

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a brick-dust sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I tell every suffering woman about my case." Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conyers, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham gives free advice to women; address in confidence, Lynn, Mass.

THE GEOLOGY OF THE TUNNEL.

"With two or three holes bored down in to the rock, what do they know of the rock formation through which they propose to build the Tunnel?" asks an objector. Now there were not two or three holes merely, but ten holes bored along the alignment of the proposed Tunnel.

But much was known of the rock formation underlying the Straits long before the tests were made for the Tunnel in the early nineties. So long ago as 1836 Dr. Gesner had examined and reported upon the geology of this region. Again in 1847 Dr. Gesner gave further attention to the subject, confirming his previous observations.

Sir William Dawson wrote on the subject in 1854 and 1855, and again in 1871 he and Dr. Harrington reported on the geology and mineral resources of Prince Edward Island. Again in 1874 Sir William supplied a paper to the Journal of the Geological Society on the rocks in the Island.

Dr. Ellis reported on the same district to the geological Survey in 1883 and the late Francis Bain in 1885, all confirming the results of many previous examinations and reports as to the rock formation of the Island and of the adjoining portions of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

In the meantime the borings were made to ascertain the practicability of constructing the Tunnel and in May, 1893, Dr. Ellis of the Geological Survey read a paper before the Royal Society of Canada on the Geology of the Proposed Tunnel under the Northumberland Strait. That report we have now before us.

A detailed statement is given of the strata penetrated by the borer in each of these ten holes, the cores being now preserved in the Geological Museum at Ottawa. The holes were bored to a depth of from 60 to 148 feet in the rock. Eight of these holes were on the New Brunswick side of the Strait and two on the Island side. They are 500 yards apart. These borings confirm in the fullest manner the reports previously made by the eminent geologists above named.

Dr. Ellis says of the borings: "In regard to the holes bored underneath the waters of the Strait it may be remarked that there is a great similarity judging from the cores preserved in every case," as they consist of soft red sandstones and soft red clay shales, with occasionally partings of nodular limestone. The beds present the same generally horizontal position as is observed along the shores of the Mainland and of the Island opposite.

"The natural inference would be that these conditions extend uniformly throughout the whole extent of the proposed Tunnel. . . From the generally soft and uniform character of the strata thus tested there would appear to be but slight difficulty as regards their excavation."

In addition to the result of the borings along the alignment of the proposed tunnel Dr. Ellis gives the result of the borings made in 1870-77 at Mount Forrest to a depth of 400 feet, which shows the same order of alternating shale and sandstone down to the bottom of the test. In this hole there were found at the surface 15 feet of boulder-clay, while the various shale strata aggregated 60 feet and the various strata of sandstone 325 feet.

In face of such full information it is not to be wondered at that reliable contractors are ready with offers to construct the Tunnel without further exploratory tests. The most eminent geologists have declared the data sufficient, and that the proposed Tunnels not only practicable, but that the rock formation is such as to present but slight difficulty as regards excavation. Still we may expect ignorant persons to raise objections, making up in noise what is lacking in reason, and in volubility for their want of information on the subject.

Mr Full in long letter to The Patriot of Saturday makes a strong case for the Tunnel. He wants a car ferry in the meantime before the Tunnel is built. We fear, however, that an agitation for a car ferry at the present time would do harm rather than good. It would cause delay and be looked upon as an alternative for rather than as preparatory to the more important work.

MESSRS. C. C. RICHARDS & CO.
Gentlemen, My neighbor's boy 4 years old, fell into a tub of boiling water and got scalded fearfully. A few days later his legs swelled to three times their natural size and broke out in running sores. His parents could get nothing to help him till I recommended MINARD'S LINIMENT, which, after using two bottles completely cured him, and I know of several other cases around here almost as remarkable, cured by the same Liniment and I can truly say I never handled a medicine which has had as good a sale or given such universal satisfaction.

OUR REPRESENTATION CASE.

The Privy Council having decreed that in the meaning of the British North America Act it is constitutional for the Parliament of Canada to reduce the number of the Island's representatives in the House of Commons to four members, an appeal is now to be made to Parliament to take our case into consideration on grounds of equity and justice and restore to us our original quota of six members, which our people believed we were to have for all time. This appeal is embodied in a memorial, the adoption of which by our Provincial Legislature has been moved by Premier Peters and seconded by Mr. Mathieson, Leader of the Opposition. It is gratifying to find the Ministerial and Opposition parties acting in entire accord in this matter as well as in regard to improved communications with the Mainland.

The main grounds recited in the memorial in support of our case are three: (1) That it appears from the correspondence and discussions preceding the union of Prince Edward Island with Canada that our people were led to believe that our representation might be increased but could not be diminished; (2) That by the increase in the area of the Province of Quebec, the unit of measurement for purposes of representation was seriously disturbed to the detriment of P. E. Island, and (3) That by the non-fulfillment of the terms of union in regard to the means of communication with the Mainland the Dominion became directly responsible for the loss of population in this Province which has resulted in taking away two of our representatives. Each of these points is a strong one, and collectively they afford a very substantial case on which to appeal to the conscience of the Parliament and people of the Dominion.

It can harm no other province, and menace no other portion of the Dominion to restore our lost representation. It was the belief of our people, including those who agreed to the terms of union on their behalf, that we should never have less than six representatives in the Commons. It was clearly unfair and unjust to our little Province, after making Quebec the pivot Province for measuring the proportion of representation, to more than double the area of that Province as has been done, thus creating the chance of more rapid growth in population there. (This is about the equivalent of changing the size of the bushel measure between the date when a contract is made for the sale and delivery of a quantity of grain, and the time when the grain is measured.) Finally the Dominion by its admitted default in the matter of our communications with the Mainland is unmistakably the cause of our loss of population. It is doubly hard to lose all the people we have lost and our representation as well, by the fault of the Dominion. Common justice should move the Dominion to restore that which it has so wrongfully and injuriously taken away.

STRAINED BACK AND SIDE.
"While working in a saw mill" writes C. E. Kenney, from Ottawa, "I strained my back and side so severely I had to go to bed. Every movement caused me torture. I tried different oils and liniments, but wasn't helped till I used Nerviline. Even the first application gave considerable relief. In three days I was again at work. Other men in the mill use Nerviline with tremendous benefit too." An honest record of nearly fifty years has established the value of Poison's Nerviline.
