United Church Moderator is Speaker here

The Moderator of the United Church of Canada, Rev. Aubrey S. Tuttle, was the special preacher at Trinity United Church yesterday morning.

He was born at Pugwash and graduated from the University of Toronto in Arts and Theology. Early in his ministry, he took up pastoral duties in Western Canada, soon transferring to educational work. For many years he was principal of a theological college of the Methodist Church, which, after union, became merged with Andrew's, the former Presbyterian College at Edmonton.

His eminent services in the raising of students for the ministry have received recognition in the honorary degrees of Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Laws, and in his elevation to the highest office in the United Church a year ago. Dr. Tuttle is spending this month in the visitation of churches in the Maritime Provinces. He returned from Sydney at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He will proceed hence to Wallace, N.S.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"Christianity is breaking through our systems of traditional education and our social roadways, trodden for centuries, and we know it not. We are in the midst of a social revolution, concerning which we are in profound ignorance," so declared Rev. Neil Herman, in the Central Christian Church yesterday morning.

Other high lights of the sermon were as follows: "The Church, the world and the individual are stumbling over the Cross. Our tragedy is not economic, not intellectual, not social, but it is the tragedy of a rejection of the Cross of Christ."

"Christ's death on the Cross signs, seals and delivers the world, the Church and you and me to an eternal, not social, but it is the tragedy of a rejection of the Cross of Christ. Christ's death on the Cross signs, seals and delivers the world, the Church and you and me to an eternal, not social, but it is the tragedy of a rejection of the Cross of Christ."

"The question that the man in the street asks of the preacher, the church member, and the Church itself is--what are you doing? He cares nothing for your creeds. Creeds must work. Religion must work. The Church must work. As a Christian, you must show the world Christ, or the world will brand you a hypocrite."

LOVELINESS

From loveliness that I have known I choose these things-- The leafy whispings of the dawn; A Butterfly on wayward wings.

Lovely golden Daffodils, Tulips bright and gay; The happy lifting laughter Of a child at play.

A silver flash against the sky Of lifted wings; A sunset's rosy splendor; The song the Robin sings.

A lilac scented night in June, The moonlight wonder of the sea; A Humming-bird, the evening star--

All these mean loveliness to me. --Constance I. Heckbert.

POLICE GET TEETH--An upper set of "store" teeth are in custody at the Police Station at present. They were picked up on the street near the Royal Bank recently without their owner. Police said the owner is being sought without ball until they are returned to the mouth of the owner. But the "biting" question is: "Who lost the upper set of 'false' teeth?"

The burial was in the cemetery. Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, Services in Freetown United Church were conducted by Rev. Mr. Boothroy who also officiated at the grave. Honorary pall bearers were: Messrs. ALUMINUM MATINEE SUCCESSFUL--A tidal wave of old and new articles swept over the Capitol Theatre Saturday and partially engulfed the Prince Edward. The flood of scrap metal was let loose when a matinee performance was arranged by the Red Cross committee. The article of aluminum. Long before the doors were scheduled to open the sidewalk and adjoining street was filled with children, each clutching an old paper, pan, tin, or other article. They flowed into the building in a shouting swarm and when the last seat was filled hundreds were still without a place. However, the Prince Edward was opened at 2 p. m. and the Red Cross put on a drive for old aluminum Friday and Saturday. Results appeared satisfactory, although the total amount collected had not been ascertained. A check-up will be made and the made public shortly.

LEGION CEMETERY SERVICE

Yesterday afternoon about 100 members of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, B. E. S. L. turned out for the annual services in the city cemeteries. The parade left the Legion Home at 2 p. m. and the members of Branch President John Leighton, headed by the Light Horse band and Legion flags. The first stop was made at Queen's Square, where a wreath was placed on both the monument for the South African War and that of the Great War. The Rev. J. W. Macdonald, pastor of the Roman Catholic cemetery, the Rev. J. R. Skinner at the People's cemetery and the Rev. Canon J. M. Malone at St. Peter's Cathedral, all gave prayers. The service was conducted by the Provincial Chaplain at Sherwood cemetery. At each cemetery a poppy wreath was placed by the Branch President, the Last Post and Reveille sounded by Bugler Theodore Arsenault, as he did at the two monuments.

MINOR COLLISIONS -- Two minor car accidents occurred in Charlottetown yesterday--both taking place at intersections. Nobody was injured in the collisions. The first happened at the corner of Prince and Richmond Streets when a car proceeding north on the former street was in collision with another going west on the latter. The machine travelling on Prince Street received a broken running board and door on the right side. The other car was slightly damaged. At 4.50 yesterday evening a truck proceeding west on Elston Street failed to give the signal for a left turn with the result that a car crashed into it. Both machines were slightly damaged.

SEASON OPENS--Hunters were out early Saturday morning in quest of the elusive wild ducks as the season was officially opened. Sportsmen reported that there is an abundance of birds this year, but not many were bagged the opening day because of the difficulty in retrieving them. This was caused by the ponds being swollen with water during the extremely wet summer. However, the hunters returned to their homes Saturday with a few birds, most of them wet--all of them happy after a day of pleasant recreation. The ducks which were shot proved to be fat ones and appeared to have been well fed.

HARVESTING STARTED--Harvesting operations are in full swing in this province. More than fifty per cent of the grain has been cut and some farmers have a large part of their crop already stored. Threshing has not started yet. Farmers said Saturday they could not remember many years when grain fields were so slow ripening. They could not account for the condition unless it was due to weather causes. Some believed a certain amount of rust on the grain also delayed the ripening process. Potato digging is expected to become general in about two weeks. Some fields are almost ready to harvest now but growers are delaying until cooler weather arrives. Late September and early October days are usually too warm to provide good storage conditions for fresh dug tubers. In addition farmers are wary about digging too soon in light they expose their potatoes to blight spores in the ground and cause rot. The Prince Edward Island potato yield promises to be down more than 25 per cent over last year. In addition less acreage was planted this season.

Other stations were entirely out of supplies. However, so far as could be learned no one was left without gasoline entirely, although a number of motorists did not obtain as much as they wished. In rural areas the gasoline situation was more normal. Majority of retail dealers there had sufficient supplies to see them through the day.

Memorial service At Wheatley River

"The fallacy of history has been that God Almighty has no part in the wars of the world," was the statement made by Rev. Neil Herman, Truro, at an impressive memorial service yesterday at Wheatley River. The service was for the soldiers who gave their lives for their country. The hall was crowded to capacity as the patriotic citizens of the community and surrounding districts gathered to honour their dead. An appropriate program was presented for the occasion. Major D. A. Macdonald, a native of Wheatley River but now living in Moncton, presided.

Rev. Mr. Herman, the guest speaker, chose as the topic for his address, "God and the War." In his interesting discourse he declared, "In every instance from the history of Israel down through the different world Empires and down to our day when we are battling with the Beast of Berlin, God has and is profoundly figuring in the 'titanic battle of today'."

Major D. A. Macdonald, in a few remarks, pointed out that the community had sacrificed its young men not only in the present conflict in the World War but also in the Boer War when Comrade Fred Wafa died on the lonely desert in Africa. Referring to the great war he declared that an example had been set which is being followed today as boys and girls of the district go forward to offer their services to the Empire.

He warned against placing too much emphasis on the part "we are playing by expenditure of money." He urged civilians and those employed for home defence to "add a little more to their daily task without additional profit."

The program consisted of: Opening hymn, "Unto the Hills"; address by Major Macdonald; duet, "Blessed Lights of Home," by Gordon Crewe and Mary Alexander; Prayer, Rev. Neil Herman; Hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers"; Address by Rev. Neil Herman; Closing Hymn, "Give Peace, Oh God." Benediction followed by the National Anthem. Organists were Mrs. Chester Backham and Mrs. Phillip Matheson.

QUEEN'S CANADIAN FUND DONATIONS

Repeated bombing raids on British port areas and the industrial Midlands has attracted fresh attention to the frightful suffering of the many thousands of civilians in Great Britain who are harried from shelter to shelter and finally driven into the open country by successive raids. Eventually places are found for them all places of relative security, but their belongings of all kinds are destroyed. The task of emergency feeding alone is difficult. The task of setting them up once more with some quantity of clothing and bedding is much more difficult. To meet these enormous needs, funds have been started in various parts of the world. Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth has permitted the use of her name in connection with the Dominion campaign, which is officially known as "The Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims."

Every dollar contributed to the Queen's Canadian Fund goes toward deduction to the Lord Mayor of London for distribution to the homeless and needy. Contributions from this Province should be forwarded to the Royal Trust Company, Charlottetown, which reports the following receipts to date: Received Saturday: W. H. Stackford; Summerside, $10.00. Previously acknowledged $3,374.57. Total $3,384.57.

Ivan the terrible Makes voice heard

LONDON, Sept. 21 --(CP)--"Ivan the Terrible," the Russian heckler the Germans tried to shake up by switching their news broadcasts to different wavelengths, broke in on the Berlin radio Saturday night and shouted: "My voice can not be suppressed." "Hitler does not want you to hear me," said the "ghost voice" interrupting news reports of Berlin's powerful Deutschland-sender station. "He does not want you to know the truth but I shall come again and again."

Italy moves to Stop export of Valuable Jewelry

ROME, Sept. 21--(AP)--The government today forbade travellers to take valuable jewelry out of Italy without special permission and announced that rationing of shoes and clothing would begin Oct. 1 for the first time since the start of the war. The new regulations followed shortly after Mussolini's annual meeting with the provincial prefects at which the Rome radio said he concentrated his attention on the problem of subsidies to families of

PATCHWORK THEME

Jumpers and blouses are being made in the favorite theme of patchwork in London. A cigar brown suit in tweed has a fine woolen patchwork blouse done in triangular shapes, in the same brown, mushroom, pink and wine. Some jackets are cut up-to-the throat, eliminating the scarf, which demands two coupons. Instead broad velvet ribbon (ribbon, like lace and net, is unrationed) is attached under the collar, to slit through and tie.
