Kidney trouble was the trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Cured Mr. George Groves, Pitts Ferry, Ont. of a very bad case of kidney trouble.

He tells about the cure in the following words: "I cannot recommend Doan's Kidney Pills too highly. I never took anything that did me so much good. I had a severe pain in the small of my back and could scarcely get up or down without help. I could hardly urinate, but when I did the pain was terrible. I was in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, last winter and when I came out I was some better but not cured. It was then I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised. Since taking them I have been completely cured and have not had any trouble with my kidneys since."

ACHAN'S FATAL COURSE

HIS HEART COVETED RICHES AND HE STOLE WHAT WAS GOD'S. AND ALL ISRAEL STONED HIM

Powerful sermon on the Sin of Covetousness. Which the Frenchman Says Is Not Confined to Achan's Time—Its Genesis, Logical Progression and Culmination—A Type of the Sin of Every Age.

any sinner? "Eye sin," first step; "covetous sin," second step. What we would like to do nearly always precedes what we will ultimately do if we get the chance. My brother, like Achan of my text you and I can trace the degeneracy of our lives, if they are degenerate, by our evil thoughts, which always precede evil actions. What we think, we will ultimately speak; what we desire, we will ultimately do.

Oh, the evil sin of covetousness! Beware! Beware! Evil thoughts are only a step from evil actions. Are you not all in danger of the covetous sin? Would you tell a lie for 10 cents? "No," you emphatically answer. "No, of course not—of course not." Would you tell a lie for a little lie for $100? "No," you answer again, but not so emphatically.

Would you tell a lie for $10,000—a lie which in one sense would not hurt anybody? You look at me in a quizzical way and say, "Please don't ask me." Well, I do ask you. I ask you, not for the purpose of giving you the offer, but of finding out what is the condition of your thoughts. Achan coveted 200 shekels of silver and a wedge of gold which would have been worth at least $10,000 in our money. He coveted them, without the idea of hurting any one else, which was the sin of covetousness, which was the forerunner of other sins. Achan had to die. Beware, O man, how you allow your evil thoughts to live. Achan's "eye sin" was followed by Achan's "covetous sin." Evil thoughts will ultimately be the parents of evil actions.

But now, in following the four fatal stages of Achan's sin, we find that his third step, the "finger step"—changes him before the world from an honest into a dishonest man. No sooner does Achan hide that Babylonian garment under his soldier's cloak and hug that wedge of gold and bag of silver under his arm than before amenable, as well as God, he becomes amenable to human law. Once he was a criminal at heart, but not a criminal in act—in his own consciousness and in God's sight a thief, but before his fellow man an honest, upright man. No one knew that under that fair and respectable exterior there lurked the plunderer. It is an awful catastrophe when a man by direct sin of commission ruins the long record of what the world has regarded as an exemplary life. In the old Strassburg Cathedral there is a famous clock. There not only the time of day is told, but the eclipse of the sun and moon are calculated for all time. There you can see the twelve apostles bowing before the Saviour and hear Peter's cock crowing, after the fisherman apostle had denied Christ thrice. There are the symbols of childhood and youth and manhood and old age. It is a wonderful clock—wonderful in all its various mechanisms. But history tells us that this clock was in ruins for many, many years. It was in ruins up to 1842. When, after the first mechanic had constructed it, in a fit of rage he completely destroyed it because the magistrates of Strassburg were going to put out his eyes so that he could not build another clock like it for any other city. Thus, like the old clock builder of Strassburg, many and many a man by one sinful act can destroy all the usefulness and the work of a lifetime. Achan's first sin was his "eye step." Achan's second sin was his "heart step" or "thought step." Achan's third sin was that which drove him at once out of brotherly fellowship with man. It was his "finger step" or his sin of commission. Cannot you read the stages of progression in the words of the human tragedy, "I saw," "I coveted," "I took"? Perhaps we can translate it in even a better way: "I looked," "I desired," "I did."

But now, after the "finger step" has been committed, comes the fear and the horror. Aye, the "covetous step" may lead through an embowered garden. The buzzards may there be feathered in the gorgeous colors of a yellow breasted, black tipped oriole. The "finger step" may be a leap—a jump, an impulsive bound, but no sooner is that fourth step taken than comes the "foot step" or the stealthy fugitive step. As soon as Achan, the thief, got possession of this gold and silver and this Babylonian garment he did not know what to do with them. He could not wear the cloak; he could not spend the money; so, like a coward, he skulked away and went and hid them in his tent.

"Sin nearly always makes a coward out of a man. Achan did exactly what our first ancestor did, in the garden of Eden after he had sinned. No sooner was that forbidden fruit eaten than for Adam the heavens seemed to be overcast. He not only slunk away and hid in the thickets as a cowardly hyena would run away from the hounds, but when God called him forth he did even a meaner act than that. He turned and tried to throw the blame upon the woman by his side as he said, "Yes, I did eat, but the woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me, and I did eat." Oh, my friends, the criminal unconsciously reveals himself. The accusing voice of his conscience says, "The manliness and the nobility of his demeanor. If there is not an honest heart in a man, his face and his bearing will not be honest. The lowered eyelid, the trembling hand, the shuffling feet, the veiled face, the error of his tongue. A despicable sin always makes a coward out of a man—without an exception, always, always. Sin by its very nature is only another name for cowardice. No sooner did Achan take the gold than he ran away and hid it; no sooner do you sin against God, then, like all other sinners, you try to get as far as possible away from God.

Shall we follow on and see the end of this human tragedy?—Shall we stop and watch the twitching limbs of the Hebrew apostate, who is being stoned to death by his late comrades in arms? No, I would not for one minute have you look at the death agony and the eternal despair. Death by execution is too terrible for any human eyes to witness, unless it is our duty to witness it. To-day, I would not lead you forth to where Achan is uttering his moans; but rather would I close this sermon with this thought: Terrible as sin is in its nature and its effects, there is a divine remedy for it. God, in his infinite pity, has had compassion on the sinner and has stretched out his hand to rescue him from his ruin and his despair. Not only does he offer pardon to the sinner, but deliverance from the power of sin. "Sin," he says to all who put their trust in Christ, "shall not have dominion over you." Though, like Achan, you may have fallen under its power, if you come to Christ and put your faith in him, you shall be saved. There is salvation for you, and peace for you, and eternal life for you, through the blood of Jesus Christ who loves you and who has given his life for you in order that you might live.

TO PROVE IT APPLY THE TEST

If Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Won't Cure the Spring Fever Victim he has Something Worse than a Bad Stomach.

With the warm days comes that inclination to eat and that drowsy far away feeling that is commonly known as spring fever.

And the victim of spring fever is a general nuisance. He is dissatisfied with himself, dissatisfied with everyone else and he leaves an air of dissatisfaction wherever he goes.

Do you know what's the matter with him? His stomach is out of order! That stomach has been overworked and needs a rest.

How do you prove this? Give the spring fever victim a treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will cure him. If they don't he is troubled with something worse than a bad stomach. For no bad stomach is so bad that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure it.

The Muse—Oh, I've got fearful here on me!

The Elephant—Brace up! It might be worse. Suppose you had mine!

INSTANT RELIEF.

Mr. Robt. Jennings, Mansfield, Ont. writes: "I have used one little of Dr. Wood's Toothache Gum for severe toothache and received instant relief. Before this it acted as a splintered temporary filling." Price 10c.

Bob—Are you fond of reading, Dick?

Dick—No, I hate it; that's the reason I pretend to like it. If my mother thought I didn't like to read she'd keep me at all times.

EARACHE CURED.

Miss J. J. Johnson, Innesfall, Alta., says "I was troubled with Earache for a long time, and nothing helped me until I used Hayward's Yellow Oil, which cured me completely."

"She's running a correspondence school; teaches the secret of success." "Just like a woman to tell secrets."

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia.

Maybell—Can you keep a secret?

Elizabeth—Yes, easily. But I can't help any one else keep one.

Minard's Liniment Cures Dandruff.
