BRITISH BARLEY CROP UP

LONDON, Oct. 10.—(CP)—Sir John Russel, director of Rothamsted Experimental Station, Harpenden, estimates that because of increased acreage Britain's barley crop this year should be well over 1,000,000 tons. It was 742,000 tons last year. Utilities and foods were the weakest of the industrial groups. Senior oil was down slightly and the banks, papers and steel held firm to strong. Bell Telephone recovered an early loss of a point. C.P.R. preferred a fraction up and Ford A and Loblaw B had small gains. The Abitibi issues gained slightly. Several issues, including International Metals, Canada Cement and Steadman Bros, dropped a point or more. Adjustments in the western oil group were insignificant, except for a loss of a point to 21 for Royal Dutch. Home Oil weakened 2 cents to 1.90 and Vermilata, Brown and Pacalita were down slightly.

SOO LOCKS, VITAL TO INDUSTRIAL EAST

Lack Security Given Panama Canal

Shipping Link On Great Lakes Needs Defenses

BY WILLIAM A. BAKER, JR. NEA Special Correspondent SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. Oct. 10.—The Soo locks are a vital link in America's shipping life-line on the Great Lakes. They carry a greater annual tonnage than the Suez Canal, almost twice the tonnage of the Panama Canal. They are on the border of a belligerent country—Canada—and lie on the flank of the industrialized peninsula of Ontario, the most likely objective of any bomber. Disruption of shipping through the Soo locks would seriously handicap defense industries in the United States' vital triangle—the area bounded by New York, Detroit, Chicago, and Kansas City.

NO DEFENSES AGAINST AIR ATTACK

Elaborate and costly defenses are being erected at the Panama Canal, yet no specific provisions for defense against air assault were included in recent improvements at the Sault Ste. Marie municipal airport. Neither have there been defense measures at Fort Brady, U. S. regular army post which provides the protective guard for the American Canal. Some of Fort Brady's guns have incidentally been converted into anti-aircraft weapons by motorized equipment permitting them to be swung at an angle of 70 degrees. New material includes weapon and ammunition carriers for 16 heavy machine guns, two 50-caliber anti-tank machine guns and Sweetheart", a dainty lunch was served by the ladies. The remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse and dancing, music being furnished by Mr. Walter MacJure, Brackley.

FAREWELL GATHERING

On the evening of September 30, the Women's Institute of New Haven, together with a number of their friends, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McManus, for the purpose of tendering them an expression of respect and goodwill on the occasion of their departure from their native district to reside in Charlottetown. After a cordial reception on the part of the host and hostess, Mrs. Chis Terney, on behalf of the Women's Institute announced the object of the meeting, and an address was read by Mrs. Alton Newman. Mr. and Mrs. McManus replied in a few appropriate words, thanking the Women's Institute for their kindly regards and the honor they had done them, and assured them of their kindly regards for the Women's Institute, and all other residents of their native district among whom it had been their lot to spend many happy years, and for whose welfare they would always remain the best of wishes. Following the address a pretty and useful gift was presented by Mrs. Brewer Boyle, after which all present sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Music and dancing followed. Later a delicious luncheon was served by the ladies. After a few more hours of social intercourse, the party departed for their homes with fond "good-byes" and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. McManus.
