TIGNISH

—FISHING.—Lobsters continue to beset our shores looking for a chance to be caught. One day last week Bert Phee a fisherman off the Seal Cow Pond Shore, landed 3400 pounds of lobsters at G. C. Morrissey's factory at the "Pond." This is we believe, the largest catch that has ever been made along these shores.—Y.

—YOUNG FOXMAN.—Master Roy Johnston is engaged in a "Home Project" which should help his teacher to qualify for the much talked of bonus for the teaching of "Rural Science," though his friends surmise that Roy's knowledge of his "project" was "never learned of schools." He has undertaken to feed five young black foxes, whose mother showed her love for her offspring by trying to bury them from human eyes. He reports that the foxes are doing well.—Y.

—STUDENTS CONGRATULATED.—Their friends congratulate the young people from Tignish who have made such a good showing in the recent examinations held in P. W. College. Miss Ella McGrath wins an Honour Diploma, while Miss Mary O. McInnis and Victor McCarthy, having completed two years work in one year, have secured second year certificates. Four others received first year certificates, namely Annie Morrissey, Gladys McInnis, Ida McInnis and Arthur Arsenault.—Y.

—ENTERTAINED.—Mrs. Leo Murphy entertained a number of friends at her home last Wednesday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent in music and dancing. The singing of Private Sylvester Richard, who was the guest of honor was a treat that was much enjoyed by all present. Pte. Richards left the next morning to rejoin his regiment in Summerside. He is very much missed here, where his really fine voice has made him one of society's favourites.—Y.

—WEDDING BELLS.—An interesting event took place here last Tuesday morning when Miss Josephine Bernard daughter of Mr. Peter Bernard Proprietor of the Bernard Hotel Tignish and William Corbett, Brakesman of the P. E. Island Railway, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed in St. Simon and Jude Church by the Reverend A. J. MacDougall. After partaking of breakfast at the Hotel the happy couple left on the morning train for a trip to Toronto and other Canadian cities. On their return they will reside in Tignish. Congratulations.—Y.

—NO NEED OF WORRY.—After all no one need be afraid of recruiting interfering with farming operations on the island by causing a scarcity of men to work the land. The older men are showing that they can easily bear the burden of toil that formerly fell on younger shoulders. For instance about two miles and a half from Tignish there lives a farmer, aged 72 years an elderly man, one would call him some time ago, who has already completed the sowing of 65 bushels of oats besides putting in his root crop. He prepared the land for grain himself, and did all the work pertaining thereto. So boys enlist! The old men can take care of the farms.

—FUNERAL SERVICE.—The funeral of Mr. Paul Thompson, who died at his home in Mt. Pleasant, took place on the 19th inst. The services at Lot 14 Presbyterian Church and cemetery were conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilson, assisted by Rev. R. Davidson, who read the scripture lesson, offered prayer, and read the impressive service of committal at the grave. Although the day was somewhat rainy many were in attendance at the services, showing their respect to a departed friend.

Play Ball! Play the Game--

"Rattle" the Batter if you are able—catch him out if you can, but don't let him brush the home plate if it is humanly possible to prevent it. But what's the use—

If you haven't the proper outfit there is liable to be a "slip-up" at the most critical period of the game—the ball goes bad, a glove may get lumpy and spoil a good catch, or some other part of the outfit may fail to perform its function at the very time when the game hangs in the balance.
