Provincial Girl Guide Activities Are Reviewed

In view of the annual meeting of the Provincial Girl Guides Association which takes place today at The Charlottetown following report to the Canadian Council of the Girl Guides Association, Toronto, submitted by the Provincial Girl Guide Commissioner, Mrs. Gordon J. MacDonald, will prove interesting:

"Our Guiding efforts in the province have been strengthened and stimulated this past year. Decentralization has been a keynote. Leadership still remains the most pressing problem. Our province would welcome a discussion on this vital subject if possible at the Dominion Annual Meeting."

"Is our present Guide program too ambitious for today's volunteer leaders to carry out successfully? Does this factor discourage many suitable persons from undertaking leadership in Guide work?"

"Our three new Provincial Committees—Finance, Music and Hospitality, have proven most valuable additions."

"Together with Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, we have planned our first Maritimes Commissioners' Conference, to take place in Mon-ton in April.

"We have changed our Provincial Annual Meeting from fall to spring. We have instituted regular semi-annual Provincial meetings, also bi-monthly Local Association meetings."

"We reap great benefits from regular monthly Commissioners' Meetings, which are followed by Provincial Executive Meetings. Service:

"The Christmas season was celebrated by Company good turns, Christmas baskets were distributed, institutions were visited and entertained, orphanage children were entertained at Guide supper parties. On Thinking Day various companies sent food parcels to British Guides. Under the capable direction of Mrs. Morton Dew, Head of Hospitality, the Provincial Council provided hospitality for 150 Guides who attended a week-end rally in Charlottetown.

Training: "Our training efforts go forward under the efficient leadership of Mrs. C. H. Beer. Secondary Training was carried out to encourage more warranted Guides. A Provincial Second Class Rally Week-end was held in the fall. The program was under the direction of our Blue Cord Diploma'd Guide, Mrs. Harry Cudmore, and proved most instructive and inspirational. "In the larger centres, courses of instruction on the Little House Emblem badges were completed satisfactorily.

"Our Field Secretary, Mrs. F. S. Jenkins, gives most valuable assistance to all companies and packs. Regular visits and correspondence with our companies is of inestimable benefit. Several new companies and packs have been healthily established.

"Plans are now complete for Miss Atwood's visit which we enthusiastically look forward to in April. "Mrs. Beer's resignation as Head of Training is most regretfully accepted.

CAMPING, ETC.

Camping: "We are greatly handicapped in this Province as regards a sufficient number of licensed campers, and lack a permanent camp site. However, there were three wide camps held last summer. An exchange of campers between the Maritime Provinces was tried out for the first time satisfactorily. Our Camp Adviser, Miss Suzanne MacKinnon, has promoted correspondence courses on Campers' Licenses.

Films: "Films were shown to various companies through the kind co-operation of the National Film Board. Finance: "Headed by Mrs. D. M. MacGuire, our new Finance Committee, drew up a yearly budget, and requested each of our three divisions to raise their necessary allotments locally. The response has been good and we hope our objective will be finally completed by Provincial Raising Day profits gained in May. Our finance committee was faced with an extra burden when our Government grant was reduced this year.

Music: "Interest in music has been greatly stimulated through the efforts of our new music committee, who organized a Provincial Singing Competition with thirteen companies entering. The Beasborough Shield is to be awarded to the winners, namely, the 1st Central Royal Company. "Brownie Packs enthusiastically entered into a Provincial Singing Game Competition. The winners, 1st and 2nd Pack, Summerside, will receive the Reay Brownie Shield. Scout-Guide Week: "This week was suitably observed by church parades, international pageantry, and the sending of food parcels to Europe. Special features appeared each day in the press and on the radio. The week concluded with a Provincial Scouters' Ball at the Charlottetown Hotel, when the Guides were guests of their respective local associations. Lone Guides: "Lone Guides have expanded under ardent leadership. We now have three Lone Companies. A most interesting feature, the "Merry-Go-Round" has been initiated by Miss Carrie Holman, Deputy Commissioner of Lones, and Miss Elaine Harrison, Captain. This monthly letter is circulated from one member to another. Prince County Lones were entertained at a rally week-end by the neighbouring local association of Summerside when Lones received training and enjoyed games and singings.

Public Relations Commissioner, Miss Lillian Duchemin, with her committee, have completed a very full year's work—writing up special Guide events for the local press; arranging all publicity for Scout-Guide Week; and requests were sent in to members of Federal Parliament representing Prince Edward Island requesting an increased grant for Dominion Headquarters. Local Associations: "Of all groups in Guiding, those best able to help our Guides and in closest touch with them are the local associations. Our yearly re-

Drive Is Opened For P. C. Members

Voters Reminded That Party Is Only One "Untainted" By Communism

OTTAWA, April 26 — The Progressive Conservative Party has opened its "unique" national membership drive with a reminder to Canadian voters that it was the only party "untainted" by Communism, "with the Liberals wooing the C.C.F. and the C.C.F. being supported by the Communists."

The drive itself was described by Richard Bell, national director of the party, as "unique in Canadian political history."

"Membership in the party," said Mr. Bell, "is open to all who support Progressive Conservative principles. The party is a truly democratic organization, and we seek to have the largest possible number of persons actively participating in its organization and direction."

"The whole party organization from coast to coast is behind this drive, so its success is assured. It is one more indication of the now generally acknowledged fact that the party is 'on the march' to victory in 1949."

As a guide for a number of people who want to join the party and help it but are inexperienced in politics, a number of excellently prepared booklets have been released by the Ottawa offices of the party, and in one of these the people are urged to take a hand in politics. They are told, that the political parties are "your servants" also that "it's your money that is being spent." Politics, the booklet emphasizes, is not a "dirty business."

Making plain to those who want to join and help the Progressive Conservative party one booklet declares that the P. C. Party stands alone as having been "untainted by Communist support." It reminded Canadians that in the 1945 campaign the Communist party actively campaigned for Liberal candidates, and the Communists also showed favor for the C.C.F. program. "With the Liberals wooing the C. C. F." this booklet asserts, "and the C.C.F. being supported by the Communists, the Progressive-Conservative party stands alone as having been true to its principles—the principles of freedom, security and opportunity. We believe that these objectives can best be secured under a system of private competitive enterprise."

"The Progressive-Conservative Party," the booklet states, "unlike the C.C.F., is a party of all classes. It draws support from labor and management, producer and consumer, and it recognizes that each has rights—that each has responsibilities. Society cannot benefit from class war—it can progress only if we work as a team. Only a party which draws support from all walks of life can build a better Canada."

One million young Canadians vote for the first time in each Federal election, another booklet aimed at enlisting the interest of young people asserts, and three out of every seven voters are under 35 years of age.

"Any political party," it continues, "which fails to establish impressive support among this important group soon ceases to exist."

"The purpose of this booklet," it continues, "is to help young Progressive Conservatives to win these votes. They will be the most important single factor in winning the next election for the Progressive Conservative Party."

Then follows a vast amount of detailed information on how to form local organizations for the young people. Still another booklet is a helpful guide to the formation of women's organizations.

... and dollars

MADE-IN-CANADA textile goods, ranging from soft cotton diapers to tough industrial fabrics, have helped in the battle to save U.S. dollars. Modernization and expansion of plant capacity in certain key industries in Canada has meant more goods made at home, fewer to be imported. Textiles is one of those key industries. Dominion Textile, a part of the primary textile industry in Canada, is proud to have had a role to play in this important venture. The modernization of our plants which we have undertaken is part of our natural responsibility of keeping up with the times, of maintaining plants and equipment at a high level of mechanical perfection in order to increase the supply of top quality cotton goods for the consuming public and provide the best and most effective working conditions and opportunities for our employees. It is gratifying to know that following this policy has meant further assistance to the Canadian economy beyond our normal contribution of producing goods and providing jobs.
