"Dr. Chase's Ointment also relieved me of eczema on my arms, which had bothered me for three years. My house is never without Dr. Chase's Medicines."

Tariff Reductions Not Expected

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—There is a disinclination in official circles here to comment on the Republican victory in the United States. At the same time, the feeling prevails that as a consequence not much can be expected in the way of tariff reductions south of the boundary.

Republican victories of four years ago were followed by the adoption of the Fordney Emergency Tariff which imposed a heavy duty on the produce of Canada farm; subsequently the present United States tariff was adopted also with high rates on agricultural products.

DOWNED HIM

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—When Thos. J. O'Brien struck at Mrs. Margaret McHugh, one of Boston's police women, she did not pull her club on him, instead, she moved aside to avoid the blow, then stepped in and with a right hand swing sent him sprawling to the street, opening his left cheek.

At the police station a physician's services were necessary for O'Brien.

deliberately set in the woods during the last few days makes the outlook serious.

Forty of the fifty fires started Sunday. This is not surprising, says Mr. Hutchins, inasmuch as on Sunday many people go into the woods. Normally these fires would be easy to control, but with almost no rain for a month, the ground is so deep in dust that the humus has been shrivelled and helps the fire to burrow into the ground. When this happens very little can be done and the fire must be patiently watched.

The three hundred and fifty wardens in the State of Massachusetts are busy watching these fires and their appeals for volunteers have met with excellent response. Under the law, says Mr. Hutchins, wardens are allowed to call on citizens to help in the extinction of fires. If citizens refuse they are liable to fines of $10. So far Mr. Hutchins has heard of no fine being imposed.

Crafton Firebug.

The "fire bug" in Gratton has three members of the State police on his trail. His presence there was telephoned to Mr. Hutchins yesterday morning by District Forest Warden John P. Crowe, whose investigation in the woods around Gratton gave him unmistakable evidence that the fires were of incendiary origin.

Besides the 350 town forest wardens there are eight district forest wardens who move at the bidding of Mr. Hutchins. They are distributed in the parts of the State where most of the fires are being reported. The places where the fires are most severe are as follows: Sherborn, Franklin, Medway, Bellingham, Uxbridge, Northbridge, Wrentham, Gratton, Draent, Holden, Reading, Winchendon, Halifax, Peru and Holyoke.

The culprit in Gratton is not yet known, but Mr. Hutchins suspects that it is "some fool boys" who start fires in order to see the engines. Pyromaniacs, he says, are either boys or people who have a grudge against someone and try to satisfy it by destroying the person's property. Inasmuch as most of the forests in question are State forests, the latter cause is not likely.

The causes of the other fires are: First, the dryness of the leaves and the soil; second, the holiday trippers who carelessly set fire to the woods; third, sparks from locomotives, and fourth, the present wind which may swell these fires to even larger proportions. A week ago the appropriation for the State fire wardens was discussed, but $2,000 extra was received from the executive council.

The Man Who Will Control

that Baldwin was the only good thing in the Georgian Ministry.

When Mr. Law passed out Baldwin, with the prestige of being Lloyd George's chief executioner, became Premier. He began by expressing a wish to be back with his Worcestershire pigs; but soon showed that he could use good, plain, concise and at times elevated English and master parliamentary arts. He showed a certain civil modesty that the House liked, and what was more, he had a reputation for honesty—a particularly useful thing for a politician after several years of experience with the mercurial Mr. Lloyd George. He apparently had not a particle of love for the Imperial, shunned the picturesque and the dramatic; became chiefly famous for his bristly pipe; and wore such shabby clothes as to draw a protest from the "London Cutter and Taylor."

Like Mr. MacDonald, he wasn't Prime Minister long enough for the country to judge much of his merits. For he hadn't been in office a year when Mr. Amery and other young enthusiasts got him to try to do in three weeks what Chamberlain couldn't do in ten years, namely, convert England into a republic with the consequence that Labco got in power. Since then, or at least up until Wednesday last, Baldwin has been regarded as a somewhat dubious commander of a rebellious host. Lord Beaverbrook, who owns a lot of big newspapers, pretended to despise him; Baldwin, in his own Harrow style by saying that Beaverbrook was a person he wouldn't care to have at his house and Lord Rothermer was equally antagonistic. However, nothing succeeds like success; and it may be said to forgive much to this week's important happening.

Baldwin, like Bonar Law, puts family first and his politics afterwards. He has two sons and four daughters; and perhaps as good a sidelight as any upon his character is that his favorite son—Oliver Baldwin—is Socialist who nearly carried a Tory seat for Mr. Ramsay MacDonald.

MONTREAL, Nov. 5.—Montreal sustained its first snow fall last evening. Flakes began to flutter down about 7.30, and as the night wore on the city was covered by a thin white mantle.

Senator was the outstanding feature of the election in Massachusetts. The outcome was still uncertain today with Gillet leading by 7351 votes in returns from 1162 precincts out of 1432 in the state.

Coolidge carried his home state by a plurality over Davis which on returns from the same precincts had reached 319,337. There will be at least two women in the new state house of representatives, M. Sylvia Donaldson, Republican being re-elected from Tenth Plymouth district and Harriette Russell Hart, Republican being elected in the 13th Essex district.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—With returns almost complete the citizens of Massachusetts had voted on four proposed constitutional amendments as follows:

Whether the state shall favor an amendment to the federal constitution prohibiting the employment of children in industry, yes, 186,985; no, 505,238.

Whether the present daylight saving law shall be continued in operation; yes, 361,904; no, 323,171.

Whether the state shall adopt a state prohibition enforcement law to manufacture or transport intoxicating liquors; yes, 343,518; no, 322,407.

Whether there shall be a state tax of two cents a gallon on all gasoline sold, the proceeds to be used for the maintenance of highways; yes, 203,834; no, 406,306.

Soldiers' Memorial Unveiling Postponed

At a special meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon which was attended by Mr. G. W. Hill, a resolution was passed that the work of changing the Soldiers' Memorial pedestal be under the supervision of Mr. C. B. Chappell, architect. This was on the suggestion of Messrs Harris & Blanchard, the other two members of the reporting committee.

The changes to the pedestal have been made necessary by the fact that wood instead of lead was laid between the stone blocks when they were set. This material failed to keep the stones separated the 3-16 of an inch required for pointing.

After the stones are relaid the joints will be placed so that there will be an absolutely seamless surface.

With regard to the letters on the stone, Mr. Hill said that they were architecturally correct, being the Italian Renaissance style such as are used on large monuments and memorials of today. They will require a little trimming up; in course of time these leaden letters will become, as he said "black as ink", and will show up in marked contrast to the lighter stone work.

Mr. Hill will start work right away on the pedestal. As the season is well advanced he does not expect to complete the work this Fall, but will have it done in the Spring as soon as weather conditions will permit, probably in May.

The three bronze statues which are to surmount the pedestal and are now in Charlottetown will be stored during the winter.

Pneumonic Epidemic Now Under Control

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 5.—Prompt control of the epidemic of pneumonic plague, which has claimed twenty five lives in the Mexican colony here since October 19, was predicted tonight by Dr. Wm. Dickie, secretary of the Board of Health and Director of the anti-plague committee. No deaths were reported today and but one new case was admitted to the hospital. "There is no reason for public alarm," Dr. Dickie said.

Dr. Dickie's statement said: "The state board of health is in charge of the anti-plague campaign and is being assisted by the United States public health service and by the health department of the city and county."
