BILLY ALLEN WILL OPEN BOXING SCHOOL IN OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Nov. 19—Billy Allen, well-known in boxing circles all over the continent of North America will probably start a boxing class in this city in connection with the Ottawa Amateur Athletic Club, within the next few days.

Officers of the O. A. A. C. will interview the former lightweight champion of Canada, and will endeavor to get him to handle a class in connection with the club. Should Billy take up the offer this city should see some good amateur boxing bouts this winter and, will have championship events. Inter-club bouts with the M. A. A. will probably be arranged should the former champion take charge of the O. A. A. C. class.

DIED AT AGE OF 120.

SYDNEY, Nov. 20—A veteran Indian chief, Manitou, died a few days ago in Traverse City, Mich. He was born on the banks of the Chicago River 120 years ago and came to Northern Michigan after the red men had vanquished in their battle against the whites to gain the mastery of Illinois. For fifteen years he had lived in a hut at Cedar, his only surviving son attending him. He belonged to the Pottawatomie tribe. His memory was clear until recently and he could recall many details of early Indian wars in which he participated.

TROUBLE BETWEEN TORONTO TEAMS.

TORONTO, Nov. 20—The Ontario Rugby Football Union Executive has pronounced one game played here between Toronto and Alerts and ordered it played over again Saturday. This decision is a surprise as it was thought the executive had only two alternatives—either to let the game stand as played or else give Toronto the penalty which would entitle them to the game. It is likely that the game will not be replayed as Alerts were emphatic in their statements that they would not pass up the big Tiger game Saturday, should the decision go against them.

HELPING WIVES AND FAMILIES TO JOIN HEAD OF HOUSE HERE

OTTAWA, Nov. 19—The good work being done by the Imperial Home Reunion Association in financially assisting the wives and families of departing and regularly employed British immigrants to come to Canada is evidently the subject of a good deal of interest in Great Britain.

On Saturday, Earl Grey cabled to Frank Wise, the chairman of the association in Toronto, asking that some of the facts and figures of the work the association has already done, be cabled to him at once, so that he may make known to the people of Great Britain the practical way Canada is taking to encourage British emigration.

In Ottawa so far there have been seven meetings held, seventeen families brought here and sixty-five persons assisted, entailing an expenditure of $1,762.51.

FAINTS AS SHE RIDES PORPOISE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 20—Miss Caroline Kimball, formerly of Chicago, fainted in the surf at Ocean Park to-day after being carried several feet on the back of a porpoise.

With scores of other bathers Miss Kimball was near the pier when a large school of porpoises came rolling in. Not being quite sure about the fish, Miss Kimball started for the beach, when one of the largest dived near her. She jumped, and in doing so got in the direct path of the porpoise, which carried her along on its back a short distance.

She screamed and then fainted. Other bathers hurried to her and she was carried ashore. When efforts to revive her failed she was taken to a physician's office, where she did not recover for nearly two hours.

SWALLOWS WILSON PIN TO SAVE IT

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., Nov. 20—Fond of his handsome Wilson pin which his father had given him and which he was wearing on his coat, William Kellar, thirteen years old, a son of Edward and Mrs. Kellar, refused to part with it when several hoodlums demanded it.

Young Kellar put up a good fight until his antagonists overpowered him. Seeing that he must eventually lose the pin Kellar swallowed it.

Going home he told his mother what he had done. She summoned a physician, but he could find no traces of the pin nor any injury that it had done to the boy.

HAMMERED SILVER.

Old fashioned hammered silver is now returning to favor and at some of the fashionable silversmiths it may be seen in rivalry with the pierced work designs which have been considered most desirable now for several years.

The hammered silver pieces for the table are usually quite plain in design, the ornamentation consisting usually of a light engraved pattern in the border, which in some instances is picked out in black. Babies' porringers and small and large bowls of every description are among the articles especially to be noticed in this hammered silver. Treated in this way the silver has an exquisite soft finish and is more delicate in color than when used in other fashions.

The Halifax Herald in referring to the Provincial Exhibition expenditure has the following interesting fact:—The amount paid in prizes is nearly $1,000 more than last year, owing principally to the fruit being placed in the prize list this year.

The following amounts went to the various provinces: Nova Scotia, $6,717.75; New Brunswick, $1,425.50; Prince Edward Island, $1,032.50.

A special meeting of the Charlottetown City Council was held last evening in the Council Chambers to receive the report of the committee re market tolls. His Worship the mayor and all the councillors were present. A committee appointed to look into the matter of the sale of meat at wholesale at the city market submitted the following report:—"That regulation No. 8 was an honest endeavor on the part of the city council to give citizens meat delivered in clean and sanitary condition, free from the effects of dust in spring and fall and from flies in summer. As this regulation does not seem to have met with the approval of the press and a portion of the public, and as the butchers who sell meat at wholesale have disregarded this regulation, your committee would recommend that the regulation be dropped."

A resolution accordingly passed to drop regulation No. 8 and confirm and approve the regulations regarding tolls. It was ordered that the market committee be authorized to offer the part of the market building recently used by butchers for rent.

GUARD DREW GUNS ON STRIKE MOB AT SOUTH PORCUPINE

SOUTH PORCUPINE, Ont., Nov. 19—The guard at the Hollinger Mine was increased today following the near riot of yesterday, when the forces were obliged to draw their guns on a mob of strikers and sympathizers interfering with a workingman trying to get the property. Demonstrations occurred at the mine, but not of such a serious nature, as the Dome strikers have on occasion to be near the property, the mine having opened an office in town to pay them off. The Hollinger has closed its bunkhouse, and the cookhouse is being kept open only to feed such men as are willing to pay the contractors for each meal. The McKinnon has fenced off its property, and no one is permitted inside the fence. The same method has been adopted by the Dome.

THE PLAN FOR "MY BROTHER'S KEEPER"

The plan for "My Brother's Keeper" opens for the general public this morning.

Yesterday the Northumberland arrived in Pictou from Charlottetown at 11.00 a. m. She left again about 3.00 p. m., with passengers, express, mail and freight and arrived at 6.30 p. m. She leaves today at 7.30 5.30 p. m.

The Parsonage of the First Methodist Church, Charlottetown, was the scene of a quiet wedding yesterday, when Euphemia McInnis, Glen William and Warren Haddon Brehaut of Murray Harbor, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Heaney, B. A. The bride was becomingly attired in a costume of blue silk with hat to match. The young couple, both of whom are very popular in the community and are followed by the best wishes of their many friends, will make their home at Murray Harbor.

Another classic was the programme at the People's Theatre, Charlottetown, last night, and was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd. This time it was Vanity Fair from the celebrated novel by Thackeray and the settings and costumes showed the patience and study of the tagraph Co. in the production of this play. Johnny Bunny, familiar to all lovers of tagraph photoplays, took the part of Joseph. Charles Kent, the veteran actor impersonated John Seely, and Helen Gardner as Becky Sharp or "Vanity Fair," left nothing to be desired. The minor parts were well taken by the other members of the company. Particularly fine was the ballroom scene to which was brought the news of the Battle of Marston being in progress. Taken all through this film left nothing to be desired and gave every one a perfect idea of this famous story. Mr. Connolly in two songs was heard to good advantage, especially in Killarney my Home o'er the Sea.

A despatch dated at Ottawa, comprises in part the following:—Six gentlemen have been called by royal summons to the senate, all to fill vacancies in the representation of the maritime provinces. Five will represent Nova Scotia and one Prince Edward Island. Hon. Senator Patrick Charles Murphy has for many years taken an active interest in public affairs in his native province, and at the last election was liberal-conservative candidate for the county of Prince, having been defeated by only a very small majority. He is a physician by profession, and is a prominent Irish Roman Catholic. The three other representatives in the senate from Prince Edward Island are Protestants. The new contingent thus represents the metropolis of the city of Halifax, the industrial life of Nova Scotia, its agricultural industry and the professional life of the provinces by the sea.

At a large meeting of Zion Congregation last night an unanimous call was extended to Rev. George C. Taylor, guaranteeing a yearly stipend of $1,600 and a month's vacation. Rev. T. F. Fullerton, Interim Moderator, assisted by Rev. W. H. Spencer, conducted the service preaching an eloquent and appropriate sermon, and afterwards presiding at the business meeting when the call was formally acted upon. The call will be submitted to Presbytery at its next meeting.

WOMAN'S PLUNGE OF 150 FEET IN SUICIDE AFTER QUARREL WITH HUSBAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—After a quarrel with her husband Charlotte F. Westland, a young New York woman, committed suicide by plunging into the East river from the Manhattan bridge.

According to Thomas Dejakemo, whose report the police credit, he had prevented the young woman from jumping in front of a subway train a few hours earlier, and was reproaching her for the attempt while they were walking across the big bridge in the darkness. Suddenly she ran to the roadway, clambered over the guard rail and dived into the river.

Dejakemo said she was a country girl who had often declared she was oppressed and frightened by the vastness of the city and tired of living in it. She was 24 years old and her home was at Tannersville, N. Y.

The Brooklyn police learned that Charlotte Westland was the wife of Charles Westland, member of the fire salvage corps who lives in Brooklyn with a five year old son. Westland had not seen his wife for the last two weeks.

FIXING UNCLE JOHN.

The small daughter of the house was busily setting the table for expected company when her mother called to her.

"Put down three forks at each place, dear."

Having made some observations on her own account, when she expected she inquired thoughtfully: "Shall I give Uncle John three knives?" To, onto Mail and Empire.

THE POET'S WALK.

It is the boast of M. Paul Roinard, the poet, author of the "Mirrors," the Paris correspondent of the "Telegraph" says, that for ten years he has never set foot on the right bank of the Seine. That bank to him stands for everything that is material, plutocratic, commercial, Philistine. Every Tuesday he walks from his home in Courbevoie to the "Closerie des Lilas," the literary cafe of Montparnasse, where Paul Fort, Prince of Poets, thrones it nightly.

Now the Seine just at Courbevoie takes a most pestilent bend, and Mr. Roinard, by making straight to his destination, would have a constitutional for merely four miles. But this would mean that he must cross the Seine, and for quite half of his journey tread the accursed right bank. M. Roinard will not so compromise with his conscience.

Accordingly he follows the left bank of the river where it describes its ample loop, and so at least trebles the length of his weekly pilgrimage. It is rumored in Montparnasse that he starts at seven o'clock in the morning in order that he might occupy his favourite seat at the "Closerie des Lilas" at half past eight at night.

General Miles was several hundred yards away and was not injured, although sand and small stones fell on him.

FAKE WEDDING GIFTS.

An industry which, though young, is reported to be in a flourishing condition in London, consists in providing gold and silver articles—plated if preferred—which masquerade at wedding ceremonies as gifts from devoted friends. Parents and the hopeful bride are thus enabled to enjoy their rented environment. No doubt it is possible by this means also to inspire regret and suitable amends among any parsimonious guests who may be present. The business is conducted by certain gold and silver smiths. The objects are delivered at the home of the bride in such glistening condition that they are guaranteed to pass as new. The details of providing cards, suitably inscribed and tied to the ostensible gifts by the head of a prominent firm of jewelers in one of London's west end thoroughfares has said recently that hiring out wedding presents is a lucrative branch of his business and one that is constantly increasing in importance.

FORTUNE IN TEMPLE COFFERS.

Among the many oddities in Japan which are enormously big in the outward form but are in reality exceedingly small we must count the Kwannon of Asagusa, which is scarcely three inches in height and yet is housed in a colossal edifice known as the Kwannon Temple.

On the other hand, there are not a few things which at first sight appear extremely small and insignificant and which in truth assume gigantic dimensions. To this latter category belongs the saisen (offerings) daily, hourly, nay, every minute, unceasingly thrown into the offertory chests before the same Kwannon.

The regular monthly takings of 4,000 yen for the offertory chests alone is certainly a good income, but we are reminded at the same time that the expenditures defrayed by no temple authorities regularly by no means inconsiderable. When we are told that for the repairs of the temple building alone an outlay of from 6,000 yen to 10,000 yen is required per annum we can form some idea of the expenses in other sections.—Japan Advertiser.
