Address And Presentation

On the evening of March 26th, citizens of Bay View and Cavendish met in the spacious home of Mrs. Fred Clarke, to honor William McDougall, Hunter River, who after four years of faithful service as mail-courier is now retiring.

Posen Up That Cold With Musterole.

Have Musterole handy when a cold hits. It has all of the advantages of another's mustard plaster WITH the blister. You just apply it with fingers. First you feel a warm tingle, the healing ointment penetrates the skin, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

An interesting number on the thoroughly enjoyable program and one that created much amusement and is valued very highly by Mr. McDougall, was the reading of an original poem by the authoress in costume, Mrs. Jeremiah Simpson, depicting the many and varied experiences incidental to the lot of a mail courier.

As your term of office is about expiring, we have met here tonight to congratulate you on the most excellent and efficient manner in which you have performed your duties and convey to you our thanks for your many acts of courtesy and kindness whilst engaged as mail-courier.

Hunter River And Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Taylor motored to Granville on Sunday. Miss Marjorie Wedlock was a passenger to Charlottetown on Wednesday evening, returning on Thursday afternoon.
