

THE BLUES

Don't Wait Until Your Sufferings Have Driven You to Despair, With Your Nerves All Shattered and Your Courage Gone.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way:

She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached, and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she does not get "all right." She grows worse day by day, till all at once she realizes that a distressing female complaint is established. Her doctor has made a mistake.

She has lost faith in him; hope vanishes; then comes the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all these peculiar ailments of women, and the story recited above is the true experience of hundreds of American women, whose letters of gratitude we are constantly publishing.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. If you have some derangement of the female organism try the remedy that has restored a million women to health,

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cheerfully recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my suffering sisters as a perfect medicine for all female derangements. I was troubled with displacement of the womb and other female weakness. Had headache, backache, and such bearing-down pains I could hardly walk across the floor, and was very nervous. A friend advised me to try your medicine, which I did, and after using the first bottle I began to improve. I took in all twelve bottles of Vegetable Compound, one box of Liver Pills, also used the Sanative Wash and was cured, and have no return of my troubles. I am as well now as I ever was. I am more thankful every day for my cure."

"I know that your medicine will do everything that it is recommended to do for suffering women."—MRS. DORA ANDERSON, North Muskegon, Michigan.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I want to tell you what your remedies have done for me. Before taking them I used to have a continuous headache, would be very dizzy, would have spells when everything seemed strange, and I would not know where I was. I went to our local doctor. He gave me some medicine, but it did not seem to do me any good, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to improve at once. I can honestly recommend your remedies to all suffering women, and advise all to give it a trial."—MRS. HENRY SKILL, Van Wyck, Wash.

Madame Patti's First Song.
At Craig-y-Nos Castle in Wales Madame Patti will often dive into her storehouse of reminiscences for the benefit of her guests, and will laugh over each in turn with all the zest of one still a child in years, for like most women of Italian parentage, Madame Patti will ever remain a child in heart.

It was not long ago that, questioning her on those bygone times, she told a friend of hers a story in her own pretty, spontaneous fashion, smiling half gladly, half sadly, as one memory after another rose before her.

"You ask me," she said, "what I can first remember. Indeed, I hardly know, but I can, at least, repeat all that my parents had to say to me from my cradle upwards. My dear mother declared that my first cry was a song in itself—a melodious cry for help. But, for my part, I believe I cried just as shrilly as any other baby.

"Let me see, how can I first picture myself? I think the picture must be of a tiny girl, with pale face and very very big black eyes, trundling a hoop. Oh, the pride and fervour I put into my task! And I trundled my hoop well. Whatever I did I always put my whole heart into it. I am not sure that hasn't been the secret of my success all through life."

Didn't Like Changes.

"I'm a man," said the old farmer to the druggist after having purchased a quantity of strychnine to kill off rats—"I'm a man who don't like changes. When I git home I shall say to the old woman:

"Martha, here's the strychnine to kill off the rats, and you want to be careful of it."

"Where shall I put it?" she will say. "In the same old place—right alongside the bakin' powder. We've bin keepin' it there for thirty years, and you've never put it in the pie crust or biscuit by mistake, but if we hide it away upstairs or down cellar or out to the barn one of us will be sartin to take it for epsom salts before the week is out and git a heavenly hustle on us."

A New Kind of Tax.

The taxing of fat is a recent expedient which is new. A town in Sweden, it is announced, has introduced a municipal tax on stoutness, which appears to be graduated according to the most approved modern principles of public finance. Any one weighing less than 135 pounds goes free, an exemption which would scarcely apply to any able-bodied man. The great bulk of active taxpayers would be included in the second division, which consists of persons scaling between 135 and 200 pounds; they pay $3.12 yearly. As for the 200 pounders, their bulk is rated at $6 up to 270 pounds. Above that point every additional twenty pounds costs the proprietor of flesh another $6.

Now Arsenic is Found in Eggs.
A chemist who has a theory that arsenic is one of the essential elements of every living organism and who is never happy unless he is making tests has just made a series of exhaustive experiments with hens' eggs and as a result claims he found that all parts of an egg contain arsenic in appreciable quantities. He says of the whole quantity found in any one egg two-thirds belong to the yolk and one-third to the white.

For Her Own Relief.

Mrs. Sububs—I'm going to let the maid off for a couple of weeks.
Mr. Sububs—What! Why, she's not entitled to a vacation.
Mrs. Sububs—No, but I am.—Exchange.

The blockhead and the genius are the same in at least one respect—both were born that way.
