ARMY (CADET) ACTIVITIES—The newly formed army cadet company in Summerside is training its members every training night and the new uniforms on hand will soon be here. The uniforms are made of sturdy material with a smart, military appearance. During the winter months, it is the intention to hold a course for N.C.O.'s and officers in charge to show if he is N.C.O. or officer material. Mr. Henry Wedge, a member of the committee, shows a film recording of the cadets and it is very much appreciated. It has been decided to hold a meeting next week to decide on a plan whereby the P.T. and drill required by army cadet training could be incorporated in the regular school course as is now done in the Charlottetown schools. Apart from the cadet committee, the following will be invited to attend: Members of the Charlottetown army cadet committee, members of the school committee, representatives from the Kinmen club and the executive of the S.Y.C.I.; Mr. Roland Phillipson, president of the Canadian Legion; Mr. L.W. Shaw, deputy minister of education; Lt. Col. W. W. Reid, D.S.O., director of physical fitness. The following are the members of the committee: Lt. Col. R. M. Morrison, M. M. Major T. H. E. James, Major J. S. Wright, Major J. R. Murphy, Capt. J. K. Duggan, Capt. Harold Arsenault, Capt. Francis McNeill, Lieut. Henry Wedge, Lieut. H. T. Holman, Jr., C. M. Harry, Bishop, M. M. —Mr and Mrs. Howard Cairns of Freeport have gone to visit friends in Boston, Brockton and New Bedford, Mass.

—Mr. Wendell Stewart, Summerside has left by plane for San Francisco, California to visit his aunt Mrs. W. E. Fyden and Mrs. Wm. Urquhart. He will be away two weeks.—S.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, Summerside left yesterday for Fredericton, N. B., where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Jack Keenan and Mr. Keenan. On their return they will be accompanied by Mrs. Keenan.—S.

WHAT TO DO ?

The situation: While visiting a friend you are made uncomfortable by a draft from an open window, or glaring light from a lamp, or excessive furnace heat. Your hostess offers to correct the source of your annoyance.

Wrong way: Assure your hostess that you are perfectly comfortable. Right way: Let her do what she wants to do to make you more comfortable, and thank her for doing it.

S'ide Trade Board Discusses Proposed Freight Rate Boost

At a regular monthly meeting of the Summerside Board of Trade held last night in the Town Hall it was announced that the hearing on the proposed increase of 30 percent in freight rates would take place.

The secretary of the local Board stated that a letter of protest had been prepared, signed by most of the exporters in Summerside and forwarded to the secretary of the Transport Commission.

In regard to this proposed increased rate Mr. George Key, manager of the Hall Manufacturing Company introduced to the meeting a letter he had written to Mr. Rand Mathieson showing a schedule of rates across Canada and outlining for Mr. Mathieson just how the proposed increase would affect not only the business of the Hall Company but also one of the Island's most important industries, the fox business.

Mr. Alan Holman said he believed that this example could well be followed by most of the local business firms and thus provide Mr. Mathieson with as much information as possible to prepare his brief and on which to base his case when protesting the increase at the forthcoming hearing at Ottawa.

Affects Potato Business

Mr. Leslie Simons in explaining how the increase would tend to affect the potato shippers in this Province explained that local shippers have to compete with growers in the Upper Provinces who have their product close to the Montreal and Toronto markets and as the premium for shipping how the increased rate will have to be absorbed by the local shippers. Mr. Simons said he would be agreeable to prepare a statement outlining the matter regarding local feeling on the matter of Dominion wide importance. He felt that such a committee on all boards of trade across Canada would provide the Canadian Chamber of Commerce with valuable information.

Senator B. W. Robinson recommended the appointment of such a committee and it was moved by Mayor J. P. Robinson that a committee of five be appointed. The president, Mr. W. M. Mellich said this committee would be appointed at a later date.—S.

Control of Train And Mill Insects

Dr. Harold E. Gray, in charge of Stored Products Investigations for the Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, gave an address on "Control of Insects Infesting Cereals and Mill Insects" at the University Farm, St. Paul, Minn., November 13th to 15th inclusive.

For the past five years, Mr. Gray has been directing the fight against destructive grain insects such as the Indian meal moth, the rust red grain beetle, the granary weevil and the saw-toothed grain beetle. Dr. Gray's work has also extended to flour mills where the Mediterranean flour moth and the Confused flour beetles are among the destructive insects.

The course at St. Paul was held under the auspices of the University of Minnesota, the Minnesota State Department of Agriculture and the National Federation of Millers of the United States. Modern methods for controlling insects in grain elevators and flour mills were discussed and Canadian and United States entomologists will co-operate in the fight against the destructive insects.

In the course of his address, Dr. Gray dealt with various methods of control, including keeping the grain, contact insecticides and aerosols, fumigants, and chemical dusts. The measures used to control stored grain pests, he said, fell into two distinct categories — preventive and curative. The preventive measures aimed to keep the number of insects so reduced that infestations could not develop, while the curative methods were designed to eliminate fully established infestations. Prevention was better than cure. Usually by the time curative measures were applied, the infestation had become serious and the grain had been damaged.

Sinclair & Stewart Ltd. SUMMERVILLE, P.E.I. THE HOUSE OF QUALITY involved eternal vigilance on the part of the elevator staff in examining at frequent intervals, particularly during the warmer months of the year.

Good housekeeping was the simplest and best preventive measure — keeping the premises as clean as possible at all times. All accumulations of grain, dust, and debris should be cleaned up and removed at frequent intervals. The elimination of breeding and hibernation places was one of the best ways to reduce the numbers of insects. The bin floor, manhole covers, tripper tracks, roof supports and other places should all be examined and cleaned if necessary. The bin bottoms also should be thoroughly cleaned periodically to eliminate accumulations of weevils and grain mites. The cleaning not only eliminated insects but also rendered the use of contact insecticides more effective when their use was necessary.

NIGHT

When the golden sun sinks in the west
And the little birds are in their nest
We watch the old moon climb on high
And twinkling stars light up the sky.

The day is done and evening wanes
And night has come our way again;
Like a curtain she drops her mantle down
Over city and over town.

The tall trees like sentinels stand,
Keeping guard o'er all the land;
The fire flies with their lamps alight
Fly you and tither through the night.

The tall grey buildings their shadows throw
Across our path as home we go;
A soft breeze stirs the leafy bowers
And dew-drops kiss the sleeping flowers.

High above the darkened street
Not long since thronged with busy feet,
Lamps give out a soft warm light,
A watchful eye throughout the night.

All the land is hushed and still
Except for the tinkle of a bell,
Where lazy cattle graze on dew-drenched grass,
Unmindful of the things that pass.

Tired little sleepy heads
Are all tucked cozy in their beds
The world is sleeping as well it might,
For once again God brings us night.

MRS. ROSS WALTER ROSS NORMA ROSS

Just because he quit his job, sold his house and furniture, and was on a train headed for Liverpool within six hours after receiving notice he could sail for Canada if he could be ready immediately, is no reason for excitement, according to Walter Ross, of Aberdeen, Scotland, who arrived at Halifax aboard the Samari. He had planned for years to leave his job and come to the Dominion, and when the opportunity came, he lost no time thinking it over. "I'll be with my brother in Toronto, and now we're in Canada it means more of the family in this country than back in Scotland," Mrs. Ross stated. Their 13-year-old daughter, Norma, was puzzled when asked what grade she was in at school. "Do girls go to school in Canada after they are 14?" she asked incredulously.
