JURY FINDS DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT

An inquest into the death of Patrick Flynn who was fatally injured at Victoria Park Saturday afternoon was held yesterday afternoon in the City Court room by Dr. McKenna, coroner, and jury.

After the hearing of several witnesses a verdict of accidental death was brought in by the jury which consisted of Thomas White, Jr., (foreman), Menton Whitlock, W. E. Cotton, P. C. Pope, R. B. Brown, T. Gallant and W. E. Scantlebury.

The following evidence was given: Walter Goss, sworn, said: On Saturday afternoon he was playing baseball at Victoria Park. As he was going to bat he saw a young fellow about fifteen feet away, and told him to get out of the way in case he got hit with ball. He was a left hand batter, and turned his back to him. He swung at a ball, the bat slipped from his hands and struck the boy. He ran over to him, then walked away while Sterling MacDonald and Wm. Vickerson took him to the Polyclinic. That was the last he saw of him.

Dr. Ledwell, sworn, said: This little patient was brought to the Charlottetown Hospital under my observation. He was suffering from a very severe compound fracture of the skull. The time was between 6:30 and 7 o'clock. He was suffering from shock; the whole side of his head driven in, brain protruding. He passed away just before completion of an operation. On being asked by one of the jurymen what was done between 7 o'clock and 9, the time of the operation, the Doctor said that the boy was first taken to the Prince Edward Island Hospital. He was occupied at the time in the City Hospital. It takes time to prepare the instruments, etc. He thought by waiting a while that the lad would better stand the operation and did not perform the operation until 9 o'clock. The injury was very severe and it was evident the child could not live. He died just before the completion of the operation. Dr. Seaman of the P. E. Island Hospital had asked me to see the boy, and had given me permission to operate on him at that Hospital, or remove him to the City Hospital. The boy was removed to the City Hospital about 6:30 o'clock.

Wm. Vickerson, sworn said he was at Victoria Park at time of the accident. It was between 3 and 3:30 in the afternoon. Goss was swinging his bat which struck the boy. Witness with Sterling MacDonald got him in Rattenbury's car and took him to the Polyclinic. Sterling MacDonald, sworn, said he was at the ball park Saturday afternoon. He acted as umpire. Goss was at bat, swung at pitched ball, bat left hand and struck a young fellow about twenty feet away from batter and base-line. Witness rushed in with others, picked the injured boy up, and took him to Polyclinic in young Rattenbury's car. He was asked if it was not his duty as umpire to warn spectators. Thought not, as it was merely a scrub game. Thought they were far enough away.

Louis Campbell, sworn, said he happened to be at the park sitting on a bench about forty yards away when the accident happened. Saw Walter Goss in act of hitting a pitched ball. A little boy was standing about twenty feet away at right of batter. The batter made a complete swing; he was a left hand batter. It appeared that the smaller end of the bat hit the child, after slipping from batter's hands. The boy was surrounded by other boys. Witness called for a car and the injured boy was taken to town by Sterling MacDonald and Wm. Vickerson.

This closed the evidence. After a short deliberation the jury returned the following verdict: "We, the Coroner's jury empanelled to investigate the death of Patrick Flynn, do find that he came to his death by being struck on the head by an accidentally swung bat during the course of a game at Victoria Park, Saturday, June 4, 1932."

U. S. Veterans Seek Redress At Washington

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(By Ken Clark, Canadian Press Staff Writer)—A potentially explosive situation continued to develop here today as hundreds of war veterans trekked into the capital to join the army of 2,000 who came to demand cash of Congress. On a streaming hot Sunday officials of the District of Columbia and the Government conferred anxiously, while on trains, in trucks and cars, hard-bitten ex-soldiers converged on Washington from all parts of the country.

Yesterday the "bonus expeditionary force" was informed it would have to leave the city by Thursday next. Leaders replied they would stay until Congress passed legislation providing they should immediately receive about $2,000,000. The Patman Bill which would provide this money by summarily ordering the treasury to print it, has received enough signatures to force its consideration on the floor of the House of Representatives. The date set is June 13—five days after the bonus force is scheduled, by the authorities, to leave.

The marchers on Washington have been somewhat abrupt in procuring means of transportation, taking over ferries and railway trains in some cases. But since their arrival in the capital they have been orderly. In their camping grounds across the Potomac River they exhibit some of the discipline of trained soldiers. An attempt has been made to organize them into units. Their leaders disclaim any sympathy with Radicalism and Communist organizers have been roughly handled.

What worries the authorities and the citizenry of Washington is the knowledge that within a few days funds to feed the veterans will be exhausted and there will then be in this city of half a million from 4,000 to 8,000 ex-soldiers with empty stomachs.

The National Government has proved adamant in its refusal to assist local authorities. Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley has denied the use of army tents for shelter and the feeling of Congress is illustrated by the denunciation of Senator William E. Borah who said he would not vote a dollar. The spirit of conciliation and cooperation between the district and the veterans at first demonstrated by Chief of Police Major General Glassford becoming secretary-treasurer of the outfit, tonight appears strained.

If the men continue to refuse to move only two courses seem open to the authorities—either to refuse to feed them or to force their evacuation.

Persistent reports that troops have been moved in from Quantico, Va., that an extra supply of tear gas and gas masks have been brought from the Edgewood arsenal, are officially denied.

Nearly 200 Georgia and South Carolina marchers met with two defeats to steal rides on southern railway freights to Washington. The trains were sidetracked.

On the Canadian Pacific Railway gross revenues amounted to $10,237,545 as against $12,283,882 for March 1931. This was a decrease of $2,046,336 and, with operating expenses reduced by $1,887,027, the net operating revenues were reduced from $1,654,593 in 1931 to $1,170,502.

On the eastern lines of the Canadian National Railways, with a reduction in gross revenues of $280,431 and in operating expenses of $490,017, net operating revenues were improved by $209,586, or from a loss of $271,291 in 1931 to a loss of $61,704 in 1932. The loss from operating for the three months, January to March was $7,022,499 as against $1,992,620 in 1931.

To Inaugurate York - Bermuda Air Service

NEW YORK, June 6.—(By The Canadian Press)—Bermuda will occupy an important position in the development of International aviation, J. P. Hand, Chairman of the Bermuda Trade Development Board asserted here today following a conference of several days with J. T. Tripp, President of Pan-American Airways.

Negotiations are under way for the establishment of a New York-Bermuda air service, to be operated jointly by Pan-American Airways and Imperial Airways, Ltd., Mr. Hand stated, but no definite announcement of when this service will be opened could be made at this time.

If trans-Atlantic air service is inaugurated in the next few days, Bermuda, because of its strategic position, will be an important air station in the course, Mr. Hand said. He plans to go to London next month to discuss the project with British interests.

WARBLE FLY CONTROL

The Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has just issued Pamphlet No. 147, entitled, "Warble Flies and Their Control in Canada." This has been prepared by Mr. Eric Hearle, in charge of livestock insect investigations at Kamloops, B. C., who has given the subject of warble flies much study. Two species of these flies are widely distributed and constitute the worst insect pests of cattle wherever they are abundant. They occur in every part of Canada where stock is raised. They are injurious both as adults, due to their irritating effect on cattle when egg-laying, and as parasitic grubs in the body, due to their effect on the health, condition and milk yield of infested animals, and the damage to hides into which the grubs bore holes for the purpose of breeding.

Losses in Canada from warble flies each year are from seven million to fourteen million dollars, and in some years, may even exceed the latter figure.

The pamphlet discusses the life-history of these destructive insects and gives information regarding remedies.

Copies of the publication may be obtained free of charge from the Publications Branch, Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.
