The year 1931 will go down in the history of Canadian agriculture as a year of new values, of reconstruction and readjustments. The prices of farm products have not only felt the effect of the general depression, but have been forced to new low levels through important market changes forcing a huge volume of products on to the domestic market.

"Not By Meat Alone"

Leading fox ranchers have demonstrated that, in addition to meat, it is absolutely necessary to feed a liberal supply of IMPERIAL BISCUITS daily, during the winter season, in order to keep the bowels regular and also to ensure the females having an adequate supply of milk during the lactation period.

IMPERIAL COD OIL FOX BISCUITS are made from a formula which has been prepared with these results in view and which reliable tests, extending over a considerable term of years, have proved to be signally successful.

Ranches, which have continued the feeding of IMPERIALS regularly in winter have had the largest litters of young foxes and also the highest average of pups, raised to maturity; in addition, they have practically eliminated the destroying of young by the females.

For assured results feed IMPERIALS throughout all the winter season. IMPERIALS are sold by leading distributors or direct from the factory.

LOOSE CLOTHING AIDS WOMEN FIGHT FLU

LONDON, March 8.—Women are far less susceptible to influenza than men because of their sensible, loose clothing, British medical men have discovered.

During a recent influenza wave here, men victims were far more numerous than women. Dr. Alfred C. Jordan, secretary of the Men's Dress Reform Party, attributed men's susceptibility to the disease largely to their tight-fitting collars, vests and coats.

BARLEY FOR LIVESTOCK

"Barley should be regarded as practically the equal of corn with all classes of live stock in the feeding of which the latter grain has played an important part. It is a Canadian product admirably suited to widespread production under Canadian conditions, climatic and cultural. It is equally well qualified for a place in the growing and finishing ration of Canadian live stock." This is the foreword of a pamphlet just issued by the Animal Husbandry Division (127—New Series) to assist farmers in making greater use of Canadian-grown feeds for beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine. It is also an ideal grain for the horse when fed in a balanced ration. Every farmer should have a copy of this pamphlet. —Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

they give marriage half a tryout. Listen in on any convocation of mother and you will hear them talking about the selfishness of husbands and the drudgery of housework and the unfaithfulness of men in general.

The result is that when too many girls get married they live up to mother's teaching, which is to get all and give nothing and to throw up their hands and quit when the sledding gets hard.

"We always say that divorce runs in families. It isn't hereditary, but it is catching. You will almost invariably find that the women who have been good wives themselves bring up daughters who make good wives because the girls look on marriage as mother does—as a duty and responsibility instead of a graft."

As a mother thinketh, so are her children. And that is why her point of view is the most important thing in their lives. DOROTHY DIX.
