Plead Guilty To Conspiracy Charge In U. S. Court

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 22.—(A.P.)—Nine of 35 men indicted for conspiracy to violate tariff and smuggling laws of the United States pleaded guilty in Federal Court here today, and seven of them were given suspended sentences. The two others will be sentenced tomorrow. Other cases are expected to come up later.

Suspended sentences, each for two years in penitentiary, were imposed upon Capt. Archie Scarborough of New York and six members of the crew of the 65-foot British screw-steamer Pronto.

Scarborough was alleged by the government to have made arrangements here for landing 4,784 gallons of contraband alcohol from Belton.

The freed members of the crew of the Pronto, seized by the Coast Guard, near Georgetown, S. C., were listed as Capt. Harold Conrad, Chief Engineer Cyril Marin, Cook Peter Roman and Cecil Bayers, all of Nova Scotia; Percy Wallace, a former coast guardsman, and Michael Sikes, an American. Sudden Death

At Summerside Yesterday

Many friends will regret to learn of the very sudden passing of Mrs. Henry Scales of St. Eleanors which occurred at the home of Miss George Green, of Summerside yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Scales was stricken with a heart attack as she was sitting talking to Miss Green upon whom she was calling.

Born in Bedeque 85 years ago Mrs. Scales was, before her marriage Miss Guillelma Lefurgey, daughter of the late Alexander Lefurgey and will be kindly remembered by the older residents of Bedeque where she spent her girlhood. After her marriage Mrs. Scales went to live in St. Eleanors and since her husband's death continued to reside on the homestead. Of a quiet but kindly disposition she will be much missed in St. Eleanors village and also in Summerside where she had many friends.

There are left to cherish her memory two daughters Miss Florence of Scotch Plains, N.J., and Mrs. Oliver Johnson (Miriam) of North Battleford, Sask. One son Austin A. Scales of Freetown also two brothers, David Lefurgey, Bedeque, and Maynard Lefurgey, Summerside to whom much sympathy is extended in their sudden bereavement. Mrs. Scales was a consistent member of the Baptist church.

The remains are resting at the Undertaking Parlours of Percy L. Bowness until Saturday when they will be taken to her late residence in St. Eleanors. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at an hour yet to be arranged.

Miss Florence Scales is leaving for home at once and is expected on Saturday.—S.

Tells Of Plastic Surgery Job Done At Sea

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Oct. (C.P.)—"Do you stitch wide apart?" asked Captain A. J. Gale as the skippers sat around yarning in a ship chandler's back room today.

Captain Davis of the Hazelside said he did. "I think it's better." He looked around for confirmation. Captain Gale and Captain E. G. Van Erde, who commands a Dutch tanker, nodded solemn agreement.

The subject was sewing; the sewing a ship's master sits down to when a winging boom lays bare a man's skull, or the wash of a great sea drops a man into the scuppers with crushed limbs or torn face. The sewing skippers had a few stories to tell of surgery at sea.

Captain Gale's freighter Kildale lost a man off Belle Isle this week and the sea that carried him away left another seaman near death. "You could see his bare skull," the Captain said. "I said to the rest 'we'll never save him.'"

"I just went ahead and sewed him," Captain Gale said. "No anaesthetic. Never thought he'd live. But he's all right, and the hospital is going to take his stitches out before he leaves."

Captain Davis told of his plastic surgery job in the White Sea. The man had a gash up through the middle of his nose, almost under his eye, and then out the other side. "I thought his face was gone. His nose, cheek and scalp were torn loose."

"Well," said the skipper, "I gave him a nip of whiskey, took one myself, and then started. I got him pretty well stitched up and saw

Belfast

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Neil Murchison when the young people of Point Prim and vicinity met to hold a reception in honor of their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Murchison. Upwards of eighty people were present and a good time was enjoyed by all. The evening passed quickly in dancing. Music being furnished by Miss MacLeod, assisted by Misses Worth, Martin and MacWilliams. A congratulatory address containing all good wishes for the happiest and most successful future was read by Mr. Nathan Beers, teacher Point Prim and a sum of money presented to the young couple by Mr. S. L. Frizzell, Eldon. Mr. Murchison replied briefly and thanked the donors on behalf of his bride and himself after which he was enthusiastically bounced by the crowd. Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by a bevy of young ladies and the young people departed wishing the best of everything to Phemie and Hector.

Sunday evening service in St. Johns Presbyterian Church was conducted by the Young People's Society and a Thanksgiving programme was carried out with Miss Florence MacPhee leader for the evening. The Scripture lesson was taken from Psalm 107 and was read responsively. Psalm 104 was read by Mrs. Monty MacEachern. The topic for the evening was "Thanksgiving." A large number of members took part, with material bearing on the topic. All Thanksgiving hymns were sung. Meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. There was no morning service.

Mrs. Jessie MacGowan was a visitor to Belfast during the past week. Radio fans will be pleased to learn that the "Cotters" are back on the air again and Saturday night will bring a full house to many places that have a radio. The "Merry Islanders" is also another regular feature from now on and of course will be up to their splendid past record.

It is understood that those engaged in surveying at Pinette have almost completed their work and are leaving shortly. Weather conditions are such that they plan to return in the Spring for a short time.—S.

R. C. M. P. Reports Decreased Offences

OITAWA, Oct. 21—(CP)—Offences against Federal statutes dealt with by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the fiscal year 1935-36 showed a decrease compared with the previous year but offences against provincial statutes showed an increase.

The annual report of the Force, recently issued, states the decrease in Federal offences is due to fewer prosecutions under the railway, customs and excise acts, and the increase in provincial offences is accounted for by a larger number of cases relating to motor cars and liquor.

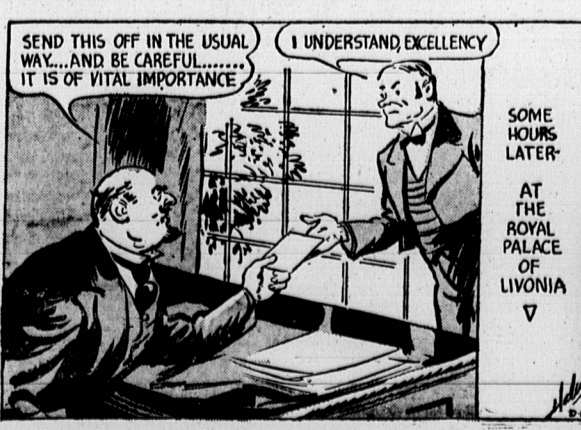

The report covers only cases dealt with by the Mounted Police. In the Maritime and Prairie Provinces and the Territories, the Mounties act as provincial police and deal with practically all offences but in the other provinces activities are confined to enforcement of federal statutes.

For all cases handled the decrease compared with the previous year was 3,152. Criminal code offences showed a drop of 2,325 and provincial statutory offences an increase of 1,864.

The report notes an increase in offences under the Juvenile delinquency act. In 1935-36 there were 788 cases with 591 convictions compared with 550 cases with 397 convictions in the previous year.

Total of true cases (omitting unfounded complaints) in the three divisions of offences dealt with during the year were: Federal Statutes, 9,514 cases with 5,652 convictions; Criminal Code, 19,736 cases with 7,488 convictions; Provincial Statutes, 14,819 cases with 3,353 convictions.
