TRURO LADY NEW YORKER WINS MAR. WON WRIGLEY GOLF TITLE MARATHON

(Special to The Guardian) TRURO, N. S. Aug. 30—Miss Dorothy Holmes, of Truro, won the Maritime Women's Golf Championship here today defeating Mrs. E. E. Goodwin, of Amherst, by six up and four to go in the eighteen hole match. Miss Holmes' consistent shooting proved entirely too much for the Amherst woman, although the runner up gave the new champion plenty of trouble throughout the match. Mrs. Goodwin had an edge on approaching and putting, but her margin was not large and Miss Holmes more than made up for it by her long and accurate driving.

LAKEFRONT, Toronto, Ont., Aug. 30—(By Harold Raine, Canadian Press Staff Writer) Repeating 1927 victory in the Lake George, N. Y., marathon swim, Edward F. Keating of New York City, won the Wrigley Canadian National Exhibition 15 mile swim, and first prize of $25,000. Taking the front from Norman Ross, of Chicago on the seventh lap, the New York swimmer defeated the best of the male long distance professional swimming world had to offer. The final lap was a sensational struggle by Ernest Vierkotter, of Germany, 1927 Wrigley champion, to overtake the winner. The German won a Toronto resident finished second, winning $5,000.

Visitors Here From New York

Dr. Alfred Nicholson of New York, and his son William R. Nicholson, arrived on a vacation visit yesterday. Dr. Nicholson is a native of Charlottetown and graduated at Prince of Wales College, Dalhousie and Princeton Universities. He won a scholarship of the late Mr. George Munroe, and such is the whirligig of time that this great man's son, George Munroe Jr., was an associate with him in business in New York. For several years Dr. Nicholson lived in the house of the late Major Picton Beets, Southport, who was a nephew of the Major-General Picton who was second in command at Waterloo. For many years Dr. Nicholson has been in the insurance business in New York, in which he is an outstanding figure. The Doctor is renewing old friendships but many of those he knew in his youth have passed away. Bursting into verse he wrote yesterday: Texting to-night on the old camp ground, Memories both sad and sweet abound. To you who breathe the vital air The best; good will with you I share. WHAT HAS BECOME OF OUR ATHLETES?

Mr. S. F. Doyle, who was an official at the recent big athletic meeting in Plotou, regrets very much that Prince Edward Island had not a number of athletic stars at this meet. In fact he was asked the question many times during the day what has become of your Island athletes. His only answer was that there were too many cars taking up the attention of our athletes and that our boys were not encouraged by their parents to participate in athletic exercises as in the days gone by. If there is one thing which helps the athlete in training it is the presence of his parents and most intimate friends and if this encouragement was given as it should be our youth would think more of athletic training than spending their time in idleness. It is a crying shame that Prince Edward Island has fallen so low in athletic history and it behooves the leaders of the L. of C. and the Y. M. C. A., also the teachers in our schools to take this matter seriously to heart, and do all they can to stimulate a much needed interest in athletics in this country. As the schools are about to open it might be well to stage an inter-school track and field meet which was one of the star attractions seven years ago. In a word, is Prince Edward Island going to lose that athletic history which was so gloriously won by her former athletic sons. Note:—Mr. Doyle's opinions with regard to the above are well taken and something should be done to re-awaken that athletic interest which has been laying dormant for the past number of years.—Sport Ed.

The Clouting Circus

For a half dozen seasons, Babe Ruth, practically by himself, was baseball's clouting circus. Finally, his team-mate and friend, Lou Gehrig, banged his way into the home run ring and, this year, the national clouting circus has become at least a three-ring affair, crowded with performers of Ruthian proportions. Ruth has been making gallant efforts to keep his place at the head of this great home run show, but Father Time, with his ill that beset athletic age, has been keeping Babe out of the game so much of late that it looks now as though 1929 will mark the start of the Ruthian eclipse. Meanwhile, Chuck Klein of the Phillies, Mel Ott of the Giants, Hack Wilson of the Cubs, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, Al Simmons of the Athletics and a half dozen other are preempting those home run rings in the diamond's clouting circus which Ruth bestrode like a Colossus for so long. The Babe himself is not whimpering. He doesn't figure anywhere near through, though pestered over the leg troubles which tend to bench him more and more, while younger men slug their ways to the fore. Fandom, almost as a unit, hates now to even think of the competition, for, no matter what the competition, the Babe has been baseball's big feature so long that he has become its most interesting institution. He is the Jack Dempsey of the national game—with all his eccentricities and troubles of the past, the most popular player who ever made great crowds roar! Why even in batting practice his trips to the plate are watched as though such incidents were to become part of the official records! But on they come—Ruth's successors! With salves of homers that must burst on Babe's huge ears like ocean waves lashing his dug-out St. Helena! Will the Kleins, the Otts, the Geh-

GOLF

The Charlottetown Golf Links have been the scene of a great deal of activity during the past few days. On Monday a team of six players from the H. M. S. Despatch met a local sextette on the course at Belvidere and an enthusiastic game ensued which was won by the home team. E. Victor Saunders who plays top for the home team was pitted against Lieut. Commander Ainslie, who is the champion golf player for the Army and Navy. They were all square at the end of the eighteenth green but Commander Ainslie secured the lead in the nineteenth hole and won the honors for the Navy. On Wednesday afternoon Arnold Taylor met E. Gunsaulus (Jr.) in the finals for the MacKinnon and McLure Trophy. This was a handicap match and was won by the former. Mr. Taylor is now the possessor of the beautiful trophy donated by Col. D. A. MacKinnon and Mr. W. C. S. McLure. This afternoon the Wellner Trophy will be competed for. Mr. Wellner, who is one of Charlottetown's progressive and popular young business men is also donating a trophy to be played for by the ladies. The first stage of this series will take place this afternoon. Charlottetown is to be congratulated on possessing one of the best golf courses in Canada, overlooking as it does the beautiful East River and containing fairways, which are greatly admired by visiting golf enthusiasts. Considerable interest is already being evinced in today's match.

ROVERS ARE ALL SET FOR VICTORIOUS LABOR DAY OVER ALL-STARS

Take First Game Of Play-off Series By 19 to 10 Score.

In the first game of the play-off series for the City Baseball Championship, played at the Abegweit Grounds last evening, the Rovers drew first blood by defeating the All-Stars by a score of 19 to 10. The game, which had been called for at 4.30 did not get under way until 5.10, with the result that the last few innings were played in semi-darkness. The game, which was hardly a fair exhibition of baseball, was witnessed by only a handful of spectators. The Stars were away off color in the field last night, having errors chalked up against them when runners were on the paths, but their batting was heavy and consistent. The Rovers, on the other hand, batted well and fielded well and deserved their victory. Following were the line-ups:—

mitted by the inspector with regard to her work. They believed it advisable that the Department should inform the teacher each year whether her work was satisfactory or otherwise. There was considerable discussion about the function of the inspectors and inspector methods in general. The unanimous opinion was that the function should be more supervisory than it is and that teachers and parents should be notified of the time of the inspectors visit so that a public examination might be held. It was also felt that there should be a closer contact between the inspectors, teachers, and people. Mr. Johnson of Long River spoke of the difficulty of retaining a graded school there because of the decrease in the number of pupils in the district. But so strongly does this district believe in the greater efficiency of the graded school that for the past few years the rate payers have made up the necessary amount which was deducted by the Department of Education because of low average. A graded school was found to give better education because of the smaller number of grades in each room.

The Markets

OTTAWA, Ont. Aug. 30. (Eggs)—The undertone of the larger consuming markets is easier today. TORONTO. Brokers report a slow demand on this market and it is difficult to find buyers. Wholesale prices to retailers are, extras 50, firsts 45-46, seconds 34-36. MONTREAL—This egg market is dull and declining. The tone is rather weak due to stocks beginning to accumulate. L. C. L. shipments of graded eggs from Ontario points are from one or two and one eight cents lower with more storage eggs being used. approval of Charlottetown theatre goers. The company will conclude their stay in our city with a play on Monday night—a southern bill that is sure to please. The beautiful furniture used on the stage by the Shorey players is supplied by R. T. Holman, Limited. PASSED THROUGH TORONTO TORONTO, Aug. 29—Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Unemployment in the Ramsay MacDonald Government, is taking 24 hours rest from the business that brought him to Canada on an extended tour. Accompanied by Mrs. Thomas and the party that came with him from England, Mr. Thomas passed through Toronto today on his way to Niagara Falls. They will return to Toronto tonight and, as Mr. Thomas told the newspapermen, he will be "officially in Toronto" tomorrow. "Asked if there was any truth in the story that one of his objects in coming to Canada was to obtain the services of Sir Henry Thornton to tackle the railway problems in Britain, Mr. Thomas refused to make any comment and would not discuss any other matter of a political nature. Mr. Thomas refused to say anything about the situation in Palestine on the ground he was too far away to speak about it and that any comment he could make would be no more valuable than that of the newspapers. He will be the guest of Premier Howard G. Ferguson tomorrow at a government luncheon and a dinner in the evening and will deliver an address at the Canadian National Exhibition Saturday. Always there is a dark spot in our sunshine—it is the shadow of ourselves.
