Roaming Around Grandeurs of the West

Who the delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers Association arrived on the Pacific Coast, they were anxious to see as much as possible of British Columbia and to get some idea of the Canadian Rockies. While on the Coast the delegates held their meeting in Victoria and later spent a day in Vancouver, using the afternoon for a trip around the harbour and also were driven around the city.
To get an idea of the Canadian Rockies they arranged to spend one day at Jasper Park Lodge, situated in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, a summer hotel which offers the tourists every possible method of putting in time in an enjoyable manner. Their special train remained at Jasper so the visitors could have the complete day to themselves and enjoy themselves to their heart's content.
So representative of the business life of the Dominion of Canada were these delegates, that their visit to the Pacific Coast and to Western Canada is bound to work out to advantage to all concerned.
They had a great time at Jasper and took away to their Eastern Canadian homes memories of pleasant visits and pleasant friendships made.

The golfers in the party simply "wallowed" in the satisfaction and enjoyment of playing over the championship 18-hole golf course, over which the Canadian Amateur championship was decided in 1929, being won by Eddie Held of New York. This course was laid out by the internationally famous golf architect, Stanley Thompson, of Toronto, and is one of the finest tests of golf on the continent.

It has been said by many experts that "there is a shot for every club in the bag at Jasper" which after all is the real test for any golf course.

In addition to golf the members of the Canadian Manufacturers Association party took full advantage of the fine motor drives. They drove twenty-two miles up to Mount Edith Cavell, with its Angel Glacier.
It is on this drive that the visitor gets full advantage of the gorgeous sights of Athabasca Valley. Then there is the interesting drive, the road being known as the "Game Trail" as the Mountain Sheep, Mountain Goat, Moose, Bear, are seen in abundance. Other drives were to Lake Blith and Lake Pyramid.

The visit to the Canadian Rockies was thoroughly enjoyed by all members of the party and gave those from the Eastern part of this great Dominion of Canada an insight into the beauties of the far West. It was, generally speaking, a visit of education, and after all, what better method of education exists than travel, when you know personally the beauties contained within the borders of Canada.
