

A Terrible Cough.

If people would only treat coughs and colds in time with Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, there would be fewer homes desolate. The severest coughs and colds, bronchitis and croup, and the first stages of consumption yield readily to this powerful, lung-healing remedy. Read what Mrs. Thos. Carter, Northport, Ont., says: "I caught a severe cold, which settled on my throat and lungs, so that I could scarcely speak above a whisper. I also had a terrible cough which my friends thought would send me to my grave. I tried different remedies but all failed to do me any good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and the contents of one bottle completely cured me."

THE TELEGRAPH SERVICE.

In the pitiful plea put forward by the Anglo-American people that Charlottetown is a small place, and therefore not entitled to a night service, they purposely avoid the serious fact that the closing of the office here shuts out the entire Province with its 110,000 people from communication with the rest of the world during 12 hours of the 24. Another point that has not been made as prominent as it ought to have been is that in addition to the large subsidy the Company receives from the Dominion they have, outside of Charlottetown offices supplied them by the Government, with fire and light, all free of charge, and the operations paid by the Government as well. Of course the Company's wires are used for the Railway business. Now, can any one think of any other private or corporate enterprise which has been so pup-fed and fattened by the Government, and which yet denies the people the common telegraph facilities enjoyed by people in every civilized country of the world?

The revelations made in the East Queens election trial could not be commented upon in the press while the matter was before the Court. Now that judgment has been given, the conditions and conduct disclosed in the testimony are open for public discussion and we shall deal with them to-morrow. In the meantime our readers will have before them the strong but just deliverances of the Judges who presided.

Saturday Minute Guns.

At 15 minutes to four the first minute gun was fired at Fort Edward and almost at the same instant the fire bell in the tower of the City Hall tolled the requiem of Victoria the Good. The salute of 81 guns was fired by a detachment of No. 2 Co., C. A. under command of Lieut. A. G. Peake. The following composed the detachments:

On Friday evening Col. Moore received instructions that all flags remain at half mast until Tuesday morning.

The many friends of Mr. John Bentley, Upper Queen street, will regret to learn that when returning to his home from church on Saturday morning, he fell on the sidewalk breaking his leg.

In order not to conflict with Chaplain Lane's lecture tonight, and with other public events advertised for Tuesday and Wednesday, the postponed meeting of the Natural History and Antiquarian Society is further postponed until next Thursday evening.

ELECTION TRIAL OF MARTIN VS MCKINNON

FRIDAY, Feb. 1.

Court met at 11. Examination of John McKinnon of Black River resumed. He could not tell who told him to go to Angus McDonald's. He knew Angus McDonald but had not entered his store. He took the brandy out some days before the election, but would not say how much he used on election day. He might have used it on the electors of both sides. He saved two or three bottles. He knew James McCallum. He knew of two McCallums, James and James G. (not the James now in Court.) There was a crowd on the road and James McCallum was among the number. He might have been in the crowd when the liquor was passed around. Mr. Stewart—Who were there? Objected to by Dr. Pagsley but allowed by the Court.

Mr. Stewart—Whom did you treat? Witness—He treated considerable. He remembered the crowd.

Mr. Stewart—Whom did you treat? Dr. Pagsley objected but question was allowed.

He treated Peter McCallum. Mr. Stewart—Who else was there? Objected to by Dr. Pagsley because it was outside the ground covered by particular 42.

Mr. Justice Hodgson allowed the question saying, It is a mode of proving the allegation in the 42 particular.

Mr. Justice Fitzgerald spoke in favor of disallowing the question on the ground that it was outside the 42 particular. He however, following the procedure in England, bowed to the opinion of Mr. Justice Hodgson who is his senior on the Bench.

Mr. Stewart—Whom did you treat? Witness—Treated Adam Johnson and Jas. A. Shaw. He did not use all of the nine bottles on election day. Would not swear whether he treated Jas. McCallum or not. Jas. John on treated himself out of whiskey which was in his (witness's) possession. He took a bottle a day or two before election. On the day before election he drew the cork for him. He knew Wm. Johnson, but could not say whether he gave him a drink or not. Johnson came to his house so drunk he could hardly get out of the sleigh. He supposed he gave him a drink after he had his dinner. He saw him before on the day of election passing along the road. He spoke to him but did not tell him to come back to his place. He did not ask him (McCallum) to vote. He did not ask Wm. Roberts how he was going to vote but he might have given him a drink. Most likely he did. He did not know where he treated, but thought it was somewhere on the road. It was in Roberts' wagon. He could not tell where the treating took place. He got out of his own carriage and got into Roberts' carriage. He could not tell who did the treating. Roberts treated him and most likely he treated Roberts. He never treated William Johnson. Johnson's brother might have given him a drink. He did not give Johnson a bottle—he took it. He got no money. No man told him to go to the office. He went up. His friends were around they were not his neighbors. Donald McMillan was there.

Justice Fitzgerald told witness that his opinion was that he (witness) was positively evading Mr. Stewart's question.

Witness—Bruce Leitch was there. Chas. Carter was also there. He was not talking to Jas. McMillan on the street. He saw two or three go up the stairs. He thought James Johnson was one of the number. He followed them up stairs thinking that it was a likely place to get liquor. He was looking for liquor. No one told him to go to office. He stated positively he did not know whether it was McKinnon's office or not. He was never in the office before or since. There was no organization or committees in his poll. He did not receive a circular letter from Mr. McKinnon. He did not talk to Bruce Leitch yesterday.

Cross-examined by Dr. Pagsley.—He had no reason whatever to suppose he was in Mr. McKinnon's office. He heard there was liquor on both sides.

Mr. Stewart objected to the question. Witness knew there was liquor on Martin's side. He did not want to interfere with Blair McMillan because he was a friend of his. McMillan drove Mr. Martin around and had canvassed him. He did not canvass Mr. Roberts who had voted before he saw him. William Johnson was very full and he (McKinnon) took charge of his horse. He did not ask Adam Johnson for his vote. He did not canvass Shaw. There was a dozen of bottles there. They had a very fine time. Mr. Martin's men had not as good a quality of liquor. The consumers seemed to get drunk more readily. Mr. Blair McMillan was on active work for Mr. Martin. Robert Roberts was also very active—all joking from the effects of liquor. He had one drink of Mr. Martin's liquor. After having a drink with one of Mr. Martin's men it was decided that he (McKinnon) had the best quality of liquor. He did not wish to tell the name of the man with whom he had the drink. He heard that Mr. Martin's friends had a meeting at Blair McMillan's house.

Re-examined by Mr. Stewart—Would not swear that Mr. Martin had a meeting at Bruce McMillan's house.

Angus Campbell—Sworn and examined by Mr. McLean.—He lived at Traadie and voted at Bedford.

Mr. Justice Fitzgerald here asked Mr. McLean to be more courteous to the Court and to tell what charge he was going on with before he examined the witness. Mr. McLean apologized and said he understood that it was intimated to the Court what charge was now to be taken up. Mr. Peters (aside) "You never tell anyone the number of the charge." Witness resumed. He voted at last Dominion Election at Bedford poll. He met Mr. McKinnon once during the campaign about a mile from his place. It was in Norman McDonald's field. Peter Brodie was with Mr. McKinnon. Both were in the one wagon when they drove away. He spoke to Mr. McKinnon for a moment. He (McKinnon) asked him if he was going to vote for him. He (Campbell) said he would see on election day. There was no other conversation. He saw Brodie afterwards, he thought it was on election day.

Mr. McLean—What took place on election day?

Witness—Nothing much. Mr. McLean—Did anything take place between you and Brodie on election day? Dr. Pagsley—He said nothing about Brodie.

Mr. Justice Fitzgerald—Now Dr. Pagsley I do object to that kind of interruption. Dr. Pagsley—May the stenographer

Choice Table Codfish

—FOR SALE AT—

P. MONAGHAN'S

CROCKERY STORE.

You are missing a great treat for breakfast if you do not try our table codfish. They are fine—the real genuine article. When held to the light they appear almost as transparent as china, so carefully cured are they. Most people nowadays to save time and labor, sell you boxed and pre-iced fish, called boneless fish. The old fashioned article beats it all hollow. This lot we now have on hand is exceptionally fine and are delicious any way you cook them.
