"Brain Wave" Tests For Air Recruits

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—(CP)—The most complete and delicate tests in the history of aviation were being given candidates for the Royal Canadian Air Force, it was said today by the Air Ministry.

The examination, described as a scientific test of the "brain waves" of candidates. The pattern of the "brain wave" is taken electrically through an electrode attached to the forehead. It has been used in conjunction with other regular physical tests of the air force.

A report from Toronto said these latest tests had resulted in the grounding of several airmen. At the Air Ministry it was admitted that the "brain wave" test might bring a number of prospective pilots but it was more probable that grounding of these men was due to a combination of all tests conducted in the examination of would-be fliers.

Describing the oscillogram party developed by Maj. G. E. Hall and J. E. Goodwin, of the clinical investigation unit of the Royal Air Force, a head set and recorded on strips of paper.

This pattern indicated whether or not the candidate would make a good pilot, observer or gunner, but added to its regular physical tests given by the cardiograph, testing the heart, and observations made while candidates are subjected to air pressure conditions such as might be found on 25,000 feet up.

Menzies Gov't Likely To Have Small Majority

MELBOURNE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Indications tonight pointed to a majority of five in the House of Representatives for the government supporters of R. G. Menzies as a result of Saturday's general election. This is just half the majority held by Mr. Menzies after the 1937 voting.

This reckoning, however, is not final, pending completion of the primary count and the distribution of preferences under Australia's voting system of proportional representation. This will not be received from overseas.

From present indications, the ministerialists (government supporters) will have 40 seats of which 11 are held by the government. The opposition is expected to have 34, including official labor 31, non-communist labor three. After providing a speaker, the government would thus have a majority of five. If the government also wins the senate election, as is indicated by incomplete returns, it will have a majority of two with 19 seats against 17 labor, representing a gain of one seat by labor.

Fatigued Crew Of Incomore Reach Gaspe

GASPE, Que., Sept. 22.—(CP)—Fatigued by hunger and privation, 22 crewmen rescued from the British freighter Incomore which grounded Sunday night on Anticosti Island during fog, were brought here today on a salvage tug.

The crew, a gale arose and drove the Incomore within 40 feet of cliffs on the Island's Shore. For two days before arrival of the tug they said, they had been unable to eat or sleep while giant waves crashed over the vessel gnashing her steel plates on rocks, flooding her engine room and hoists, and destroying her stores of provisions.

Seventeen other members of the ship's crew, rescued previously by breeches-boats, remained on the island. The British freighter, Incomore, was damaged but was able to sail for the east coast Canadian port.

Crewmen said the Incomore suffered considerable damage on the rocks but was not considered a total loss. Her cargo, destined from England for various Canadian ports, suffered heavy damage, and there was 10 to 12 feet of water in her hold.

Edward Verster, South African member of the crew, said today he had been sailing for more than 25 hours and had not experienced a storm as severe as the one which grounded the Incomore.

Unity Mitford's Home Is Requisitioned

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The former home of Unity Mitford, Adolf Hitler's "perfect Nordic beauty," was strewn with straw mattresses today and 100 men from the East End slums had taken up their abode in its spacious quarters.

The 30-room mansion in the fashionable Knightsbridge district was among the first of the deserted dwellings of well-to-do Londoners to be requisitioned for the use of German army and navy officers.

Unity Mitford's home was requisitioned for the use of German army and navy officers. The requisitioning of the building, agreeing to pay the bills.

Before the air raids began, it had been intended that each London borough should take care of its own bomb victims, but the experience of the last 10 days has proven that system unsatisfactory.

The most fortunate boroughs have been the heavily bombed areas. The total number of homeless in the London area has not been revealed, but it is known that in the East End borough of St. James, 5,000 persons have no homes.

The homeless are first being collected and investigated at distribution centres in bombed districts. The men, women and children remaining belongings, to new homes. Those who are able to pay a small rent are required to do so; to others, the council makes a billeting allowance.

"Actually," Mrs. Ridd said, "there are plenty of requisitionable homes, but what is presently needed is a number of voluntary workers willing to look after them and exercise some sort of supervision and guidance in the homes. I have no doubt that the hundreds who are arriving here will soon settle down harmoniously, but presently, they will need someone to help them to forget the canary they left behind in the wreckage."

Mrs. Ridd has arranged for a volunteer to cook for those occupying her former home, but she will require the women to evacuate to take turns helping in the kitchen, washing, sweeping and cleaning, which she believes will help them to forget their recent ordeals.

She plans to use the 15 large bedrooms as apartments for the individual families, and the ballrooms and living rooms as men's and women's dormitories.

Martial Law In Egypt; Still Cling To Peace

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Italian armed penetration of her territory despite Premier Mussolini's declaration of martial law today, while British units acting under a military alliance, hammered at Fascist invasion bases.

The British and the Royal Air Force, fighting Italian columns heading eastward toward the vital Suez Canal, successfully bombarded Fascist positions along the invasion route.

Though martial law was invoked by a cabinet leader pledged against the Italian invasion, a nationalist minority, was reported attempting to arrange a special session of parliament to settle the issue of war or peace.

Saturday night members of the party resigned over the failure of Premier Hassan Sabry Pasha to consider a declaration of war, now that the Italian invasion is sixty miles inside the Egyptian frontier.

They said there was no longer any doubt the Italians intended to conquer Egypt despite Premier Sabry's declaration of martial law. Sabry's denial that the war is aimed only to "liberate" the country.

War is to be preferred, they said, to the shame and cowardice of counting on others to defend Egypt.

British sources said the Mediterranean fleet Sunday followed last week's attack by seven rounds of newly-established positions at Sicily Barrani, 250 miles west of Alexandria. Italian camps and supply dumps were the target of scores of shells.

A Reuters news agency dispatch said that the occupying Italian forces entered the British-occupied great casualties when and mines exploded, blowing the village to bits.

In Newfoundland several scenes in which a Sabre was blown to bits by bombs from an airplane, were shot in the vicinity of Cornerbrook. While in Western Canada several scenes were filmed in Jasper National Park. On their way to Churchill, Man., where some scenes were also shot, pictures were made at a Stoverson Airport in Winnipeg, in which a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane was used, a former Winnipeg girl, Miss Carla Lehmann playing the part of a T.C.A. hostess. Mr. Brown stated the company had met with great success in making of the film in Canada, and the cast is well pleased with their trip.
