visit. Upon the whole, children manifest a much keener interest in their "humble relations" when they are alive than when they are stuffed and dried or merely represented by their portraits.

DIED.

In this city on the 26th inst., Margaret, beloved wife of Joseph Clark, in the 42nd year of her age, leaving a husband and four children to mourn the loss of a kind wife and loving mother. (Funeral notice later.)

At New Glasgow, on the 9th of March, in her 37th year, Sarah Ann, dearly beloved wife of Ivo McDonald, leaving in sadness a husband and four children, to whom she was very precious for her Christian faithfulness to the end. The stroke was the more severe because it was sudden and altogether unexpected.

At Murray Harbor North, on the 11th, Mrs. Benjamin Graham, in the 38th year of her age, leaving a disconsolate husband and ten young children to mourn the loss of a kind, affectionate mother and wife. Mrs. Graham was the eldest daughter of Mr. John McDonald, of Glen William. The family have the deepest sympathy of the whole community in their very sad bereavement.

TWIN TERRORS.

The twin terrors of this season of the year are Pneumonia and Bronchitis. They hurry off hundreds of people into untimely graves.

On the first indication of a cough or cold don't wait for serious developments. Start taking Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup before the damage done the lungs is beyond repair.

Mrs. Norman Thompson, Poplar Grove, P. E. I., says: "I had a severe cough, and pain and soreness in my chest. The cough was a hacking one and seemed to tear my lungs. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup promptly relieved the cough and removed

AN EXPERT BOX MAKER.

Durham Brown, of Kenmore, drives Five Hundred Nails in Eighteen Minutes. KENMORE, March 26.—Mr. Durham Brown of this town has the reputation of being able to drive one-and-a-quarter-inch nails at the rate of five hundred in eight minutes, and keep it up. He is cheese-box maker, a trade that requires much stooping. A short time ago his back gave out, and rheumatism set in his leg and thigh. He was unable to stoop and had to invent a machine to drive nails. However, he is driving nails in the natural way now, and Dodd's Kidney Pills are the cause of his cure.

Mr. Brown says: "After taking one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I found an improvement in my condition and before I had finished six boxes I found myself nailing in the natural way and Jack-in-a-Pinch (the nailing machine) discarded. Dodd's Kidney Pills are all and even more than is claimed for them."
