Special Cash Prize Winners Announced

Nineteen Contestants Win Extra Cash Prizes Last Monday Night In Guardian Contest– Sixteen More Extra Prizes On This Week– Special Offers Close Next Wednesday Night– MR. SUBSCRIBER ! HELP NOW.

As was previously announced in the Charlottetown Guardian, nineteen prizes totalling $100 in cash would be given to contestants doing the best work up to and inclusive of last Monday night Sept. 11th

As a result of these special cash offers a splendid amount of business was done by the candidates and many hundreds of thousands of votes were issued to popular workers in the Guardian's great subscription contest. After carefully checking and re-checking the contest records, it was found that Miss Winnifred MacDonald, of Montague; Miss Mary Carter of Cardigan R.R., Ernest McMillan, Charlottetown R.R. 6; and Mrs. A. H. Burke, Southport were the lucky winners of the first four extra prizes amounting to $10 each. Next in line and following exceptionally close is Miss Mary Brown, Charlottetown winner of $5; Miss Margaret Mellet, Union Road $5; Mrs. John Weeks, Brookfield $5; Fred Skerry, Alberton $5; R. M. Owen, Charlottetown $5.00; Miss Genevieve Jay, Morell $5; Frank Brown, Kensington $5; Mrs. Sidney Elliott, Charlottetown $5; and Miss M. Bowen, Wheatley River $5. Next in line for the $3 extra cash prizes comes Miss Ruby McLean, Clyde River $3; Mr. J.W.F. McCallum, Jr. Charlottetown $3; J. H. Taylor, Charlottetown $2; Miss B. Affleck, Mt. Stewart $2; and Mrs. M. T. Lambe, Emerald $2. Nineteen hustling candidates win extra cash prizes and all are to be congratulated upon their wonderful success so far in the Guardian's big contest and all wish to thank their many friends for the support rendered in helping them win the extra cash prizes.

The race for the extra prizes among several of the candidates was indeed a close one, their being a number of close competitors in several of the districts covered by the Guardian. Those contestants who turned in a splendid amount of business who were not among the extra prize winners should not be greatly disappointed for they have added materially to their vote totals which will go far toward helping them in winning one of the big cash prizes at the close of the contest.

It would not be fair to the winners of the nineteen extra prizes to make public at this time the exact amount of subscription money they collected during the special cash offers. The records, however, will be kept and the amounts made public to those desiring same at the close of the campaign. NOW, ALTOGETHER CANDIDATES FOR A FINAL SPURT FOR THE BIG EXTRA CLUB VOTE BALLOT AND THE SIXTEEN EXTRA PRIZES OFFERED FOR THE BEST WORK DONE IN SUBSCRIPTION GETTING DATING FROM LAST TUESDAY MORNING SEPT. 12th, AND UP UNTIL THE CLOSE OF THE SPECIAL PERIOD SEPT. 20th. The 80,000 extra club votes offer positively closes next Wednesday night Sept. 20th. It will be your last chance to get as many extra votes for your efforts. Make this special period and up until the close of same next Wednesday night a good one and let the end of the race take care of itself.

Happenings of the Week

In those days few of the books contained on its shelves and in its cases were of the nature one would pick up for an idle half-hour. Indeed, there is a tradition at Balmoral that when the library was cleared of the greater part of its contents after it passed into the possession of King Edward, no fewer than 140 volumes of sermons were found. Today there is a very varied selection of books to be found here, and the room is a great favorite with the King.

"I want a good detective story," is a request that the King often makes to one of his librarians. On rainy days he spends a great deal of his time reading, but he likes to know something of the plot before he starts a book.

Biography and historical memoirs appeal to the Queen, who rarely reads a novel and is not fond of modern fiction.

The Queen is not the only member of the Royal Family to be busy with embroidery or knitting needles now. The Prince of Wales is a competent knitter, and many people admired recently the scarf of intricate design that he sent north for one of the Scottish charities. He completed it under the eagle eye of an instructress, who promptly drew his attention to errors or lost stitches. Prince George also received help with a piece of work, and proved a better knitter than his brother. Scarves made by Royal hands, and particularly by the Princes, sell rapidly at charity bazaars.

The Princess Royal's work includes both embroidery and knitting. Lord Harewood has never knitted, but he is a skilled embroiderer and works on a frame.

In Memoriam

MRS. BERNARD McCOURT

A sad gloom has been cast over Emerald and vicinity by the passing away of Ann, beloved wife of Bernart McCourt, at her home on September 2nd in the 83rd year of her age.

She had enjoyed excellent health until a few weeks before her death. During her illness she received the best medical attention possible, but despite this and the tender nursing she received the Angel of Death entered and claimed her for his victim. The deceased was a most estimable Christian lady, and few persons were better known or more deservedly esteemed in the community. Her gentleness, kindness and cheerfulness not only endeared her to her immediate relatives and neighbors, but gained the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances beyond the limit of her native parish. For young and old she had always a kind cheerful word and a friendly smile, and welcome greeting for all who entered her home. Ever an ernest and devout Catholic, in her last illness she had the consolation of the Spiritual Ministration of her good pastor Reverend Francis McDonald and fortified by the last Sacraments her gentle spirit peacefully went forth to its eternal reward. Not only in the home will the devoted wife and mother be sadly missed and mourned, but her absence will be keenly felt by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. The large cortege that on Monday morning September 4th followed her remains to St. James Church, Summerfield, was a tribute to the memory of a good and worthy Christian woman. After the celebration of Requiem High Mass by Reverend Father McDonald the body was laid in its last resting place in the adjoining cemetery to await a glorious resurrection.

She leaves to mourn a sorrowing husband and the following children:—Mrs. Austin McCarron and Mrs. Jerome Malone, Haverhill, Mass.; Mrs. William Greenan, Brae; Mrs. Emmet Clow and the late Mrs. Edward McKennan (who died some years ago); Patrick of Coleman; Michael, Louis, John and Walter of Emerald.

The pall bearers were her five grand children namely: Everett Clow, Louis Clow, Elmer McCourt, Mervin McCourt, Earl McKenna and Louis Mulligan. May her soul rest in peace. The following Mass Cards and Spiritual Bouquets were received:

Husband, (Bernard McCourt), Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCourt and Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Deighan, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith, Edna Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Murphy and Ada, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Clow and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Murphy and family, Nora McIver, Patrick Carr, John McCourt, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mulligan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hammill, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Deighan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mulligan, Mr. Louis McCourt and family, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mulligan, Mr. and Mrs. William Greenan and family, Mr. Aden Mulligan, Mr. Louis Clow, Mr. Everett Clow, Mrs. Patrick Mulligan, Mr. Charles Clow, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCourt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Greenan, Mr. and Mrs. Parnell McMahon, Mrs. Rossi and Mrs. Delforge, Madeline and Edna Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bradshaw, Mr. Thomas Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Malone, Mr. and Mrs. John Whalen, Mr. P. Her BACKACHES have GONE!

Quick, sure relief with Fruit-a-tives

"Your splendid remedy acted like a tonic to my entire system. I can't begin to tell what I suffered from backaches due to kidney derangement. When I would bend down it seemed that I couldn't straighten up again. I was continually awakened at night from the same cause. Dizzy, sick headaches and a weak stomach made me feel perfectly wretched. Now thanks to your wonderful 'Fruit-a-tives', I am enjoying life again."

TO BATTLE FIRES OR GO TO PRISON

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 15 —C. P.)—New Brunswick, with all its major forest fires extinguished, now is in the midst of a campaign to round up men who refused to battle the flames. Five men in Campbellton district and another in Bathurst have been convicted of refusing to aid in subdueing districts fires, while a number of other prosecutions are pending in various districts where forest fires proved a menace all last summer.

Consistent with this campaign is another by police to mitigate the danger of fires by strictly enforcing the law against camp fires in restricted areas. Prosecutions also have been made on these grounds and fines levied.

Two magistrates supported forest rangers in their complaints and condemned men who declined to aid in fighting fires. Magistrate John LeMarquand of Bathurst was particularly severe. He gave Edmund Arsenault of East Bathurst an option of paying $50 and costs or 30 days in prison. The accused is in jail.

Five others were fined $15 and costs with an alternative of 15 days' imprisonment, by Magistrate Albert Andrew of Campbellton. They also went to jail.

VERNON RIVER INSTITUTE

The Vernon Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. G. R. McLeod on August 22nd with the President in the chair. Meeting opened with the Institute Ode followed by Club Women's Creed repeated in unision. Roll call was responded to by seven members, one new member paying fee. Six visitors were also present. A list of supplies for school was read—four new seats, phonetic chart, towels, etc. It was decided to buy two double seats. An interesting talk on cleaning-up and beautifying of village and shore in which it was decided to write Dr. MacMillan about cleaning-up of dump. Meeting adjourned after which a delicious lunch was served and a collection of $1.75 taken. Mrs. Jay McDonald favored all present with a solo, after which a sing song took place. National Anthem brought meeting to a close.

He: "What is the matter with my new suit? The tailor says it is a perfect fit."

She: "It looks more like a convulsion to me!"
