Why Not Give Your Body A Spring House Cleaning?

It is reasonable

You stay indoors too much all winter—you breathe the foul air—you sleep in close rooms and you eat too much. In fact your winter life is pretty much artificial and unnatural.

Then why not renovate your whole system this spring.

Take a short cut to youth and energy

Nyal's Spring Tonic is the thing

Sulphur and molasses was grandmother's way. She also scrubbed her fingernails off every spring.

But Nyal's Spring Tonic is a regular up-to-date vacuum cleaner by comparison. Gives new snap and vim—puts life and spring into your muscles—makes you feel fit and ready.

If it isn't worth a dollar a bottle you can have your money back cheerfully.

SCHOOL FOUNDED FOR "ONE-ARMED MEN."

HEIDELBERG, April 27 — A "School for one-armed men," with 35 pupils from the 19th army corps, offering instruction in writing, stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping, and drawing course, and a prospective curriculum of vocational courses, has been opened here at the home of Associate Judge Lesser.

The latter has placed his home at the disposal of the unique institution, and has had it fitted out as a hospital. Thirty hours of instruction are given each week, which is to be supplemented by work under the auspices of the local industrial school. Dr. Freiherr von Kuenssberg, of Heidelberg University, is in charge of instruction.

The 35 pupils represent 31 occupations and trades, including cigar makers, railway employees, lock smiths and day laborers. All are eager to embrace the opportunity. It has been found that within only a few days the man who has lost his right arm learns to write with his left hand with considerable facility. Because of the large number of applications for admission it is planned to enlarge the school very soon.

LUST FOR GOLD IS IN THEIR HEARTS

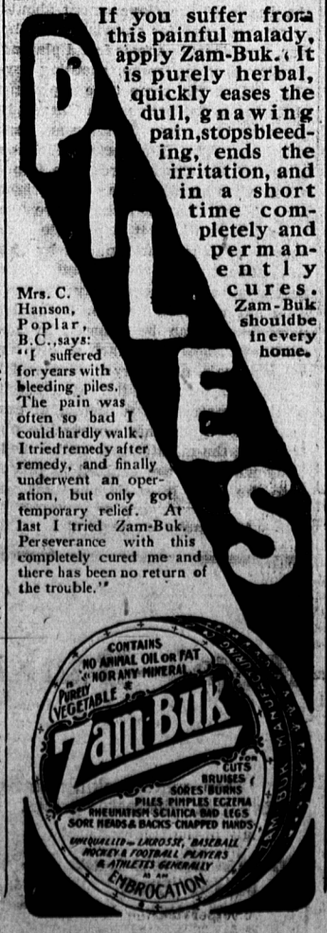
MONTREAL, April 26— "There must be such a sound, national conversion to God that the statute books of the country would show that the idea of brotherly service had found an abiding place in the life of the nation," declared Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada during the course of his baccalaureate address at St. James Methodist Church yesterday. "Balthazar when intoxicated with wine had made his idols of gold and silver and iron, but too many Canadians made these things, their idols while they were sober."

Rev. Principal Smythe conducted the service, and they were associated with him in addition to Rev. Dr. Chown, two pastors of the church and members of the theological staff of the Wesleyan Theological College, Students from that institution as well as the Governors of the College and their wives were also present.

"The desire for money as a means of power seems to dominate the people in these days," said Rev. Dr. Chown. "When the end was to concentrate the money to public service and the good of men there would be no greater calling. I have no patience with men who are trying to live today, in the earth's seedtime, without a sense of mission in their hearts.

"Every soldier has it. The Canadian soldier who sang out "The Maple Leaf Forever" just before he died, had it. The English soldier who had taken part in charges on German trenches, and who wrote home that he was living at the top of the fulness of life, had it."

The preacher finished with a strong plea to all merchants and others for each to regard his business or occupation as a public service, and if he could not do that to get out of it.



ABSTINENCE RALLY

allow them to be counted in the overwhelming majority of the thousands who would rally to the cry and example of the King and bring courage and cheer to the hearts of the men who were fighting their battles and representing Canada in Flanders and France? (Cheers.) They were not asking anyone to express an opinion on prohibition; they were not even asking anyone what his opinion on temperance might be. They were simply saying, "Here is a menace to-day that is threatening the very existence of our Empire. Are you ready to meet the abnormal conditions that exist, by means of signing this pledge to abstain from liquor as a beverage until this war is over?" There was no credit in the work they had undertaken; it was hard work, with ingratitude in return. He pointed out that the attitude of Parliament was unprecedented, and also referred to the fact that the Liberals in convention in Prince County had voluntarily moved and unanimously carried a resolution endorsing the whole scheme. (Cheers.) That meant they were prepared to sign the pledge. He suggested the holding in that hall or some other building a memorial service in which they could express their gratitude to God for the splendid sacrifices made by the sons of Canada and in which they could also express their deepest sympathy with those mourning the loss of loved ones. It was when they translated into deeds the loyalty which they expressed, that they were giving the highest possible utterance to the patriotism that, he hoped, thrilled in every heart. (Cheers.)

The Band having played the National Anthem, the meeting closed.

During the meeting pledge cards were distributed by members of the committee for signature.

came a moral movement. They hoped and prayed that the moral results would be far-reaching, but primarily the movement was purely patriotic and in the interests of the Empire. The province was in a sense not very far from the scene of conflict and the United Kingdom really had no deeper interest in this question than had this province. The gulf between labour and capital in the Old Country was so great that it was hard for Canadians to understand; yet the employer of labour in the United Kingdom had said he was not only willing to abstain but to take care that there should be no consumpion of any kind of liquor in his home or business. The question was not pre-eminently a moral question; it was not a question for preachers, as such. It was a question for the State; a question for the politicians; a question for every individual, who had any realisation of what citizenship meant and what citizenship involved. Why should the King, whom they so honoured, send out a message to this province asking what was being done in connection with the total abstinence movement, unless he felt that every part of the Empire was called upon to make some sacrifice? And how would he know, or the authorities know, what was being done here unless they appended their names to the pledge cards and

SPRING'S WORK IN CHARLOTTETOWN

The City Engineer, Mr J. P. Nicholson, and his staff of workmen have been exceptionally busy this spring. A great deal of repair work on streets has been done and over one hundred tons of stone have already been used in this line of work. The streets were cleaned last fall and the dust nuisance, with the exception of one or two days, has not been nearly so great as in past years. When the motor sprinkler arrives, which it is expected will be some time in May, it is hoped that this nuisance will be further very greatly minimised.

A berth for filling the water tank of the new sprinkler with salt water is being built at Pownal Wharf and will no doubt be a great convenience.

The sanitary tubs have all been placed, and the stand pipes for filling the sprinklers all erected.

It is expected that the electric lighting wires on the Park roadway will be placed underground, thus making it more safe and sightly.

A large amount of macadam work will be done this year, with all the stone which will be available.

Work on sewers on Euston Street will be proceeded with just as soon as material arrives. Tenders were called last year for this work, but as none came in, the city has decided to do the work itself, and this will give quite a lot of work to city workmen.

These improvements are only a fraction of what is, and will be done; so that His Worship the Mayor, the City Council and Chief Engineer Nicholson are to be congratulated on the attention which they are giving to civic affairs.

POINCAIRE'S WORDS TO HIS SOLDIERS.

PARIS, April 27—President Poincare and Minister of War Millerand spent Saturday evening, Sunday and part of today inspecting the armies operating in the Oise and the Aisne, and on the lines north of the L'Aigle Forest. In the presence of General Joffre and General Dubois the president presented flags to new regiments which are being formed. The president also delivered an address to the men, saying:

"Officers and soldiers: I bring to your new formations the cordial salute of the nation. Recruited at the same time from the regions of the north, centre and Midi, your regiments reflect in their constitution the close solidarity of diverse portions of the country. Composed of young and old they bring together intimately, in the same duty and with the same hope of success, two generations, and show by stirring example that the unity of France is as indestructible in time as it is in space. In the name of this France, indivisible and immortal, I confide to you these flags, which hereafter will be your rallying sign, and will soon lead you to victory.

"Keep your eyes fixed on these three colors. They are the emblem of military honor and national independence; they symbolize all that you have today to safeguard or to revenge by arms—your native land, still sullied by the impotent rage of an enemy, already paralyzed before being defeated, your homes, to which, with glory, you will one day return to your fathers, your mothers, your wives, your children, who, with calm courage are supplanting you in the works, in the fields and in the shops, and also to those provinces which have been torn from us by violence, and which await their liberation; the great past of France, of which you are the worthy heirs, and the sacred trust of our traditions, and the future of our civilization.

"The splendid army, to which you are going to take your places, knows that it is fighting for the salvation of France and the liberty of the world. It is a very clear perception of this noble mission which has given it such sturdy faith and such sublime spirit.

"Go, my friends. Increase the number of those heroes, and receive herewith the best wishes of our general-in-chief, my grateful admiration and the felicitations of the government of the republic."

Kidney Disease Cured Sworn Statement

OF MR. WESLEY MAXWELL, WHO GRATEFULLY GIVES ALL CREDIT TO DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

It is one thing to make big claims for a medicine and quite another thing to produce irrefutable evidence that it actually cures in serious cases.

We prefer to let the cured ones speak for themselves, and that is why you find in almost every newspaper the report of someone who has been cured by the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. Today we present the sworn statement of Mr. Wesley Maxwell. When a man goes to this trouble in expressing his gratitude there can be no question of the benefit he has received. Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Orangeville, Ont., writes: "I have been using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and I must tell you that before I started using them I could only make water with the greatest difficulty, and had very severe pains in the back. I am completely cured now by the use of these pills. Before that I used a lot of doctors' medicines without any benefit that I could see. I am thankful for being cured, and can recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills very highly."

SWORN STATEMENT.

"This is to certify that I, Wesley Maxwell, of the Township of Caledon, was cured of kidney trouble by taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

"Wesley Maxwell."

(Sworn before me as correct this 6th day of January, 1915.—Wm. Hawkins, Sen. Justice of the Peace.)

This statement is also endorsed by the Rev. Geo. W. Robinson, who is Mr. Maxwell's pastor.

This cure will interest a great many people who are suffering as Mr. Marwell was with kidney and urinary troubles. It will only cost you a quarter to buy a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and put this medicine to the test. We are sure that you will be thankful to the writer for describing his cure to you. For sale at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
