SPLIT IN THE CABINET IS THE RUMOR

Resignation of Viscount Cecil Reported in London.—Dispute With Chamberlain Given as Cause.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Viscount Cecil's reported resignation as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster is ascribed by the Daily Express to a cabinet split involving Lord Cecil and Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, and arising from the question of reducing the troops in the Rhineland.

Sir Austen, according to the paper, supported France in her refusal to reduce her troops by more than 5,500, while Lord Cecil maintained that attitude was an "outrage on the whole spirit of Locarno."

Lord Cecil, it adds, went further and declared there should be no army of occupation at all since French security was guaranteed through the Locarno pact by the whole weight of the British army.

"The extraordinary spectacle is presented," the Express comments, of Lord Cecil resigning or threatening to resign as a protest against Sir Austen Chamberlain and in order to save the Locarno treaty for which Sir Austen received the supreme credit.

Granting that the situation may be eased by the announcement from Paris that it has been agreed for Great Britain and Belgium to withdraw 1,500 troops and France 7,500, the paper says it is not thought this will be satisfactory.

When asked about the report that he had resigned from the cabinet Lord Cecil replied, "I cannot answer that question."

Lord Cecil's secretary, questioned by the Evening News, is quoted as saying: "There is nothing definite at all. The matter is entirely in abeyance. Probably by Monday definite news, if there is any at all, will be available."

Final Touches Put On Arrangements For Convention

(Special to the Guardian) WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 27.—Political gossip is rife in Winnipeg today over possible developments of the Conservative Convention. Final touches have been put on the local arrangements. Two thousand homes have been promised in which the hotel overflow can be housed. It is now forecast that 2,500 will be in attendance with a direct convention connection. Two thousand will be delegates and alternates and the balance will be press representatives and close personal friends of candidates and tried party workers. Gen. MacRae announced yesterday that every riding in Ontario will have its full quota represented at the convention and that Quebec will send 300. He also forecast that the four western provinces will have the largest attendance of any Dominion-wide political meeting in its history.

Bobby Jones Wins National Golf Championship

(Canadian Press) MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 28.—Bobby Jones yesterday won the National Amateur Golf Championship for the third time in four years, bowing over the last obstacle in his path, the veteran Chick Evans, eight up and seven to go.

Will Not Hurt Montreal's Trade

(Special to the Guardian) MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—"I wouldn't give a moment's worry to the railway board's order," commented E. A. Heywood, export manager of James Richardson and Sons Ltd., grain brokers, and a former president of the Montreal Corn Exchange when asked whether the order requiring the railways to cut their rates on grain freight to Quebec would adversely affect Montreal's position in the grain trade.

"As a matter of fact," he continued, "it might do a little good, because it may hold the water rate down, the rate now is around 11 cents. The water rate is bound to be kept a little below the rail rate so they can hardly go above 10 cents now for the water rate. To that extent it is beneficial if anything. As for Quebec this change will give Quebec a chance to serve as an overflow port whenever congestion threatens at Montreal harbor. But as for being a serious competitor of Montreal or taking Montreal's trade away they haven't got the landing space in the first place. From any point of view I wouldn't give it a moment's worry."

Electric Music

(By British United Press) BERLIN, Aug. 27.—At the Frankfurt Musical Festival an almost magical combination of an entire new form of music was given. Professor Leo Theremin, of Leningrad, played "electrical tunes" to his astounded audience with an apparatus of his own construction, simply by moving his hands and quivering his fingers through the air.

He showed that his apparatus which was constructed so that it connected to a loud-speaker, could create every variety of musical sound, at one moment producing the clear tones of a flute, and at the next mimicking the tone qualities of a violin, or sinking into the deep murmuring of a double-bass. Even the beating of a drum could be produced, and the quarter-tone scale could be played, while by a special movement of the hands an echo could be heard.

The apparatus, which is built on the same lines as a wireless set, is composed of a small wooden box, out of which protrudes a metal rod which acts as aerial. With the help of batteries and radio valves, electrical currents of variable frequency are produced which correspond to the tones in a musical scale. When the current is switched on, electromagnetic waves are formed near the metal rod.

If an electrical conductor—the human hand—is placed near the rod, these waves become visible and the wave-field is at the same time charged, just in the same manner as the pitch of a violin is altered when the finger is placed on its strings.

A further serial in the shape of a small metal wire is fixed in a semi-circle round the box. When the second hand nears the period of oscillation is altered thus regulating the strength of the current, and thereby of the sound. In this manner

Exports of Milk and Cream to U. S. Grow In Spite of Embargo

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—In spite of the milk embargo, Canada's exports of milk and cream to the United States have been well above the average this year.

When the United States health authorities banned milk and cream originating within 200 miles of Montreal the fear was prevalent in Canada that the United States as a market for Dominion products was a thing of the past. This, however, does not appear to have been the case, although the embargo remains.

100,000 Persons Witnessed Funeral Procession

(Canadian Press) BOSTON, Aug. 28.—After a silent procession through eight miles of city streets while more than 100,000 persons looked on, the bodies of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti were reduced to ashes today at the Forest Hills Crematorium. The ashes will be turned over to Mrs. Rose Sacco and Miss Lucia Vanzetti, widow and sister to each man.

The ceremony at the crematory was brief and simple. There were no religious exercises, but Miss Mary Donovan, a member of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee read a prepared eulogy in which she termed Sacco and Vanzetti "victims of the craziest plutocracy the world had known since ancient Rome."

Feared Death Toll Will Reach Staggering Figures

(Canadian Press) ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 28.—With communication to north shore points only partially restored after Thursday morning's storm, reports of wrecks and drownings reaching here today lead authorities to fear that the toll among the fishermen and the fleet of coastal and fishing vessels will reach staggering figures.

Ten bodies have so far been recovered and there has been nothing heard from the Labrador fleet. It is feared that 30 or 40 lives have been lost.

Tales of Murder By a Havana Smuggling Ring

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 27.—Tales of a smuggling ring which induces foreigners to leave Cuba clandestinely for the United States and on occasions allegedly throws the aliens overboard, have been unearthed by Cuban police.

A checkup reveals that approximately 350 of the aliens who have left the mainland within the last year never reached the United States.

The smugglers are accused by the police of throwing the aliens overboard when pursued by Cuban or American patrol boats. Cuban authorities explain that the smugglers induce the aliens to hide in sacks when a patrol boat is sighted, telling them that it will save them from capture.

The sacks are tied, weighed with steel bars and thrown into the sea, the operatives conclude.

A Cardinal Legend

(By British United Press) ROME, Aug. 27.—The death of Cardinal Cagiano de Azevedo and of Cardinal Cernoch, Primate of Hungary, which occurred at an interval of only a few days from one another, has given rise to a mild state of panic among the members of the Sacred College.

An ancient tradition, hitherto almost invariably confirmed by facts, asserts that cardinals die by threes. In this connection an amusing "story" circulates among the Romanes.

When an announcement is made of a Cardinal's demise, great uneasiness prevails among the colleagues of the deceased "porporato," and their first act is to call their solicitor in order to make their will as a wise precaution against any impending surprise.

When the second cardinal passes, they hasten to call their confessor and prepare themselves as if death were imminent. As soon as the news of the death of their third colleague reaches the cardinals they cheerfully tear up their wills and sing the "Te Deum" in thanksgiving for being still alive.

FLYERS OVER OCEAN BOUND FOR ENGLAND

Brock and Schlee Round the World Flyers, Hopped Off Saturday From Harbor Grace.

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., Aug. 27.—Brock and Schlee, following a good night's rest, appeared on the flying field early this morning to find weather conditions locally ideal for their transatlantic start.

A light westerly wind prevailed and the sun was shining brilliantly while out to sea there was not a vestige of fog.

The Pride of Detroit was poised on the runway of the new flying field just completed by the Newfoundland highways department and little time was lost in making the start. The two adventurers, out to break the world globe encircling record, expressed themselves as delighted with conditions surrounding the first lap of their daring flight.

The big yellow monoplane took off beautifully, responding to the first efforts of the pilot and was in the air before it was half way down the field. The flyers circled around a minute or two, warming up their engine, and putting the plane through various tests then settled down on the long course eastward with Croydton, England, the next scheduled stop.

Tales of Murder By a Havana Smuggling Ring

(By British United Press) LONDON, Aug. 27.—Three footpad-blackmailers who have terrorized the Kensington district in the neighborhood of Cologne—are now in prison as a result of an encounter with a young man who happened to be a boxer.

He was walking in the forest with a girl when the three footpads sprang on them with knuckledusters, but by skilful fighting the young man succeeded in knocking them out so effectively that soon he was mounting guard over three unconscious men.

The girl meanwhile had raced away for help, and by goodluck found a policeman, who removed the men to goal. They were identified as criminals who had taken up their quarters in the forest and for more than a month had pursued a career of robbery.

Another curious circumstance attending Cardinal Cernoch's death is the fact that it was announced a full week before it actually occurred by the official Vatican organ "Osservatore Romano" which published a long obituary notice accompanied by an edifying description of the cardinal's last moments.

Police claim they will bring murder charges against the ring leaders of the gang, who combine run running with their alien transfer, if they are captured.
