TEXT OF REPORT

Re-James Connolly - Harland Hughes Case
In the matter of the injuries received while under arrest by one Connolly, this Commission has required the written report of each officer having knowledge of any of the circumstances. These reports are available to this Council, and are being reviewed with a view to the injuries suffered at the hands of any constable. The prisoner Hughes was assaulted by three officers actively assaulting Connolly in the cell. The Commission advises the discontinuance of the practice of confining more than one disorderly prisoner in the cell especially in the case of a woman, if there is necessarily for the peace of the neighborhood, another cell should be so fitted.
The inaction of one constable, perhaps only temporary, on hearing of strife in the cell, may be attributed to the indecision of inexperience, and discipline is deferred for further explanation.
This Commission is of opinion that the carrying of proper night sticks, as used by other police forces, should be adopted by the Charlottetown Police, to obviate the necessity of struggling with disorderly offenders.

PLEADS GUILTY TO Liquor Smuggling

BATHURST, N. B., Oct. 3.—(CP)—Testimony in the case of Robert Long, Richibucto, N. B., charged with conspiring to smuggle liquor into Canada, came to an abrupt end today when his counsel announced he wished to change the plea of innocence to guilty. In previously pleading not guilty Long had elected to be tried before Magistrate Harry Willett. The Magistrate read the charge today. Long pleaded guilty and was remanded to Saturday for sentence.
Another unexpected development occurred when Leo Leblanc, of Ste. Anne de Kent, N. B., appeared in court. He had been sought in New Brunswick and New England since Sept. 5. Leblanc also consented to having a charge of conspiracy tried before the magistrate. The case was adjourned to Saturday and he was allowed freedom on $10,000 bail.

HALIFAX, Oct. 3.—(CP)—The 1,643-ton freighter Sneffeld limped into Halifax Harbor today after battling a wild Atlantic storm that resulted in injuries to three members of her crew.
As the Norwegian vessel reached port with her cabins flooded and her deck damaged, the East Coast Radio Station at Halifax reported a message from the Swedish Motorship Kolsnaren. She lost her propeller 60 miles east of Sable Island. A tug was enroute to aid the 1,245-ton motorship.

Rousing Conservative

the value of the Ottawa agreements which have not only benefited all parts of the British Empire, but also the standpoint of trade and commerce, but have knit them more firmly together. The latter result was of vital importance today, when so much danger threatens democracy. Unfortunately the advent of the King Government has seriously threatened the unity of Canada. Hon. Dr. Manion, the newly chosen Conservative leader, this country would have a Prime Minister in whom all classes could repose the utmost confidence.
Referring to Liberal criticism leveled against the MacMillan Government for the expense incurred in rebuilding the Prince of Wales College, Dr. Manion said, "It is a waste of money, but it is a waste of money that is being wasted to-day in the King Government, when the conditions were more opportune. The result of Liberal negligence at that time cost this Province $120,000 in subsidy payments."
The speaker stressed the importance of appealing to the younger class of voters, and pointed out that Dr. Manion's first statement as leader included assurance to Ministers when elected to power, a pledge to deal with youth problems.

Senator MacDonald

Senator MacDonald, on behalf of the people of Cardigan, extended a cordial welcome to the visiting delegates. The Convention, he said, was one of the most inspiring he ever attended. He congratulated Hon. Dr. MacMillan on the rousing demonstration of loyalty which accompanied his unanimous election to the party leadership at the provincial convention held in Charlottetown.
Senator MacDonald said he was not only in the House of Commons but in the cabinet of the MacMillan and Bennett administration. He was prepared to say that when our convention met in Cardigan he was elected to succeed the late Hon. R. B. Bennett. He is a fine, honorable, able gentleman. He will serve this country as well as all of us who devoted ourselves to the service of Canada since Confederation, none did more wholeheartedly or unreservedly than Mr. MacMillan. The work he did saved Canada, especially the farmers of Canada, from a great deal of additional hardship during the years 1932 to 1935. I believe the people of Cardigan realize that today more than they did in 1935, and they appreciate it more and more. They are appreciating the fulfillment of the promise of the present administration at Ottawa. (Applause.)

Many Commissions

Instead of shouldering the problems of government, Mr. King has appointed Commissions at the rate of millions of dollars expense to the taxpayer. He cited the Bowell Commission, with which some of the provincial governments refused to cooperate. He also referred to the Wheat Commission which had recommended against stabilizing wheat prices against the Government had ignored the findings of their own Commission and had pegged wheat prices at 80 cents, with the result that today they are down $299,000,000 on this item alone.
The speaker warmly congratulated Dr. MacDonald on his nomination, and predicted that his nomination, if he had shown himself to be a representative for the county Legislature.

Hon. Dr. MacMillan

Hon. Dr. MacMillan, provincial leader, remarked amid laughter that Cardigan had a unique distinction under the present administration, as it was considered so important that two postoffices had to be provided.
Continuing, he referred to the grave crisis in Europe last week, and the splendid achievement of the British Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, in averting a world war by going personally to see the German dictator.
It was a matter of satisfaction, he said, that the newly elected Conservative leader would attempt to express his wholehearted approval of the attitude taken by the Dominion Government in supporting Mr. Chamberlain's peace efforts.
Dr. MacMillan reviewed briefly the provincial convention at Charlottetown, attended by over 1,000 Conservative delegates, at which he had been chosen unanimously to continue as provincial party leader; also the National convention at Ottawa, and the enthusiasm manifested on that occasion over the election of Hon. Dr. Manion.
He pointed out that in changing the name of the party from Liberal-Conservative to National Conservative, due recognition was given to the achievement of Sir John A. MacDonald, who had established the National Policy which Canada has followed ever since.

"Helping" The Farmers

Touching briefly on the record of the King Government, Dr. MacMillan pointed out that notwithstanding Liberal promises to reduce farm machinery prices in 1936, there have been three price increases in the last three years, and the cost of farm machinery is now greater than ever before. The Bennett Government when in office had impressed upon the manufacturers that if they raised their prices they would lose their tariff protection. The farm machinery producers had abided by that bargain.
Dr. MacMillan paid warm tribute to Mr. Bennett as a friend of the farmer. Nearly one and a half million dollars were obtained for the Province during the Bennett regime, in addition to the greatest increase in subsidy this Province ever received from Ottawa.

Touching Briefly On The Record

"I am going to venture the assertion," added the speaker, "that Dr. Manion will be just as good a friend, because he was one of the most important members of the Bennett cabinet and supported the projects we put forward when we went to Ottawa on those 'picnics' that paid this Province so well."
Dr. MacMillan referred to the splendid case presented by Mr. H. F. MacPhee as Attorney General in connection with the provincial claims before the White Commission. The $160,000 annual

Dr. MacMillan referred scathingly to the revelations made in connection with prohibition cases in recent weeks, which were too shameful to be published in the press.

He also denounced the undemocratic methods used in expropriating land for the National Park, and under the Road Act. The latter statute empowers the Minister of Public Works to fix his own valuations on land for road purposes, without appeal to an independent tribunal. He cited instances of gross abuse of this authority.

Other Speakers

The next speaker called upon was Mr. G. Shelton Sharp, Summerside, who accompanied by Mr. Roy Ings, Tyne Valley, was a welcome visitor at the convention. Mr. Sharp complimented the people of Cardigan on their shipbuilding tradition, and on their Federal representative, Senator MacDonald, and on the selection of Dr. MacDonald as Conservative candidate. He predicted that the King Government is already "on the way out" and cited the signs and portents of a return to stable Conservative administration in the near future.

Mr. H. F. MacPhee, former representative of the Cardigan district in the Legislature, received a special welcome from the convention. He referred to Dr. MacDonald as a veteran fighter who had already done splendid service in the provincial field and who, he predicted, would prove equally satisfactory as a federal representative.

"We are supposed," said Mr. MacPhee, "to have passed through the depression, yet what improvement do you farmers find in conditions today, after three years of Liberal rule? If it was not for the income which has accrued to you from those agreements, where would you be? There is something wrong with the economic system of Canada. We find greater disunity between the provinces than ever existed before. Somebody has to set those things right. We believe that the Conservative Party can set them right, and we believe that we have found the man to lead them to do this very thing, in the person of Hon. Dr. Manion." (Applause.)

Mr. MacPhee referred to the manner in which world conditions were exploited by Liberal campaigners in the last election. The Conservatives are not adopting the same discreditable tactics, but they are denouncing the King Government for failure to implement pre-election pledges.

Organization problems were discussed by Mr. R. R. Bell, secretary of the Provincial Conservative Association, and also by Mr. J. Nes

PREPARE FOR RACING DUEL

Bluenose And Thebaud Undergo Final Check-up.

GLoucester, Mass., Oct. 3.—(AP)—The Schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud, Captain Ben Pine's challenger for the International Fishermen's Trophy, and Bluenose, Captain Angus Walters' Canadian defender, went to ship yards today to complete preparation for their impending sailing duel, which will open off Boston next Sunday.
The task of removing Bluenose's auxiliary engines began immediately and Thebaud's underbody was sanded down preparatory to a final coat of paint. Thebaud's new suit of sail was taken to a sail loft for minor alterations, and before she resumes tuning up she also will be fitted with a new main gaff. The one she had was found to be badly twisted.

The two schooners will leave Gloucester early Friday for Boston, where the rival skippers will be greeted by Governor Charles F. Hurley, Mayor Maurice Tobin, and the crews of the army, navy and coast guard.
The second race will be sailed Columbus Day, Oct. 12, off Gloucester, on which day that ancient port will dedicate a new State Fish Pier. Additional races until one schooner has won three, will be sailed on alternate days.

Speedy Completion Of Partition Plan Is Urged By Italy

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
ROME, Oct. 3.—Italy today called for speedy completion of Czechoslovakia's partition by satisfaction of Hungary's minority claims.
The semi-official Informazione Diplomatica Service, distributed through the Ministry of Popular Culture, cautioned that delay in settling this problem in addition to the German and Polish minority question, might bring on "new complications."
The sharp tone of the Fascist press, meanwhile, plainly reflected the Italian conviction that Europe was still far from the assured peace some expected the Munich four-power accord to produce.
The Spanish civil conflict, hostilities in Italy in some French quarters and Soviet Russian influence in Europe all were cited as potential trouble breeders.

The Earl of Perth, British Ambassador to Rome, and Foreign Minister Count Ciano held a 30-minute conference today, at which diplomatic circles believed they dealt with the prospects for expediting enforcement of the Anglo-Italian Treaty of last April 16.

Income Tax Commissioner Heard In Probe

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—(CP)—Efforts of the interdepartmental committee on the control of profits in an armaments contract to protect the public interest in the Bren gun contract culminated in a meeting which extended until three o'clock in the morning of March 18 last, C. Fraser Elliott, Commissioner of Income Tax, stated today at the inquiry into the contract under Mr. Justice H. H. Davis.

Mr. Elliott was a member of the committee which studied and revised the contract under which the John Inglis Company of Toronto is to make 7,000 Bren light machine guns for the Dominion Government. The same company also holds a contract to make 5,000 guns for the British War Office.

The inquiry results from criticism of the contract in a magazine article by Lieut.-Col. George Drew of Toronto. Some of Mr. Elliott's statements as he completed two days on the witness stand with the prospect of another day before him were: The committee considered the fact the Inglis Company had the inside track in England and an assurance of a British contract was an "invisible asset" in its balance sheet.

While negotiations were proceeding he had discussed the contract with Hugh Flaxton, Liberal Member of Parliament for Toronto-Trinity who came to his office.

Czechoslovakia, with practically all her manpower already mobilized, uniformed, and poised to await the orders that mean life or death, is a mosaic of arms. Manning the border fortifications, mounting artillery to defend the passes in the mountain barrier, digging new support trenches, this armed people hurriedly makes the last preparation for resistance, if resistance it is to be. At top left, a regiment of horse artillery climbs a mountain pass. A group of men, top right, cluster about a light, rapid-fire gun, which the Czechs have in great numbers. At center left, a heavy howitzer threateningly points toward the border, while, in center, a light fast-moving armored car laden with machine-guns and light artillery gets under way. Lower left, a machine-gun outfit moves up, while, lower right, the crew of a British-built plane squadrons stands ready.
