Essery Case Is Decided In Supreme Court

Erville Essery, 17, Mt. Pleasant, was found guilty on a charge of theft but not guilty of breaking and entering the jewelry store of H. R. Crockett, Ltd., Summerside, by a trial jury yesterday at Sum- merside. Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell, who presided, completed his charge to the jury at 1 o'clock and court recessed till 2.30. The jury did not bring in its verdict till 3.15.

Following this Essery pleaded guilty to a charge of theft from Dingwell's Canteen at Bedeque. He had been charged with break- ing and entering in this case also but this was withdrawn. A charge of escape from jail was also with- drawn.

In addressing the jury the Chief Justice told them that the Crown had produced sufficient evidence to entitle them to find a verdict against the accused, so far as the law is concerned. There is suffic- ient evidence to justify a reason- able inference of the prisoner's guilt, he said, but in addition to sufficient evidence from a point of law, "you must satisfy yourselves as to the prisoner's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt." The question of drunkenness has been raised. "I think it is obvious that if a man gets drunk and loses his self re- straint that does not excuse any wrongful act done under the stim- ulation of intoxication. It may ag- gravate the offence rather than justify it. But if a person is so drunk that he loses his capacity to form an intention to commit a crime, then that is a defense, as counsel for the defense pointed out. The defense of drunkenness is the same as the defense of in- sanity. It is for you to determine on the evidence if the accused was so intoxicated on the occasion of the alleged offense or not."

The Chief Justice pointed out that there could be no doubt that on the morning of July 13th a breaking and entering and stealing was unlawfully committed. So the sole question for the jury to de- cide was whether the accused was one of the guilty parties.

He then reviewed the evidence in detail and informed them that they could bring in three verdicts, acquittal, guilty of breaking and entering and theft, and guilty of theft and not guilty of breaking and entering.

The jury then retired and re- turned with the verdict reported above. At the close of the sitting court adjourned to eleven o'clock this morning when the prisoner will be sentenced.

Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, K.C., addressed the jury for the Crown and Mr. E. H. Strong for the de- fense.

Ernest Jones, charged with rape and found guilty of common as- sault, will also be sentenced this morning.

The jury in the Essery case were as follows: Hedley L. Palmer, fore- man, Colin Costin, Alton Webb, Harry Curtis, Ralph Monkley, Ar- thur Arsenault, Wilfred Gamble, Hudson Ramsay, Norman Waugh, Webster Boulter, Allan Clarke, Ralph B. McCaull. S

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irri- ating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

THRILLS AND CHILLS IN NEW HORROR FILM

—Mystery and suspense pervade the screen's newest shiver-picture, "The Seventh Victim," which pre- sents Tom Conway, Jean Brooks and the sensational new actress, Kim Hunter, in a stirring tale of demonism in New York City.

Following the strange disappear- ance of a young and successful business woman, her only relative, a younger sister, leaves school to search for her, and in a series of dramatic adventures, learns that the older woman had joined a cult of devil-worshipers. As punishment for disclosing their secrets to an investigator, she has been con- demned to death.

The efforts of the girl and her friends to save her sister from be- coming the "seventh victim" of the cult provide thrill-laden events. Miss Hunter, a new "find" from the Little Theatre field, makes her film debut as the younger sister and Miss Brooks plays the older one, with Conway as a psychiatrist who becomes interested in the case.

Hugh Beaumont, Eriord Gage, Evelyn Erent, Isabel Jewell, Mary Newton and Ben Bard also have important parts.

Was It Whale, Porpoise Or Ness Monster?

As noted recently in these col- umns, it would be dangerous for any of the lesser known monsters of the deep to come anywhere near the vicinity of Summerside harbour, for some of our local disciples of Ike Walton who jour- ney to the Dunk River when the urge strikes them are equally at home when the opportunity knocks to sally forth and match wits with any or all kinds of fish who hap- pen to be in the locality.

A few days ago a descendant of Moby Dick, who had no doubt been ousted from his (or her) native haunts by depth charges per- haps, decided to venture into the waters adjacent to the Marine wharf, no doubt to enjoy a well earned rest, all the time unaware that one of the aforesaid amateur fishermen was in the locality.

A short time later this report- er happened to be in conversation with Mr. L. R. Allen who casually remarked that he had a whale tied up at the marine wharf and that anyone who cared to view same could do so. It is an unusual thing to have a whale tied to the Marine wharf and perhaps the re- porter may have shown some sign of incredulity so Mr. Allen there- upon offered to drive him to the scene. Knowing Mr. Allen's pas- sionate love for the truth whether he is discussing whales or pota- toes the reporter never for one mo- ment doubted that he did have a whale tied up but Mr. Allen in- sisted that he should view the spectacle, and so they sallied to the butment and most assuredly Mr. Allen did have a large denizen of the deep securely tied by the tail with a stout piece of steel cable. He explained that he had seen the fish frolicking in the water not far from the shore and had gone forth and brought it to land.

If there had been a mighty struggle Mr. Allen would not ad- mit it but modestly pointed to the fish as proof of his piscatorial ability. The reporter inquired how long it was the intention to keep it tethered there but was advised that the fish was not "tethered" in the first place and to use the correct term he was "landed". Mr. Allen explained that one tethers a cow or a horse but if a fish is tied up he is "landed". Mr. Allen further explained that this par- ticular species was not equipped with any facilities for swimming backwards so once he got inside the harbor he was unable to get out. Once again this reporter took his word for this as coming from one who knew.

Since the fish (or mammal) couldn't get out of town (or har- bour) under its own power it was decided in deference to the Soc- iety for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals that it be disposed of in the best possible way, and so Constable Medius Wedge was call- ed to the scene and given the authority to put the creature out of misery, which Constable Medius did with a few well placed shots.

The carcass did not remain long as it was soon chopped into sec- tions and carried off, presumably for fox feed.

Some envious sportsmen claim that Mr. Allen's catch was not a whale at all, but only a porpoise. Others of less suspicious nature are prepared to believe that it was the Loch Ness monster.

FO Stewart was killed in a plane crash near Charlottetown Airport early yesterday morning.

HOSPITAL VISITING HOURS— At this week's meeting of the Trustees of the Prince Edward Is- land Hospital a report was made that the public are co-operating very helpfully in the enforcement of the shortened visiting hours which it became necessary to ad- opt at the Hospital recently. The change has made it possible for the members of the staff to carry on their work more efficiently and more expeditiously. And the pati- ents too seem to be well satisfied with the change and have been quite helpful in impressing upon their visitors the necessity of leav- ing promptly at the expiration of visiting hours. The new rule that not more than two visitors may be with a patient at the same time involves perhaps the most diffi- culty. The staff naturally do not like to turn friends of a patient away and there is a diffidence on the part of patients as well to sug- gest to longer-staying visitors that others are waiting their turn.

Golden Wedding

An event of special interest to many or our readers took place in Gardiner, Maine, on December 3rd, when Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Scott, of 29 Fremont Street celebrated their Golden Wedding.

The reception room was very beautifully decorated with cut flow- ers where the happy couple gra- ciously received their friends, who came from Boston, Augusta, Ran- dolph and their home town. Guests from Prince Edward Island were Mrs. Scott's brother, Mr. Russel S. Burns and Mrs. Burns, Freetown and Mr. Donald Baker of Summer- side.

A short programme was held, and their daughter, Miss Alice Scott, sang very beautifully "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly", and she and her friend Miss Helen Moody, who is also a talented singer, sang several duets which were beautifully rendered and well receiv- ed.

A buffet luncheon was served, the large wedding cake which adorned the well appointed table was made and decorated at Mrs. Scotts old home at Freetown, Prince Edward Island.

There were many beautiful gifts which consisted in part of a Chest of Silver and several gifts of mon- ey. Scores of letters and telegrams of Good Wishes were received from out of town friends, and speeches of congratulations by many friends were made. Mr. and Mrs. Scott re- plied very graciously.

There many friends in this pro- vince and elsewhere will rejoice with them on this happy occasion. —S

Rotary Auction Is Successful

The annual Rotary radio auc- tion last night, in aid of the crip- pled children's fund, appeared to have been "bigger and better than ever." Bidding was spirited on the more than 500 items offered and brought good prices. But even with all the speed that could be put into the auction it was after 1 A.M. today before the last item was declared sold.

Chocolates appeared to be in strong demand, especially early in the night, although the price tap- ered off somewhat later. The first lot offered, a half-dozen one-pound boxes sold for $15.

A first prize turkey, decided by a drawing made by Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, president of the Red Cross Society, went to Mrs. John Austin, 27 Richmond Street. The second turkey was won by Joseph Murphy of 313 Grafton Street.

Just before the auction closed at 1.25 a.m. the drawing for the 12- pound grand prize turkey was made, Councillor B. Earle Mac- Donald of 96 Upper Hillsboro Street being the winner. Just be- fore that it was announced that Mr. Gordon Warren of Mount Ed- ward Road had won the third prize turkey.

The president of the Rotary Club, Mr. Roy Cudmore, spoke briefly at the close, thanking the public for "splendid support." He said the results of the sale would be announced later.

Summerside Man Speaks At Halifax

HALIFAX, Dec. 6 — (CP) — "We in Canada must solve our own problems of brotherly love, tolerance and trust of our fellow- men before we can expect to take any part in leadership in those qualities among European peoples. We need a good house-cleaning at home," declared Allison MacLean of Summerside, district governor of Y's Men's Club, speaking today before the Halifax club.

The speaker said that only by exercising patience, showing mercy and putting trust in the inherent good qualities of men, could Can- adians consider ourselves fit in- structors to others.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Kenneth A. McInnis, who passed away Decem- ber 7th, 1943.

We lost not only a father;
But a pal who was good and true;
One we could go to in trouble,
One we could talk to when blue.
Friends may think we have forgot- ten,
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache,
That our smile hides all the while.

Pleads Guilty To Perjury Charge

Harry Walsh of Summerside pleaded guilty to a charge of per- jury in the Supreme Court at Sum- merside yesterday before Mr. Jus- tice A. E. Arsenault and was given a three years' suspended sentence.

In passing sentence His Lord- ship told the prisoner that he be- lieved in this way the ends of jus- tice would be better met than by imposing a penitentiary term which would brand him for life. He believed that by holding this sentence over him the prisoner would give up his former ways, find employment and become a useful member of society. In his many years on the bench His Lordship said he has had occasion to give suspended sentences to young men and not one of them has ever reappeared in court charged with a criminal offence. The Attorney General Mr. Fred- erick A. Large and Mr. R. S. Hin- ton appeared for the Crown and Mr. W. Henry Noonan for the de- fense.—S.
