RUM CREW WILL RETURN VOLUNTARILY

(Canadian Press)
LUNenburg, N. S., Dec. 10.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police will not be forced to resort to International law to regain custody of the crew of the rum-runner Kromhout, imprisoned at St. Pierre after escaping seizure on the Cape Breton coast and dashing to the French island of mystery and romance with the prize crew of four Canadian coastguards aboard.

The eight seamen will return voluntarily, according to S. E. Hirtle, managing owner of the Kromhout, who said tonight an "amicable settlement" regarding the ship, cargo and crew had resulted from negotiations with the Department of Justice at Ottawa.

Under the terms of their voluntary return to Canada, the men all would be given bail while awaiting trial, Mr. Hirtle said. He declined comment on what charges they were expected to face.

It was also disclosed tonight that W. P. Potter, who successfully defended Mrs. Lillian Macintosh on a charge of murdering her husband, had been retained as legal counsel for the Kromhout's owners.

Meanwhile a despatch from St. Pierre announced the four Canadian coastguards had left today on the liner Rosalind for Halifax, where their account of the occurrence was awaited at R. C. M. P. divisional headquarters.

Placed on the Kromhout after the liquor-laden motorvessel was seized by Cutter No. 4 last Wednesday, the four, including Chief Officer Milton McKenzie, were carried off when the Kromhout headed for the French island the next morning.

Gov't Step Nearer Placing Franc On Sound Basis.

(Associated Press)
PARIS, Dec. 10.—The budget balancing bill of Premier Camille Chautemps moved a step nearer acceptance in the Chamber of Deputies today by getting a vote of confidence, 282 against 191, on rejection of an opposition move to eliminate the tax increase.

The measure embodying the Chautemps programme for balancing the budget and placing the franc on a sound basis have been manoeuvred past obstacles which were fatal to three preceding cabinets.

They embrace economies of about 4,000,000,000 francs (currently about $245,200,000). New taxation bills are intended with those voted earlier in the year to wipe out 6,000,000,000 francs about ($367,800,000) of the estimated deficit.

Reduction of the salaries of government employees, lotteries and a drive against tax-dodging are the major sources of economy and prospective increased revenue.

Approved Proposal

Premier Chautemps sought to smooth the way of his measures through the chamber by shifting the new tax burden to gasoline and employers of foreign labor. The chamber approved his proposal to triple the gasoline tax, substituting the burden of civil servants' pay cuts Saturday, the chamber according to two votes of confidence in adopting the measure. ## PREM. BENNETT ADDRESSES ONT. TEACHERS

Urges Characteristics of Early Pioneers Be Embedded in Rising Generation.

(By Frank Fishery, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

TORONTO, Dec. 10.—While many of the problems of government have changed little down through the ages, the attitude of people towards governments has changed greatly in recent years, Premier R. B. Bennett believes. Addressing the women public school teachers of Toronto last night, assembled at a dinner in honor of Mrs. H. P. Plumbire, chairman of the Toronto Board of Education, Mr. Bennett urged them to do their utmost to inculcate in the rising generation those qualities of independence and initiative which characterized the early pioneers.

Right Objective

In addition, he said, they should strive to promote a consciousness of the interdependence of the nations of the world. It was often lack of understanding of other peoples which had led to wars in the past. War was now something too horrible to contemplate and could only be avoided in future by a general appreciation of the fact that people, wherever they lived, possessed the same human qualities as ourselves.

There was a tendency nowadays, he said, to expect government to do everything. It was only a few years ago in this country when people went into the woods and made homes for themselves with no government assistance, when they scarcely knew there was a government.

Problems to Face

"You may not know," he said, "but responsibility for the great hopper plague in Western Canada rests solely on Bennett. The same is true of the drought in certain parts of the west, of an outbreak of plague in one place, an epidemic of influenza in another, bad crops and lack of markets. And he accepted these responsibilities gladly, knowing it is the tendency of the day."

Records of the debates in the British House of Commons, 110 years ago, showed that the problem of Russian and Canadian timber was then being solemnly debated just as it was today. The same arguments in favor of Baltic timber as opposed to Canadian timber were advanced by the same interests as were being advanced today. There was high enough in one case or low enough in another.

Wealth Problem

The problem of the unequal distribution of wealth had concerned government from time immemorial as it did today. Aristotle had written of it. In the Bible it was illustrated by the parable of the talents where the man 'who did not

The strikers, many of whom are from the southern part of Temiskaming County, maintain a picket of 15 men day and night on the road to Clerion about three miles from Rouyn. The men were issuing passes to all travelers, police found on visiting the picket lines. Strict orders were given that this practice must stop.

The strikers are receiving but two meagre meals daily. It was not known where funds for this food supply were coming from. Although strikers have sent messengers to other camps asking the men to join in the movement no indications of spread of the labor stoppage have followed.

at dawn with coffee, eggs, toast and cereal for the flyers and fuel for the plane. The pilots will work in two hour relays with a great deal of reliance on the robot pilot, they said.

Loewig said tonight that no night refueling contacts were planned unless necessary.

The endurance ship is equipped with a two-way wireless transmitter which permits the flyers to keep in touch with the ground station at all times.

In order to break the existing record they must remain up until late in the afternoon of December 18, officials here said. They said they hoped to remain aloft for Christmas.

SANTA PALS ARE COMING IN ALREADY

Great Beginning Was Made Saturday Which It Is Hoped Will Be Maintained Daily Till The End.

The publication of the first list of kiddies whom it is feared Santa Claus may overlook resulted in an immediate response from large-hearted Santa Pals. Mr. Benjamin Brenner, who never forgets or overlooks was closely followed by the Hon. the Premier, Dr. J. W. P. MacMillan, who instantly made himself Santa Pal to no fewer than half a dozen forlorn little ones. These little ones and their parents will bless these two leading Pals and all others who follow their example and whose names will appear regularly in these columns. The need is great. Winter has set in much earlier than usual, and any spare money that might ordinarily have been available for toys, this year has already gone for coal and clothing. Christmas without gifts such as toys is not really Christmas—it is a miser. A child expects as a matter of course that it will be clothed and fed all the year round, but at Christmas it looks for something extra, some luxury, in the shape of toys and goodies so dear to the childish heart. Most children get these as a matter of course—the stockings are hung up in faith and expectation—to be filled by Santa Claus ere morning dawns. But some times—and this year is no exception—quite a number of stockings run the risk of being taken down as hung up—empty. It is here Santa Pals in the past, and it is fondly to be hoped at the present, have come to the rescue and substituted for Santa Claus. Those who, of their love, can spare a little from their own flock, or nephews and nieces, to give to others will be welcomed as Santa Pals and by giving early will have the merit of giving twice, and be twice blessed.

The Rover Scouts of Charlottetown, representing St. Peter's, St. Paul's, St. James, the Church of the Holy Redeemer, Zion, the Baptist, the Christian, Trinity, the Basilla, the Salvation Army, etc., are busy co-workers with Santa

78 Killed in Spanish Revolution

(By Rex Smith, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

MADRID, Dec. 11.—(Monday)—The morning toll in Spain's Anarchist revolt had reached 78 known dead early today, with government claims of victory in three provinces bordering Catalonia offset by continued fighting toward the foothills of the Pyrenees.

A fierce outbreak at Villavieja and Laserna contributed heavily to the list of casualties with besieged extremist rebels still holding forth against civil guards and well armed government troops.

Bombings in Madrid, sporadic outbreaks of fighting in Barcelona, sabotage of railways and communications throughout northern and eastern Spain and persistent efforts of extremist political followers to enforce a general strike marked a Sunday strife in Spain.

After spending a restless night, Mr. Marler was resting easier today.

ARREST OF GEN. O'DUFFY IS SOUGHT

Police Break Up Meetings of Party As Leader Remains in Hiding.

DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—(A. P.)—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of General Eoin O'Duffy, organizer of the outlawed "Blue Shirt" movement and co-leader of the United Ireland Party which opposes the government of President Eamon de Valera.

The whereabouts of the General were subjected to conflicting reports here. Some described him as "on the run."

Although he has frequently held meetings in defiance of the authorities, he failed to appear as scheduled today at a gathering at Carnonagh.

One of the speakers said, "General O'Duffy is expecting arrest, but before this occurs he has certain things to do."

Police broke up a forbidden "Blue Shirt" meeting in Dublin and arrested Thomas Carey and Jerry Ryan, Blue Shirt leaders, but sympathizers in the crowd interfered and permitted the escape.

Two hundred youths wearing the forbidden blue garb under their coats re-assembled at the other end of town when police broke up the meeting at the scheduled place.

The officers again arrived on the scene and found the speakers mounted on a pile of rocks, but the crowd closed in and permitted them to escape the law.

Collision Throws Two Into Harbor

(Canadian Press)
YARMOUTH, N. S., Dec. 10.—Making his way to port through the mist on Monday afternoon, an Admiralty rammed a gasoline boat carrying two fishermen, tossed one of them into the icy-waters and cut through the timbers of the smaller craft.

Edward Pine, sailing with his brother, Heywood, and several other fishermen, was rescued from the harbor by members of the Admiralty crew, and was taken aboard. Edward leaped into the dory and was picked up a couple of minutes later.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police inspectors here did not make public their findings.

Convicted On Murder Charge

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana. (C. P. Cable)—Convicted of the murder of his father and stepmother, a 29 year old East Indian named Boodhoo was condemned to death yesterday. Boodhoo, who had been removed as the death sentence was passed, was found guilty of shooting his parents because he had been cut off from the father's will.

The accused was defended by J. A. Luckie, veteran criminal lawyer, who in his defence of 60 accused murderers had only once before heard the sentence of death passed on a client. This time the condemned man, however, died before the time of execution.

Bank Bandits Strike In Two Places At Quebec

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Dec. 10.—Bank bandits struck twice at rural branches of the Provincial Bank during the week-end. In one case $2,000 was secured but in the other four men were arrested.

At Lachute, Que. Provincial Police Saturday arrested four men, charging them with conspiracy to rob two bank messengers who were carrying payrolls.

At Aston Junction, near Drummondville, a daring lone bandit cut telephone and telegraph wires leading to the village, and ordered an aged couple and their two daughters to lie on the floor of their home while he rifled the safe of the bank, which was in the same building.

The man, his face blanched by powder which formed an effective disguise, burst in on Henri Lemarier, 72, his wife, aged 68, and the two daughters, one of whom, Maria, is manager of the branch bank.

They were forced to lie down at gunpoint. The bandit then compelled the manager of the bank to open the safe.

Seizing $3,000 out of the safe the man fled in his automobile which he had parked, the engine running, at the door of the Lemarier home. It was some time before authorities could be advised of the robbery as villagers had to go some miles before they could find an unsecured telephone wire.
