SOURIS EXHIBITION A BIG SUCCESS

Large Attendance and a Splendid Exhibit of Agricultural and Household Products.

Excellent weather favoured the eastern part of the province yesterday for the Souris Exhibition and full advantage was taken of the occasion by the people of the surrounding sections and by many from a distance. From the point of view of attendance the exhibition was perhaps the best yet held in this busy eastern town, while in number of entries and quality of exhibits it was unquestionably the best.

As at Charlottetown the cattle exhibit attracted special attention the animals, practically without exception being an exceptionally fine lot showing that the farmers in this section also recognize the value of good selection in breeding and have greatly profited thereby in the past few years. There were both pure bred and grades of the leading breeds. The horses also made a creditable showing while sheep and hogs were pronounced ahead of any previously shown.

The roots and vegetables made an excellent showing and were very tastefully and conveniently arranged for inspection. The exhibits of celery, onions, tomatoes and pumpkins were on an average fully equal to those shown at the provincial exhibition, while the ripe tomatoes were if anything superior.

In butter and cheese the number of entries was not large but in appearance and evident quality they were very good. Perhaps the most attractive and certainly one of the most interesting to visitors was the household science department. In this department the ladies of Eastern Kings' did themselves proud. Bread of every variety, cake, biscuit, preserves, etc., were shown in abundance and made a splendid showing. In textiles also there was a large and creditable exhibit, including socks, mitts, blankets, rugs and fancy work.

About 30 went up from Charlottetown, including Prof. Shaw, Department of Agriculture, who acted as judge of live stock and vegetables. The prize list will appear later.

COL. H. D. JOHNSON LEAVING CITY

Here for a Few Days Previous to Removing to Ottawa Where He will Reside in Future.

Charlottetown is losing one of its most public spirited citizens, one of its most patriotic inhabitants and a man who has always been a potent factor for public welfare when Colonel (Dr.) H. D. Johnson, C. A. M. C. leaves Friday to take up permanent residence in Ottawa.

Col. Johnson volunteered for overseas service at the outbreak of war but through delay in organizing the medical divisions he did not leave until Monday, July 19th, 1915, when he left for England and was on the Moore Barracks staff for some time. Later he organized the famous Buxton military hospital, and was in command for some time and there was joined by Major V. L. Goodwill.

The Colonel then spent over seven months in France having charge of the Supply Depot for the 2nd Canadian army. The Colonel is too modest to mention this himself but the fact is that his office was the headquarters for all medical supplies, and in fact everything in the clinical line for all the Canadian hospitals at the front.

After returning from his furlough which he spent at his home here, last December, Colonel Johnson was appointed medical director of the famous Perkins Bull Hospital, for Canadian officers only, situated on the great Perkins Bull estate on Putney Heath. The hospital staff there included two surgeons and twelve nurses and of course the only cases treated were casualties among the Canadian officers at the front.

During the Colonel's regime at Perkins Bull Hospital the new medical service headquarters was established in Ottawa, and his superior officer and close friend, Major-General John T. Fotheringham, C. M. G. then A. D. M. S. 2nd Canadian Division in France was appointed Director General of Medical Service, and came back to Ottawa, where he took up headquarters.

Shortly afterwards Colonel Johnson was appointed first assistant to the Director General and came to Ottawa early last May, where he has been up to now and will be for the future.

Charlottetown is indeed honored in having one of its citizens in the councils of those who are directing Canada in her glorious part in the great world war.

Colonel Johnson is a veteran of the South African war and has been decorated with the A. S. A. medal with three clasps and the Colonial Officers Decoration for gallant work in that war. For a number of years he was officer commanding the 9th Field Ambulance and Army Medical Corps here, which he organized and developed into a high state of efficiency.

NO SPECIAL VOCATION WILL BE EXEMPT FROM MILITARY SERVICE

OTTAWA, October 2.—No special vocation will receive exemption when men are called to the colors under the Military Service Act. In Great Britain certain occupations were certified, and a man so occupied received conditional exemption. But, while condition—i. e. exemption granted so long as the man remains at a specified occupation—may be granted by a local tribunal in Canada, there will be no trades or occupations granted exemption as a whole. This decision, it is understood, has been definitely reached, and local tribunals will be guided by it.

SELDOM SEE U-BOATS ON THE NORTH SEA

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—"You read a great deal about the submarine menace," said Lieut. N. Kirkup, surgeon of H.M.S. Marmion, somewhere in the North Sea. Dr. Kirkup is home here on leave. "Perhaps you will be surprised if I tell you that for more than three and four months at a time we never catch sight of one over there. Life on the North Sea is more monotonous than thrilling. The base of the Grand Fleet is in such a desolate spot on the north coast that when one does get a chance to go ashore he does not see very much that will liven the monotony. Still, after eighteen months constantly on the sea it is good to get ashore."

the corps having received high praise from all military inspectors and having the honor of being the first called upon when the Val Cartier camp was organized.
