The regular monthly meeting of the P. E. L. Poultry Association held last evening in the P. W. C. Henry Lapham's presence, was in the chair. The committee appointed to secure a hall for the annual poultry show reported having secured the hall over Morris & Smith's store. A letter was read from W. N. Tanton, Jeweller, City, stating that in addition to the special prizes already printed he offered a valuable cup for the best ten birds, five males and five females, of any purebred variety owned by the exhibitor three months or reared by him. The cup to be won three times before becoming the property of an exhibitor. Mr. Tanton's splendid donation was appreciated not only for its value to the exhibition and the Association but for the encouragement of pure breeding toward which it will tend. Twelve additional members were proposed. It was decided to have Mr. Jarvis lecture before the association of which further notice will be given. The entries for the show close on December 15 and present indications point to the best show yet. The number of entries are very large and the very best of pure bred poultry will be shown.

R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. January 1st. Re-Investments

On January 1st a large number of quarterly dividends will be paid; on the same date a still greater number of half-yearly interests payments will be due and a number of half-yearly dividends will be paid. Many large investors will receive more than they will need to finance them through the next six months and they will have the surplus funds available for reinvestment. Many of the smaller and more thrifty investors, who take delight in seeing their financial position improve, will not spend all they receive, they will see that part of their interest or dividends is "put by"—and so they will have money to reinvest.

All classes of investors, whether large or small, whether buyers of bonds or stocks, will find it profitable to make arrangements now regarding their reinvestments. Purchases can be made now regarding their reinvestments. Purchasers can be made now and we will make deliveries when convenient to the purchasers.
