

Weak Lungs It is the old story of a weak throat, a tendency to weak lungs in the family. You no sooner get rid of your old cold than a new one takes its place. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral breaks up this taking-cold habit. It strengthens, heals. Ask your doctor, the very next time you see him, what he thinks of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for weak lungs.

Just imagine how nice the table would look if adorned with a bowl like this.

"MY PARTNER" the play made famous by the late Louis Aldrich will receive an early presentation by the Gage Stock Co. at the Opera House. It is a story of the west in its early days, and deals of life of two men, who through years of privation and hardship formed a friendship that was almost inseparable. The comedy element is supplied by "Wing Lee," played by Al Lester and this part stands as a classic in the annals of the stage, he is ably assisted by "Major Brit," a true western type of man of that period, when the search for gold in California was at its height. Miss Davis will be seen in the part of "Mary Brendou," which will give her excellent opportunity to display her versatility.

Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., brings a host of pleasant memories of past vacations, and stirs the blood in anticipation of future outings. This magazine with its wide area both of territory and sport, has something to offer them in the way of information and advice as to how to make the best use of such time and means as they may have at their disposal. Both the whole Dominion and the whole range of Canadian sports are covered in this number with a completeness that affords the best testimony to the position secured and so worthily held by this Magazine as the leading exponent of Canadian sport and exploration in all its varied departments.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to The Guardian from St. Peter's, saying that an alarming condition of affairs prevails there that requires the attention of those in authority. One night recently three tramps stole a valuable mare from James A. McEwen, and judging by their trail they headed for Charlottetown. Those who met the trio with the stolen horse say that one man was large, dark complexion, and would weigh about 190 lbs, large shoulders, large eyes and mouth and large flat feet. His hair looked as if cut by an amateur and his appearance on the whole was very rough. The second was an old man, very thin and worn looking, a slight hump on the back, one leg slightly shorter than the other. The third man was a diminutive fellow who seemed rather tired and weary. The big fellow was evidently leader of the gang. The description is given in the hope that the public will be able to beware of the trio. Another tramp stayed at the house of Jonathan Matheson, Dundas, lately, and skipped in the morning taking with him fifty dollars in cash. It is high time that steps were taken to protect the public from such characters and it is to be hoped that these thieves will soon be captured, and well punished.

The Rev. J. L. Dawson's condition according to the St. John's Nfld. papers was considerably improved at the date of writing.

The last issue of the Canadian Graphic contains a write up of Charlottetown, in which many complimentary things are said. The article is from the pen of W. J. Plitte, and the illustrations used are from photos by J.A.S. Bayer of this City. The concluding words of the writer are as follows: Charlottetownians are a hospitable people, ever ready to extend a welcome hand and the freedom of their houses to the visiting stranger. They are extremely proud of their Province and think Charlottetown the prettiest city of its size in Canada, a pardonable conceit, that one who has walked its sunny streets and felt the grateful influence of its balmy breezes, hesitates to deny.

PURGATIVES ARE DANGEROUS. They gripe, cause burning pains and make the constipated condition even worse. Physicians say the ideal laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mantrake and Butteroni; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health-giving vegetable extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore regular movement of the bowels, strengthen the stomach and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headache, biliousness and disordered digestion no medicine on earth makes such remarkable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 25c. box yourself.
