PRINCESS MARY'S WILL

Rather a Self-opinionated Young Lady is King's Daughter

Princess Mary is said to be the most determined lady in the royal household. Her Royal Highness is fast growing up, and she is forming her own circle of friends and her own manner of life.

The one point of dispute between her and the Queen is her hair. Princess Mary dislikes to have it falling about. The Queen will not allow it up, but a compromise was reached. Princess Mary usually ties it back in a small thick plait doubled up at the neck with a ribbon.

The King is amused at his daughter's strong will, which seems likely to overrule even that of the Queen's. Among her girl friends are Lady Rachel Capell, the elder daughter of the Countess of Essex; both of Lord Curzon of Kedleston's daughters, and Mrs. George Keppel's second daughter.

A very special friend of the Princess is Lady Rachel Capell, of whom both Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra are very fond.

Found Glacial Boulder

A glacial boulder, weighing something approaching ten tons, was unearthed in a sandpit on Icknield street, Birmingham, and has claimed a great deal of attention from scientists. This huge block of volcanic ash, which is authoritatively held to have made a glacial descent from the Arenig Mountains in Wales, is the largest of several discovered in the Birmingham neighborhood. Boulders of similar origin discovered during the construction of the Cotteridge Park have been suitably preserved, and a notable specimen is a familiar object in Cannon Hill Park. Professor Lapworth pronounces the huge boulder to be an exceptionally fine geological specimen.

SOUTHERN BEAN SOUP

One pint of hominy beans, 2 quarts of water, 1 onion, 1 tablespoonful of butter, 1 potato, 1 ham bone; seasoning of salt and pepper. Soak the beans in the water over night, then add the onion, sliced and fried in the butter, the ham bone, the potato, par-boiled and cut into small pieces, and seasoning of salt and pepper. Allow to simmer for five hours, skimming occasionally. Rub through a colander. Serve with croutons.

TOMATO FRITTERS

One pint of canned tomatoes, 1 tablespoonful of sugar, 1 tablespoonful of finely chopped onions, salt and pepper to taste; 2 tablespoonful of butter, 2 rounding tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, 1 egg, breadcrumbs. Rub the tomatoes through the colander and add the sugar, onion, salt and pepper. Put into a saucepan and boil up well. Blend the butter and cornstarch in another pan over the fire. Draw the tomatoes to one side and stir in the paste. Let the mixture cook for a few minutes until very thick, stirring constantly, then remove from the fire and stir in the yolk of the egg. Pour into shallow buttered pans, and when cold, cut into circles with a round biscuit-cutter. Beat up the white of the egg, brush over the rounds with it, toss in fine breadcrumbs and fry. These fritters may be fried in a frying-basket in deep fat or in a small quantity of fat in a frying-pan until they are crisp and brown on both sides. They should be served piping hot and are excellent with meats of all kinds, and especially with fish or with pork.

COCOANUT INDIAN PUDDING

One tablespoonful of chopped coconut, 2 tablespoonfuls of Indian meal, 1 tablespoonful of instantaneous tapioca, 1 cupful of molasses, 1 cupful of sugar, 1 tablespoonful of butter, 1 quart of milk, pinch of salt. Mix all the ingredients together, then pour them into a buttered, fireproof dish and bake slowly for two hours. Serve hot, with milk. If pearl tapioca is used it must be soaked overnight.
