IN MEMORIAM

THE DEATH OF SENATOR ELLIS.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 10.—Senator J. V. Ellis died a little after noon today.

The late Senator Ellis was born in Halifax, N. S., in 1835. Educated in the public schools he, at a comparatively early age entered the newspaper business. In 1862 he became editor of the St. John Globe, a position which he held until the time of his death. He was elected to the New Brunswick Assembly for the City of St. John in 1882 and was re-elected in 1886.

He was elected to the House of Commons, for St. John City, in 1887, defeated at the general election of 1891 and again elected at the general election of 1896. He was called to the Senate in 1900.

The late Senator was a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and four sons.

LATE MISS CARRIE MAWLEY.—Many Guardian readers will learn with sorrow of the death of Miss Carrie Mawley of Summerside, which occurred yesterday after a protracted illness. She had been ailing for over a year and her patient endurance of severe suffering, her gentle, kindly manner and cheerful disposition endeared her to all who knew her. For the past three weeks she was undergoing treatment in one of the Charlottetown hospitals, where the end came, somewhat suddenly yesterday. She was 57 years of age and was the second daughter of the late Mr. Edward Mawley, Summerside. She is survived by three sisters, Miss Janie of the Mawley House, Summerside, the Misses Georgie and Lottie of the Clifton House. Miss Lottie arrived in Charlottetown last night and will accompany the remains to the home in Summerside this morning. To the bereaved sisters and friends The Guardian extends sincere sympathy.

DROWNED IN SIGHT OF HIS COMRADES.

HALFAX, July 10.—Shortly after midnight this morning James Eccleston stumbled over the south side of terminal Pier Two, and was drowned in the dock before his companions could effect a rescue. Eccleston was a member of a gang of stevedores, and had just quit loading a steamer. They had started for home when the man lost his footing while walking on the pier's edge.

As quickly as possible the other men procured grappling irons when Eccleston did not rise to the surface and soon recovered his body. Dr. Hawkins was called and resuscitation attempted, but in vain.

Because of her serious illness the news of her husband's tragic end was not announced to Mrs. Eccleston by Rev. J. A. Donaldson, who had been summoned by Patrolman Golden, and as yet she believes him to be alive and well.

Eccleston was about fifty years old, and is survived by a widow and family. He was a member of the Long-shoremen's association.

WAR NEAR HOME BATTLES FOUGHT

wiped out by the heavy enfilade opened on them. Almost immediately after this a small party of infantry under Sgt. Weatherly, closing in from the left right wing, fell into the same trap. Not until they got right on to the Malpeque Road and fairly and squarely in the open did they get any intimation of the enemies' presence, and then C. and H. Companies directed such a fusillade on them as it would have been impossible for them to live in.

Thus pressing home their advantage on the east, though not making much headway on the west, yet slowly hemming in the centre from the flank they had turned, and making every use of their superior numbers, the attacking force at eleven o'clock were in a position to carry the day, in spite of the stubborn resistance they were meeting, when at this point hostilities suddenly ceased. Word had been received by the commanders of the opposing forces that peace had been declared between their respective countries, and that therefore there was no longer any reason for their destruction of each other. The battle was called off, and within a few minutes after the sound of firing had ceased the interesting spectacle was witnessed of the belligerents marching off the battlefield arm in arm, so to speak.

THE FIGHT A DRAW

It has only now to be explained that the battle described above was the quite bloodless affair which took place yesterday as a part of the annual training of the militia Forces engaged in the manoeuvres. Only blank ammunition was used. The idea was to give the men some experience and instruction in the conditions of actual field service, and that this intention was admirably carried out there is not the least doubt. With so many old and efficient campaigners as there were in charge of the operations, the manoeuvres were conducted on the lines of actual service, and the arrangements were all successfully effected. Another factor in the success of the affair was the enthusiasm and energy with which the men entered into the operations in which they were employed as the men in a huge chess game, and the satisfactory manner in which they discharged the duties assigned to them. The usefulness of the training they received in these manoeuvres may be understood from the fact that the forces not only had the honour, but had to carry out the duties of field commissariat and all the other functions connected with active conditions.

As to the engagement which was of the nature of an action between the rear-guard of a retreating force and the advance-guard of a pursuing force the general opinion arrived at by the umpires was that when hostilities ended, the position was a draw in favour of the attacking force. The umpires were: Colonel Allen (Camp Commandant), Colonel Johnson, Major Weeks, Capt. Gibson (of the R. C. R.), Lieuts. Forbes and Caldwell.

While the battle was in theory bloodless, in actuality it was not quite so. Though, to avoid accidents in the use of the blank ammunition, the combatants were instructed not to approach each other within fifty yards, in the heat of the hot fight Mount Edward Road, the parties got into very close contact, and one of the defending force discharged his rifle at almost pointblank range at one of the attackers—a private in the 82nd Regiment, who as the consequence, had a portion of his scalp and the hair with it blown away. He was attended to on the spot by Dr. Blake, one of the surgeons attached to the 82nd who bandaged the unfortunate fellow's head, and the man was able to resume his place in the ranks. To compensate him for the pain of his hurt and the loss of his scalp and hair, he has the privilege of being the only combatant in yesterday's battle to wear any of the honors of war.

Among the many interesting personal incidents of the manoeuvres it may be stated that Pte. Bruce Caruthers, Orderly for Major Bartlett, was a most enthusiastic spectator of the action; he was said to be the last man to turn in when the troops bivouaced, and the first to be astir in the morning. Yesterday's operations practically concluded the work of the camp, which will be struck to-day.

"ORINOCO" makes a cracking good smoke for all times. Indoors and out—it's your one best friend. Fill up your clay, corncob, or briar with it and it burns freely and fragrantly without match-missing or finger-fussing. Blended of the choicest leaves of picked crops from "ole Virginia," it's a bully tonic for that "tired feeling" that comes from smoking "tasteless" sawdust brands. "ORINOCO" has plenty of body, plenty of rich mellow flavor and a fragrance that betokens real tobacco goodness. Try it.

FOX NOTES

The cross foxes which the Canada Fox Exchange and Investment Company, Limited are offering for sale have each and every one been subjected to veterinary inspection before leaving the west and since their arrival here. Each and every one is guaranteed perfect in every respect, absolutely free from disease, with perfect limbs—in fact they are the very finest of that variety that money classed as wealthy notably a regular breeder of foxes who are prominent rancher—got their start in foxes by breeding from patched foxes. Your opportunity to do so is here. For a very little capital you can form a ranch and get into this business. 206-7-11Mii.

The Canada Fox Exchange and Investment Company, Limited are heartily in accord with the action taken for an inspection of the foxes coming to the Province. Each and every fox imported by them has been medically inspected before leaving the West and since arriving at their destination. They are each and every one perfect, beautifully furred, strong, robust specimens, and will form valuable crosses with our local stock. A nice batch of Cross foxes was sold yesterday by the Canada Fox Exchange and Investment Company, Limited to a prominent rancher. He pronounced them the finest he had ever seen for their age, and said it was a remarkable tribute to their health and strength that they should look so well after a journey of over three thousand miles. 208-7-11Mii.

NOT WATCHMAN BUT AN ARMY NEEDED. MONTREAL, July 9.—Caustic comments were passed by Chairman Drayton in the board of railway commissioners today in regard to the carelessness and obstinacy of the public in trespassing upon railway tracks. He declared that forty-three per cent of the total of railway fatalities of this nature last year resulted because people were trespassing on railway tracks.

The city of Lachine applied for an order directing the Grand Trunk Railway to remove electric bells and to install and maintain gates instead on two level crossings, on Second and Eighteenth Avenue respectively. For the railway company it was urged that their best efforts were frustrated by the public. Even a watchman would be powerless sometimes to keep off trespassers.

"They do not want a watchman," remarked the chairman, "they want an army. If a watchman tries to stop people trespassing, too often he receives no support from the people. In fact, some municipalities are compelled to keep policemen to prevent people climbing over railway gates."

It was decided that a survey of the local condition should be made by Mr. Lalonde and that his report would be acted upon.
