Barfoot, Jr., of Babylon, New York. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bradley. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond and emerald dinner ring. After a brief honeymoon, Dr. and Mrs. Wellbrook will reside at Lindenhurst.

STILL MISSING.—The relatives of Lester Giddings, who disappeared en route to Charlottetown from Montreal on November 20, are still without any information as to his whereabouts. It will be recalled that Giddings left on June 11, a member of the crew of the S. Moya bound for the West Indies. He returned on the same steamer to Montreal where he entered St. Luke Hospital for treatment. He was there from Sept. 18 to Nov. 20, when he was discharged by Dr. Langlois, medical superintendent, with the intention of returning to Charlottetown. Since then nothing has been heard concerning him, although the police in Montreal have been searching for him. His mother is very much worried by his disappearance. Any one knowing anything about him should advise the police at once. He might be in a sailor's institution without the means of getting home, or have joined a steamer for the West Indies or elsewhere, and it is hoped that the authorities concerned will communicate with the police.

FOREIGN POWER LINKED WITH ASSASSINATION

(A.P. by Guardian's Special Wire) MOSCOW, Dec. 27.—Espionage against the Soviet regime was charged in the Soviet press today as a consequence of the linking of the activities of an underground terrorist organization and an unidentified foreign consul. Bitter comment met publication of the alleged confession of Leonid Nicolaioff, accused assassin of Sergei Kiroff, in which he told of his negotiations with the alien official. The government, acting swiftly to bring Nicolaioff and 13 associates to trial, charged the assassination of Kiroff was but the opening move in a sinister plot against other high Soviet officials, including Josef Stalin. The plot, it said, was organized with the aid of Leon Trotsky, exiled former communist leader, and was to have been followed by "the intervention of capitalistic powers."

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(Friday)—(A.P.)—A Warsaw dispatch to the Express said today a secret trial of Leonid Nicolaioff and 13 others accused of the murder of Sergei Kiroff began Thursday in the military court at the old Smolny Institute in Leningrad, scene of the crime. The dispatch stated the authorities at the last minute decided against holding the trial in Moscow as had been planned. All reporters were barred from the court room but the dispatch gave a partial description of the opening of the proceedings in which Nicolaioff was described as defiant, smiling or laughing. He was quoted as saying "I freed Russia from a low down scoundrel. Others will follow me and finish my work." The dispatch said 2,000 soldiers guarded the institute. The day was treated as a holiday, it was said, with the Leningrad factories and stores closed and processions demanding "death to the Zinovieff group." The Moscow radio station, it was said, announced correspondence from Leon Trotsky was found giving evidence to the existence of an organization in Bulgaria, Lithuania and Germany, plotting against the Soviets. PARIS, Dec. 27.—(A.P.)—As long as he behaves himself, Leon Trotsky, exiled former communist leader, is assured of French shelter from the Soviet regime's stern campaign against its enemies. In the face of reports from Moscow that the once-powerful Soviet official had been implicated in the plot to assassinate Sergei Kiroff, French authorities said they regarded Trotsky as the type of political exile to which France always has given refuge. No complaint against Trotsky has been received from Moscow, it was said, but officials added that even if he were charged with a political crime, his extradition would not be allowed. The whereabouts of the former Red commissar for foreign affairs and war remained secret. He was from Paris. Secret service men were said to guard him night and day both for his own protection and as a precaution against his engaging in any undesirable activities in this country.

FORD V-8 FOR 1935

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments. But most important of all it is especially designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty, New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People

PROVED PERFORMANCE OF THE V-8 ENGINE The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of more than a million owners. There are refinements, but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8—full 90 horsepower and capable of 85 miles an hour.

COMFORT TO MATCH MODERN PERFORMANCE OF V-8 ENGINE This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a low-price car. 1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches. 2. New location of seats by which the rear seat is moved forward, toward the centre of the car away from the rear axle and away from the bumps. 3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the spring-base to 123 inches. The result is Centre-Poise—which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its ease of handling. You can take curves from seven to eight miles faster with perfect safety.

NEW BRAKES—NEW CLUTCH—EASIER STEERING There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive. New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal. A new type of easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle. Other notable features of the New Ford V-8: Dependable, economical Ford V-8 engine—many refinements including crankcase ventilation—cast alloy steel crankshaft—copper-lead floating connecting-rod bearings. New welded all-steel bodies with modern lines.

New wider rear doors—front doors hinged forward. New lower double channel X-type frame—stronger—more rigid—easier to step in and out of car. Rich, modern body colours of striking beauty, including a gun-metal finish on De Luxe cars. Luxurious new upholstery and interior appointments—new pillowed seats and softer seat cushions. New instrument board of modern design with combination fuel and oil gauge and heat indicator—on De Luxe cars. Clear-Vision Ventilation with cowl ventilator adjustable to any position and a windshield that opens. Tapered spring leaves for quietness as well as flexibility. Larger tires with new wider tread for safety and comfort. Insulation of bodies for quietness and temperature.

Little Learned at Explosion Inquiry

HALIFAX, Dec. 28.—(C.P.)—Official investigation into the cause of an explosion which destroyed a three story building and killed six persons last Fall has been unsuccessful so far and evidence produced is not sufficient to place the responsibility on any human being, declared Shipyard Magistrate J. L. Barnhill today. Magistrate Barnhill sat in the drab police court today to hear any witness that might be produced but none came. He will hold another hearing Jan. 3 for further evidence and providing no new developments arise a report, acknowledging failure to determine actual cause of the blast, will be filed.

Millionaire Leaves Generous Will

HALIFAX, Dec. 28.—(C.P.)—The will of O. E. Smith, prominent financier who died last Saturday, was admitted to probate today and valued at $2,000,000. Leonard V. Smith, President of the University of Manitoba, the third executor. Mr. Smith left one of the most generous wills in Nova Scotia for many years. More than $1,000,000 was donated to charitable and public institutions and relatives and friends were well provided.

Reunion Recalls A Girl's Daring

QUAPVILLE, Sask., Dec. 27.—(Canadian Press)—When Mary McLean made up her mind she wanted something, she got it. Even an Indian savage gleaming in war paint did not daunt her. She wanted a feather from an Indian's hair and she got it, although the act nearly cost her life. Mrs. J. W. Wilkinson, pioneer resident here, recounted the story of how Mary, now a nurse at Vancouver, snatched the feather from the Indian. The incident occurred in 1864 when the Qu'Appelle school district was founded and was recalled during a reunion here of old students at the school's 50th anniversary. Mrs. Wilkinson was one of the school's first students. In September, 1864, she related, school work was interrupted when a band of Indians, their skins gleaming with war paint, approached the school. The children were sent home. Mary admired the feathers in the Indians' headdresses. She wanted one. "When the Indians gave a short dance," Mrs. Wilkinson said, "Mary watched her chance, then grabbed a feather and ran home with the Indian in full pursuit, his knife drawn. Mary just beat him to the house."

Indians Mistake Ship For Animal

NANAIMO, B. C., Dec. 27.—(By The Canadian Press)—Mrs. Ward, Nanaimo Indian, tells a story handed down to him by his father of the arrival of the sailing ship, Princess Royal, 80 years ago, bringing the first coal miners from Staffordshire, England. "When the vessel was sighted by my ancestors, they thought it was a huge animal," he said. "One hundred skookum Redmen were selected to paddle out to meet it. They were frightened when they saw the smoking clay pipe in the captain's mouth and his 'loose' feet, clad in shoes. The captain called 'charko' meaning 'come.' The Indians retreated until a box of biscuits was thrown to them. "Climbing aboard ship they were given presents of rice, which they thought were dead worms, and molasses, which they used for pitch to repair their canoes. A shining axe blade, another gift, was attached to a cedar bough and worn as an ornament by the chief. "When the axe's use was explained the following day it was rented to the Indians for a blanket and enough blankets for a potlatch were collected."

Bermuda Raises Duty on Produce

(By The Canadian Press) HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 27.—"Don't tell me Bermuda is developing an economic nationalism these days!" youthful Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario exclaimed during a fleeting visit here after he had been told the colony's legislators planned tariff raising—but Bermuda has disregarded his warning. In an effort to give further protection to local farming, the Department of Agriculture has been urging on the government a number of changes in the duties on imported agricultural products which can be produced in the coral isles. And now the House of Assembly has acted to make the following changes: A duty of two pence a pound will be levied on fresh broccoli from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31. The six pence duty on every 100 pounds of cabbage will be applicable in December as well as from Jan. 1 to June 30. Three pence a pound will be charged on imported cauliflower from Jan. 1 to June 30 and during December. A two pence duty on tomatoes will be imposed throughout the year, as against the present period, Jan. 1 to July 31. During the discussion, W. J. H. Trotter, representing Smith Parish, told the house that by imposing new duties they were only "pushing up the cost of living and placing the Colony in a position where it could not compete with other tourist resorts." "The Ottawa Pact," he continued,

Worst Thing This Colony Ever Entered Into

is the worst thing this Colony ever entered into. It was a cursed arrangement." On his brief stop-over here from his vacation trip southward, Premier Mitchell Hepburn also discussed the Imperial Trade Agreements and expressed somewhat the same opinion of the pact as the Bermuda legislator.
