$100 in Extra Cash Prizes in Great Contest

1 0 0 0 0 Extra Votes on Every $15. Worth of Subscriptions Secured This Week--Great Interest in the Big Campaign--Roost for Your Favorite.

The Campaign Department of the Guardian wants to help the candidates get a good start in the Big Automobile Prize Campaign, consequently it has been decided to give two big extra prize offers and big extra vote offer at the outset of the campaign, instead of waiting until the closing weeks as is customary. The Guardian feels certain that this big double inducement offer which we are announcing today will assist every candidate in getting a splendid start for the big automobiles, or other free prizes offered in connection with the Big Prize Campaign. It is as follows:

(1) To the candidate who is living in Charlottetown or Summerside who turns in the greatest amount of money for subscriptions between the dates of Monday, October 2 and Saturday, October 14, (both dates inclusive) we will give a special prize of $50.00 in cash, and to the candidate who lives outside of Charlottetown and Summerside who turns in the most money on subscriptions during the above named dates, we will give a Special Prize of $50.00 in cash.

CASH PRIZE WINNER'S CHANCES

The $50.00 cash prizes are extra prizes, and all votes secured while working for them count toward the regular prizes, which will be awarded at the close of the Campaign.

Winners of special cash prizes will NOT be disqualified from winning one of the regular prizes at the close of the Campaign. In fact, their chances of being big winners will be all the better.

The winners of the special cash prizes will be announced in the Guardian shortly after the close of the campaign.

100,000 EXTRA VOTE OFFER

In order to assist every candidate in getting an early start for the special $50.00 cash prizes we will give a bonus vote ballot good for 100,000 EXTRA VOTES for each and every $15.00 worth of subscriptions secured this week on the $15.00 Club of subscriptions before 10 o'clock Saturday night, October 7. The $15.00 Clubs can be composed of either new or renewal subscriptions to The Guardian. $30.00 will give 200,000 EXTRA VOTES, etc. There is no limit to the number of EXTRA VOTES you can get this week on the $15.00 Club of subscriptions--100,000 EXTRA VOTES will be given for each and every $15.00 worth of subscriptions secured this week.

FORMER COLLECTIONS COUNT

Any subscription money previously turned in from the beginning of the Campaign will count toward this EXTRA VOTE offer. Finish up your $15.00 Clubs and get your first 100,000 EXTRA VOTE ballot. Or, if you have turned in sufficient cash to entitle you to an EXTRA VOTE ballot, same will be given to you as soon as you send or bring in your next remittance.

MAKE REPORTS OFTEN

It is not necessary to bring or send in the entire $15.00 or $30.00, etc., at one time. The Campaign Department keeps an accurate record of the subscriptions and subscription money received, and as soon as $15.00 worth of subscription money has been turned in, the Campaign Manager will issue a ballot good for 100,000 extra votes.

Paris Murder Case In Hands of Jury Early This Week

(Special to The Guardian.)
ST. JOHN, Oct. 2.—The fifth trial of John Paris will resume tomorrow morning after adjournment late Saturday afternoon and with the calling of a few remaining witnesses counsel expect to have the case in the jury's hands early this week.

The feature of Saturday's session was the long cross-examination of Miss Christina McKinnon of Truro, bookkeeper for the Eastern Hat and Cap Company. She went on the stand early on Saturday morning and was still giving evidence when noon recess was reached. Cross-examination took up practically all the afternoon session and while devoid of anything sensational, it aroused keen interest among the large throng. She stood by her story that she saw Paris and paid him ninety cents on Aug. 2, 1921, at the office.

Nova Scotia Man Attacked by Moose

(Special to The Guardian.)
LIVERPOOL, N. S., Oct. 2.—Captain John McIntosh, of Summerside, N. S., had his arm bruised and cut when he was attacked by a bull moose on Friday afternoon. Captain McIntosh was measuring some trees on his lot. He noticed a moose moose with a yearling approaching but gave little attention. Suddenly from among the bushes its mate rushed upon him. Captain McIntosh got what shelter he could among the trees but the moose did not withdraw from the attack until the cow and calf moved away.

Residential Quarter Smyrna Again In Flames

(Special to The Guardian.)
SMYRNA, Oct. 2.—Another fire broke out in the residential quarter of Smyrna, today, and destroyed twenty-five buildings. It is reported that several Armenians, fearing they would be blamed for the fire, threw themselves into the flames.

Patrick Cosgrave Shot and Killed

(Special to The Guardian.)
DUBLIN, Oct. 2.—Patrick Cosgrave, uncle of William Cosgrave, president of the Laif Eireann, was shot and killed yesterday, in a hotel here by four armed men who raided the place.

The intruders ordered everybody to throw up their hands. Mr Cosgrave refused to comply and grappled with one of the men, who shot him.

Another man was shot and seriously injured Saturday night while chatting with friends in the hotel in Dublin. His assailants escaped.

British Tension Is Much Relieved

Kemal Pasha has Promised Cessation of Operations in Neutral Zone and Agreed to Await Outcome of Conference Slated for Today.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—With the virtual acceptance by Kemal Pasha of a conference at Mudania Tuesday, or as soon as possible thereafter, the whole Near Eastern situation is considered temporarily easier. However, the fact that the Turkish troops are still concentrating in the Ismid zone, notwithstanding that they have retired slightly in the Chanak zone, would indicate, according to remarks made after the British Cabinet's second meeting today, that "Kemal is still playing a game."

While the members of the Cabinet appear to be much gratified at the happy conclusion for the moment of a difficult which might have necessitated the need of force in the Chanak zone there is the present there is no information from General Harrington, the British commander at Constantinople, that Kemal will attend the Mudania conference, although General Harrington's despatches indicate that he might.

It is not a large army but one ideally suited for the sort of combat which prevails in Asia Minor. Probably 40,000 fighting men are ready on the Chanak and Ismid fronts with every available unit being rushed northward as reinforcements. Kemal does not want to fight and he is ready for a conference for he realizes the size of the job he will take if he is forced to carry through his project at the point of a bayonet rather than by diplomacy. A recent interview clearly indicated his position which was given a few hours before the arrival of the Allied note suggesting peace on the basis of an Allied or League of Nations garrison for Gallipoli.

The following represents fairly the chief points of his answer to the Allies which was drafted here Saturday but Kemal will not admit foreign troops on Turkish soil. He deems a treaty guaranteeing the freedom of the straits together with complete demilitarization sufficient and he asks no more than a treaty guarantee for the safety of Constantinople. However it is not believed he will let these desires stand in his way at a conference table for both the freedom of the straits together with the safety of his capital if he is reasonably sure after a preliminary meeting that the British will not throw large bodies of troops into the battle region during the progress of negotiations.

He will agree to an immediate conclusion probably at Venis to decide the terms of peace with the Greeks and the future relations with Great Britain and France in the Near East.

Vessels Tune Up For Schooner Race

(Special to The Guardian.)
LIVERPOOL, N. S., Oct. 2.—The opening today of the week of the Nova Scotia fishing schooner championship race saw the contestants in port here making ready for the first sea battle on Saturday next. Weather permitting the Mahaska and Margaret K. Smith, this year's products from the yards of Smith and Rhuland, and of whose speed possibilities little is known, much is mooted will leave tomorrow for Halifax.

The international champion Bluenose, which is going better than ever according to Captain Angus Walter, will get away from here Wednesday.

The LeHave vessel, Canada, is on marine railway and as it was discovered that she had knocked some splinters out of her keel she will remain there for several days. Rumor credits the Canada with being a better vessel this year than last and her performance in the coming race is being looked forward to with great interest.

Russia Will Not Give Aid to Kemal

(Special to The Guardian.)
MOSCOW, Oct. 2.—Acting Foreign Minister Karaban in an interview tonight, made it clear by implication that Russia has no intention of going to war, except a war of diplomatic notes.

He refused to say whether Kemal had asked for aid in the Near East, but left no doubt that Russia had not given any and does not intend to give any.

In the Far East, Karaban still hopes that the Japanese will evacuate Sakhalin, although he made it clear that Russia could do nothing about it except wait and hope.

With emphasis, Karaban repeated his conviction that Russia is getting stronger every day, but admitted that Russia's diplomacy in the East at present is not one of war. He left no doubt that the outside world's conception that Russia is ready to plunge the Red Army into a conflict in the East is wrong. The nearest thing to war he pointed out, was the situation in Siberia, where he said the Japanese had given arms to the White troops while evacuating, which "means we must continue warfare until order is restored."

Serbs are Again Anxious to Fight

(Special to The Guardian.)
BELGRADE, Oct. 2.—Serbian public opinion against giving Thrace back to Turkey and in favor of fighting rather than have this take place. All newspapers express the same sentiment, and point out that as Turkey and Bulgaria have a common frontier, it would mean the defeat of Serbia before long.

The Serbs wish to act first and want mobilization if Kemal persists in demanding Constantinople and East Thrace. The Military party, which is the strongest, is eager for a chance to interfere, as they believe war would weld Yugoslavia into a solid nation, like Germany after 1870.

The King Alexander's brother, George, who has been attacking his brother, even in the newspapers, and is a candidate for the throne of the disgraced Croats, has been ordered to Nish in retirement by the Minister of Justice. Alexander does not want war, but the people do.

Trousered Women Latest on Broadway

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Broadway, birthplace of both the cigarette-smoking and accomplished cocktail imbibing feminists, has added to its perils the trousered woman.

Strolling near Forty-second street today was a young woman attired in what might have been mistaken for a riding habit, but as there was no horse in sight, the Rialto throngs observed the creation in the light of something new.

She wore knickerbockers and a coat of mannish cut, done in robin's egg blue, and swung a Lulu-hoo cane. Knee length stockings, a masculine collar and a hat striped like an awning completed the outfit, while a defiant eye met the astonished gaze of passers by.

British Minister Visits Athens

ATHENS, Oct. 2.—The newspapers today announce that the British minister has signed the visitors book at the palace yesterday and they interpret this as British recognition of the new king.

Ottawa Greatly Relieved

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—With the sudden relief of tension of the new Eastern situation following receipt of news of the arrangement of an armistice conference and the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from the Chanak area the likelihood of the Canadian parliament being called in extraordinary session to deal with the question seems more remote.

Refugees Taken to Safety

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The British and American forces which are evacuating refugees from the danger zone in Asia Minor continue their work without molestation which leads to the assumption here that massacres which were feared when the time limit expires on Saturday will not be permitted to take place. The safety of the non-combatants who are still awaiting removal is not assured however, as no reply has been received to request that the time limit be extended and official advices state that the British and Americans have evacuated 177,000 persons of whom 146,700 were housed from Tuesday to Friday inclusive. The Americans are playing a large part in feeding the refugees.

Report Dried

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—British general headquarters here report originating in England that General Harrington would demand the evacuation of the shores of the Dardanelles by the Turkish troops within twenty-four hours. That question it was stated would be discussed at Mudania.

Conference to be Held today at Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—The Allied policy at Mudania conference it was learned this forenoon will be decided upon at a meeting in Constantinople this afternoon of the Allied generals, admirals, high commissioners, and military attaches in extraordinary council.

Mrs Stillman Says There Will Never Be a Reconciliation

THREE RIVERS, Que., Oct. 2.—There can never be a reconciliation between herself and James A. Stillman, Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, said yesterday on learning of the decision handed down in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., finding her son Baby Guy Stillman, legitimate and dismissing charges of misconduct made against her.

Mrs. Stillman received the news of her victory from a correspondent of the Canadian Press as she was hurrying yesterday down the St. Maurice River for the Stillman camp at Grand Anse to summon medical aid for Baby Guy, who is said to be seriously ill.

"It is a victory of tears," she said, "for after all was not another Carthage? So much pain for others--my father dead, my family hurt and my children with a marked name, whom I must help to take their place in the world again. I cannot be gay. It is all too deep for joy."

Asked if a reconciliation might be possible, Mrs. Stillman replied, "There is a French word which will be my answer 'Jamais' (never). Why 'Jamais' you may ask because the father of my son is dead; no real father could hurt them so. It would not be fair. The French said at Verdun: 'Is ne passeront pas.' It was in this spirit that I waged my battle and it is in this spirit that I conquer."

Mrs. Stillman said she would not institute divorce proceedings against Mr. Stillman, because by so doing, she said, he would be able to legitimize the children of Florence Leeds which would be to the detriment of her own children.

Gen. Currie Praises Gen. Harrington

(Special to The Guardian.)
MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—The British interests in the Near East could not be in better hands than those of General Harrington according to Sir Arthur Currie, principal McGill University who returned to Montreal on Saturday with the Montreal Board of Trade party.

General Harrington is one of the brightest staff officers of the British forces. He said he was very well known to all of the Canadian officers of the 1st Division.

When we landed in England Gen. Harrington was one of the first British officers we met. He was attached to us as a Lieut. Colonel at the time and was promoted to Brigadier General, General Staff of the Canadian Corps. He was with us for eight months in 1915-16 and was again promoted to Major General, General Staff of the 2nd Army, under General (now Lord) Plumer.

Big Immigration Conference to be Held

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Oct. 2.—Supt. of Immigration, Col. Smith, and representatives of the various steamship companies have called to attend the Ottawa conference on immigration.

There is disappointment that Colonel Amery, principal apostle of Empire Settlement in England cannot attend on behalf of the British Government. There is a great surplus of man and woman power in Britain and high class workers with proper direction can be made available for Canada.

British capital will follow labor and it is believed that if opportunities are utilized there can be great development in Dominion immigration. The movement was practically stopped because Ottawa did not advise London what to do or what classes could be accepted.

A more active policy is now in force but would be emigrants require financial help as third class steamship fares are nearly three times the rates of 1914.

As companies benefit so much from emigration they might be expected to concede rates to lower rates. Steamship fares have not fallen in anything like the same proportion as general prices from a common sense point of view.

Bennie Swim Has Less Than Week's Leave on Life

(Special to The Guardian.)
WESTPORT, N. E., Oct. 2.—Bennie Swim, condemned to hang for the murder last May of his cousin, Mrs. Olive Swim Trentholm, at Benton Ridge, Carleton County, has less than a week to live unless there is an unexpected turn in his case. The twice postponed execution is set for early in the morning of Friday, October 6, and preliminary preparations are being made for carrying out the death sentence.

It is definitely stated that High Sheriff Albion R. Foster has engaged one of the officially recognized executioners to carry out the penalty, but the hangman has not yet been named. Sheriff Foster is now on a hunting trip, but is expected here Tuesday.

Meanwhile Bennie Swim has been sick. Deputy Sheriff Moore, stated that the condemned man had a serious attack of tonsillitis last week which has confined him to bed most of the time and left him in a somewhat weakened condition, although, he is thought now to be nearly recovered.

Swim's execution has been twice postponed, first pending investigations concerning his sanity, and second following an accident to the official hangman when en route to carry out the penalty.

It is expected that the deliberations of the synd will be concluded Thursday evening.

Ger Routs Hold-up Men

(Special to The Guardian.)
CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 2.—A volley of canned tomatoes and soup cubes fired by Fred Langston a grocer routed two masked and armed holdup men who attempted to rob him in his store Saturday evening.

As Langston heaved the tins, one of the robbers opened fire with a revolver and the bullets whistled dangerously near Langston's head, but he gamely reached for another tin and as it struck the wall, it burst, the ripe fruit descending in a shower over the robbers. A bottle of soup cubes almost knocked one of the gunmen off his feet and then the grocer reached for a cheese, this too much for the gunmen, who lowered their guns and fled, their flight being hastened by the screams of Mrs. Ollie Lennox a customer who dropped to the floor screaming that she had been shot when a soup cube struck her in the leg.

Indian Democrats Attack Reading

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The latest development in what is styled a constitutional crisis, arising out of the action of Viceroy Lord Reading, with relation to the press bill for the protection of Indian princes, according to a Reuters dispatch from Simla, India, is a statement by the leader of the democratic party in the Legislative Assembly, terming the Viceroy's action unjustified and declaring that this constitutional episode showed they had become optimistic with regard to the extent and character of the proposed reforms in India.

The democratic party leader's statement was with reference to the Viceroy's recommendation on September 25, that the bill to protect Indian princes against sedition should be rejected by the Legislative Assembly should be reintroduced in the Council of State. The leader in question deprecated the enactment of the bill, which he said was unintelligible. The Viceroy's action, though constitutional, he said, ought not to have been taken until other avenues in connection with the matter had been exhausted.

The democratic party leader contended that the Viceroy's action had proved, first, that the Government could pledge itself to legislative without consulting the Legislature, and impose its will upon it without justifying the necessity thereof, and secondly, that even those who believed in the reality of the reforms were now obliged to own to having been too sanguine regarding the extent and character of the reforms.

Paris Thinks Danger Point is Past

(Special to The Guardian.)
PARIS, Oct. 2.—The general feeling in Paris tonight is that the danger point in the Near East situation is past. The withdrawal of the Turkish troops from the Chanak area, and, as semi-officially reported, also from their positions at Constantinople, is accepted as proof of the Anglo-Government's readiness to comply with the Allies' desires.

It is explained here that there will be two conferences at Mudania, the first between General Harrington, the British Commander, and Mustapha Kemal, or his representative, alone. This is to settle the question regarding the neutral zone on the Asia Minor side of the Straits. The second will be quite a distinct conference and will draw up a provisional statute for Thrace, the Allied and Turkish generals being present.

Great Britain is given credit in French official quarters, with having held a dignified and firm attitude, which has greatly contributed to the solution of the difficulty. At the same time, Mustapha Kemal Pasha is praised for having shown a conciliatory attitude, which, it is hoped, the British will not overlook, as the Kemalists will have evacuated the neutral zone first. French officials are anxious that Great Britain will find a means to satisfy Turkish public opinion.

Conference on Tuesday

PARIS, Oct. 2.—An armistice conference has been called for Tuesday at Mudania, where the military representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy will meet those of the Turkish Nationalists and discuss the evacuation of the neutral zone on the Asia Minor side of the Dardanelles, the withdrawal of the Greeks from Thrace, and the possible occupation of Thrace by the Allies.

The call for the conference already has been accepted by France, and it is believed here that Great Britain and Italy, if they have not already done so, will reply favorably to the invitation to attend.

The proposed conference was arranged through the efforts of M. Franklin-Bouillon the French Envoy, in agreement with Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader who approved of the plan and appointed Ismet Pasha to represent the Turks. The acceptance of the invitation by Great Britain and Italy is considered so sure that it was said in official quarters here today that Brigadier General Harrington will be the British representative. General Mombelli will act for Italy, and that France has designated General Charby.

M. Franklin-Bouillon, who has been conferring with Kemal in Asiatic Turkey, is now on his way to Constantinople to see General Harrington, to give the commander-in-chief details of his conversations with Kemal.

Cobb Ties Three Batting Records

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—Three major league batting records were tied by Ty Cobb in the season that closed today. He Georgian had hit 300 or better for seventeen years, but never more than twice in a row in eight seasons and had hit 400 or better in three seasons. His single at Cleveland today assured him of a tie for 400 percentage record, the hit making his average for this season slightly above that mark. The feat ties the record of Jesse Burkett, Burkett, however, set the three-year record before the foul strike rule became effective.

PENSIONS PROBE RESUMES

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—The royal commission appointed to investigate the charges levelled against the board of pension commissioners by the Great War Veterans Association, will resume its sittings here on Monday.
