The infant paper occupied quite a lot of space yesterday in which it actually said nothing, although its desperate attempts to do so were most pitiful. At first things were amusing, now they have gone far enough, and if the youngster persists in its foolishness any longer, its blood will be upon its own head. The Guardian is by no means impatient in this matter, but having no space to waste in its local columns is obliged to refrain from further discussion upon the subject.

One of the finest numbers ever put on any stage in this city, was put on at New Wonderland last night, and it certainly was an evidence of how good entertainment is appreciated by the theatre goers of this city. Five choir lads, under the spot light, with hall dim and flooded with the soft rays from the stereopticon, sang the chorus of the "Hymns of the Old Church Choir." Their sweet clear voices rang as clear as bells through the hall, and a silence which was noticeable was kept throughout the whole number. An organ behind the scenes took up the chorus as the soloist gave way to the lad's voices, and the old familiar words, the dearly loved airs and the grand music produced an effect on the large audience present which will be long remembered. It was good entertainment without doubt and greatly enjoyed by the patrons.

The "Hymns of the Old Church Choir" will be repeated tonight for the last time at New Wonderland. This is one of the finest selections ever given here, and the way it was put on at New Wonderland, speaks volumes for the way that house is managed.

More Vitropane ready in the house furnishings dep't forty five cents per yard

If you have a window—or windows of plain glass that for any reason you want to turn into stained glass—come in and see Vitropane. This is a material coming in rolls like wall paper—Cathedral glass designs—very handsome colorings—easily applied and permanent when on. It will make a plain glass window into stained glass—and the cost is but FORTY FIVE CENTS PER YARD. A fresh lot in by express from New York a day or two ago.

Is economy an object in selecting wall paper?

If you are like most of the rest of us—and want to buy a hundred cents worth of value every time you spend a dollar—you can not afford to buy your wall paper without a careful study of our showing. Two or three cases within the last few days have interested us—bits of comparison. Ladies have brought in samples from mail order houses—found that we have precisely the same patterns in stock—and our prices as low and in one of the cases much lower than the mail order house.

Now this is all we want—just compare our values—if we cannot do better for you—we do not expect your order.

Is that fair? $5.00 orders sent prepaid anywhere. It will perhaps surprise you to see that we carry a wider range than most houses—nearly five hundred different wall paper designs ready for your choosing.

Remember when we quote a price it is for "double rolls." Most outside quotations are for "single rolls" as you will note.

That combine all the superior qualities that our "Gem" Icecream freezers do. They are the best freezers made for quick results. No salt can enter the freezer, or no ice stops the cogs. It is easy to work, takes less ice, and gives better satisfaction than any freezer made.
