HOGG-McEACHERN NUP-TIALS—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Presbyterian Church, Summerside, at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 16th, when Miss Jean, daughter of Mrs. Hogg-McEachern, formerly of Summerside, and the late Angus McEachern, became the bride of John Irving, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hogg of Wilmot Valley. Rev. Fred Williamson of the Presbyterian Church at Malpeque performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends. The church was prettily decorated with spring flowers by the girls of the bride. The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Fraser Mann, of Burlington, who gave her in marriage. Mr. John Bellon, organist of the church, played the wedding march. The bride wore a lovely gown of white silk crepe made on princess with a tuxedo jacket trimmed with taffeta. A smart turban with a small veil and white accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of the valley. The bride and groom were unattended. During the signing of the register Mr. T. Bentley sang "O Promise Me," immediately after the ceremony a happy young couple left on a honeymoon through the White Mountains, N.H., and New England States. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hogg will make their home in Wilmot Valley where Mr. Hogg has built a lovely new residence. The Guardian joins their friends in wishing them every success through life. Beauty Of Prose Wins Judge's Heart

LONDON, June 16—(CP)—How the beauty of the prose of a barefoot Irish boy won the heart of a judge and freedom for the boy was related here at the Royal Literary Fund dinner.

A love letter read at an asseize trial was: "Far away from where I am now there is a little gap in the hills, and beyond it the sea; and it is there I do go looking the whole day long, for 'tis the nearest thing to yourself that I can see."

The judge supplied money to enable the boy and girl to marry. It was disclosed.

chaotic dissension within the Soviet regime and showed that many persons desired, if they were not actually plotting, the downfall of Joseph Stalin.

The latest flood of charges of treason, "wrecking" and "diversion" centring in White Russia, alleged a huge conspiracy against Soviet agriculture.

At Minsk, capital of White Russia, N. M. Goloded, President of the White Russian Council of Commissars, 10 former commissars of the state and numerous members of the State Central Executive Committee were arrested.

They were charged with participation in a huge conspiracy. Cherviakoff was blamed for such a plot at a recent meeting of the Communist party.

General I. P. Ubovitch, former commander of the Red Army garrison in White Russia, was one of eight high army officers executed June 12 for a plot to "dismember" the Soviet Union. It was understood the eight were charged with plotting to sever White Russia and the Ukraine from the Union and give them to Germany.

White Russia is one of 11 republics making up the Soviet Union. It has an area of about 50,000 square miles and a population of 5,500,000.

The government's announcement of Cherviakoff's suicide said it followed closely the removal and execution of General Ubovitch and the arrests of N. M. Goloded, Premier of the White Russian Council of Commissars, 10 former commissars of the state and numerous members of the state central executive committee.

At the meeting of the State Communist party at Minsk last week it was charged the collective farms in White Russia were hotbeds of Polish espionage.

Cherviakoff was the second suicide of a high Russian official this month. General Jan Gamarnik, former vice-commissar of defence, killed himself June 1. The government said he acted after exposure as a traitor to the nation.

Inquiry Seeking Marketing Plan To Benefit All

WINNIPEG, June 16—Canada's efforts to achieve the perfect grain marketing system—serving producer, processor and consumer equally—has taken another step forward in the investigations being conducted by the Turgeon royal grain commission.

Views of scores of farmers and members of the grain trade on the most satisfactory means of putting wheat from prairie farms into the milled bins of consumers were submitted to Mr. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon on his western tour and, now adjourned sine die, the commissioner will hear further proposals when the sessions resume.

Major suggestions centred around the open market and futures method of trading as it exists today, wheat pools and compulsory, witness-ess attempted to take the best of each and unfold a plan that met the wishes of all.

The private grain trade witnesses, backed by many growers, urged continuation of the open market as it exists. W. J. Dowler, president, and A. E. Darby, secretary of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and others declared the open market with its far-flung mechanism reflected world conditions and opinions and offered the best facilities for putting wheat into consumptive channels.

The Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Wheat Pools, through the spokesman, J. H. Wesson, president of the Saskatchewan pool, declared in favor of a compulsory wheat board that would handle all wheat produced. It would mean the closing of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

James R. Murray, Winnipeg, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, saw few advantages in any form of wheat board and declared a compulsory board was certain to fail. There was no reason, he contended, why the open market, under government regulation, and wheat pools could not satisfactorily handle the selling of wheat.

Proposals that embraced both the open market and board principles came from John I. McFarland of Calgary, formerly in charge of government stabilization operations and chairman of the 1935 wheat board. Mr. McFarland suggested a voluntary board for those who wanted to market their wheat in that manner and continuation of the open market under government regulation.

Dr. Harold S. Patton, professor of economics at Michigan State College and an authority on wheat pools, made a suggestion embracing both open marketing and pool methods. A government-assisted co-operative pool would be formed with a guaranteed minimum price for those selling through it, he said, and the open market without any guarantee should be left for those who want it.

Farmers in the west showed divergence of opinion on marketing systems. Some declared in support of the open market, others urged re-establishment of co-operative pooling while others advocated either a voluntary or compulsory wheat board. Greatest opposition to the compulsory boards or pools was founded on infringement of rights to the individual to dispose of his grain as he wished.

Guaranteed prices to producers were suggested, chiefly with the objective of assuring the farmer a minimum return for wheat he produced. Government-sponsored crop insurance schemes were suggested for the farmer who through drought, insects or some other cause lost his entire crop.

TORONTO, June 16—(CP)—German Nationals in Canada, born in 1917, will be obliged to register before July 31 for active Military Service. C. G. Kropp, German Consul in Toronto, announced today. He expected those who registered would leave for Germany in a body.

Mr. Kropp said the order was the first since the Great War requiring Germans living abroad to return home for military service. He added his instructions set out German Nationals, also British subjects, would be required to register for Labor Service.

Archbishop Hackett On Island Visit

His Grace Archbishop Hackett arrived on the late boat last evening and motored to Summerside where he is the guest of Ven. Archdeacon White, D.D., at the Rectory. His Lordship is on his annual visit to administer the rite of Confirmation at the various parishes.

He will visit Kensington today and on Friday will be at St. Eleanors at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and in Kensington parish in the evening. On Sunday he will visit Crapaud at 10:30 a.m., and Springdale in the afternoon and Milton in the evening. On the 21st His Lordship will be at Rustico in the evening and at Georgetown on the 22nd, going on to Chery Valley the following day.

His Lordship will return to Prince County on the 24th and remain in the Port Hill parish two days. His visit to Alberton on the 27th will complete his tour of the Island. His Lordship was on the Island a short time ago when he held Confirmation at Charlottetown and Summerside.

Met Many Islanders

"During our stay in London I had the pleasure of meeting several Islanders, who might well be classed as successful Islanders abroad. Mr. Evelyn C. MacLeod, manager of the London branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, was born in New London in this province. Mr. Edward Pope, manager of the Bank of Montreal, is a son of the late Sir Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State and a nephew of the Florence Nightingale of Canada. Miss Georgina Pope of this city. Mr. Franklin Smith, who would be remembered by many of our citizens, occupies a position of great prominence and importance in the industrial life of Great Britain. Mr. Smith, who is engaged in the textile industry and is regarded very highly by his business associates. I am happy to say that, although he has achieved great success, he has not forgotten the Island and hopes to visit Charlottetown at a date in the not far distant future.

Visit to France

"Our visit to France was most interesting. We visited the battlefields, the magnificent Canadian Memorial at Vimy Ridge, and many of the war cemeteries, where many of our Island boys are resting.

"While in Paris we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Jenkins, formerly of this city, both of whom have achieved success in their well organized business in the French capital.

"In conversation with these conversant with business conditions in England I am happy to report that the unanimous opinion expressed was that the long protracted era of prosperity is not far off. The industrial situation undoubtedly shows a very much easier state of affairs, which to some extent may be attributed to the impetus given to the trade by reason of the Coronation.

Rural England

"In driving through the country one cannot fail to be impressed with the beauty of the country and the attractiveness of the rural life of England on every hand, and I am happy to say, the agricultural situation shows a marked improvement and all indications point to an abundant harvest.

"The picture drawn from my first visit overseas is that Great Britain is a great country; it is a beautiful country, scenic and architecturally. We found the people courteous, scholarly, kind and generous, and yet with all their greatness many of them are simple in their taste, and in their manner of living.

"I have come home impressed with the idea that notwithstanding all the changes that have taken place in Europe in the past quarter of a century that England today still has its 'soul', and that it is our business to do what we can in our humble way, individually and collectively as the people of this province have done so loyally in the past, to strengthen and preserve that bond which binds us to the Empire and which consistently and faithfully upholds the rightful claim of monarchy against the insidious influence of Communism and all the other undesirable 'isms' to be found in other parts of the world."

More Money For Drought Relief

OTTAWA, June 16—(CP)—The Government's co-operative agreement with the western provinces for salvaging cattle and lambs in the drought stricken areas will continue until the end of August. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, announced today.

This and many other routine matters were considered at the regular weekly cabinet council. Acting Prime Minister Raoul Dandurand, who presided, said Council would not meet again until next week.

Lack of rain and poor crops rendered it necessary for the Government to continue the assistance by which some 30,000 cattle and 40,000 lambs were removed from the Prairies to pasture in eastern Canada in the past year. Mr. Gardiner said provision was made in the estimates to cover the period to the end of April last but additional assistance would have to be given this summer.

Pope Deplores Persecution In Germany

CASSEL, GANDOLFO, Italy, June 16—(AP)—Pope Pius told a group of graduate priests today to go back to Nazi Germany and uphold their faith "where a blind hate rages against God and the Church of Christ."

Deploping what he termed the "persecution" of Catholics in Germany, the Holy Father especially commiserated the young priests to act courageously.

He gave to the priests of the German-Hungarian college of Rome a "special great blessing" for their forthcoming work in Germany where "only the Catholic Church is the bearer of the redemption and the preserver of this glorious treasure of truth."

The Pope spoke of the "sad hour of persecution" in Germany, in which, he said, "each is persecuted because of his love of Christ."

In Montreal rugby circles news of Teller's reinstatement was gladly received and it will be pleasing news to Maritime sport fans also. Teller was a familiar figure in hockey circles when he played with New Glasgow and Wolverines during the seasons between 1928 and '30. The redhead was a player that played the game for all he was worth; was never considered of the rowdy, fighting type and during his winter seasons in the Maritimes gained a host of followers and friends, all of whom will be mighty glad to know that "Red" is to get a chance to blot out the stigma on his record that the suspension caused.

If this does happen this mooted meeting with Leo Kelly should be a scintillating scrap. Bennie challenged Kelly, immediately after his fight with Holm last night and the challenge promptly accepted by Kelly himself. If and when the pair meet the bout will be a natural. There is a lot of rivalry between these two boys and most fans are anxious to see the pair matched because so much has been argued about the respective merits of each.

Kelly was an interested spectator at the scrap last night. Just returned from Campbellton where he won from Pat Metallic of Restigouche, Que., in the eighth round Leo bore nary a mark of the battle. "It was the toughest fight I was ever in," he said. "Metallic is certainly a rugged fighter that swings from all angles, all the time, and is as game as they come."

Joey McDonald, who accompanied Kelly to Campbellton was high in his praise of Kelly's showing. "People thought it was the best scrap ever staged there," said Joey. "Kelly was wonderful all through the fight, and it was no setup he faced either, as Metallic claims; the Maritime middleweight title, concluded Charlottetown's fight promoter.

Fred Kelly, athletic coach of Acadia University returned to the Island Monday to spend the summer. Substitute Tax For National Defence

LONDON, June 16—(CP)—The Government offered a maximum five per cent tax on excess profits today as a substitute for its national defence contribution program which would have taken up to 25 per cent of new profits in industry.

The National Defence tax on profits, offered by Prime Minister Chamberlain when he was Chancellor of the Exchequer, was withdrawn from the Government's budget bill after it had aroused a storm of opposition.

A government white paper outlined the substitute tax proposal which would be imposed for a five-year period retroactive to April 1.
