QUEER SUPERSTITIONS

Some curious conclusions have been reached as the result of what are called the "preferred numbers" of the inhabitants of different countries, says an exchange. The basis of the investigations had to do with the various denominations of money, postage stamps and other mediums of value.

It appears that nearly all races evince a marked preference for the numbers two, three and five and their multiples. The Mohammedans, however, avoid the use of the number three. Among the French and other Latin peoples two and five are more popular than three, while the English prefer two and three and the Germans three and five.

The Chinese are said to resemble the Latins in their choice while the peoples of India have a strong liking for two. The number seven is most used in the Slavic countries. The higher numbers are not much used except in Spanish speaking countries, as eleven in Salvador, seventeen in Mexico, nineteen in Spain. The people of Hawaii are said to be fond of thirteen.

What it Costs You to Do Without a Renfrew

SELLING butter-fat at now-a-day's price is like selling gold out of a mine on your farm. Imagine the owner of rich gold quartz extracting the gold with a machine chosen for its cheapness! One man chose an ordinary cream separator for its low price. Pretty soon the bowl wobbled, gears rattled. The women complained about the high supply tank, the toilsome cleaning and the hard running. Inside of two or three years that man was convinced of the folly of "saving" money on a cheap separator.

Save yourself this costly experience by investigating the

Renfrew CREAM SEPARATOR

First step is to find out what your present separator is really doing for you. Just send a sample of your skimmed milk to any government dairy school for a Babcock test. We gladly welcome this "skim-the-skim-milk" test.

When you get the result compare it with the Renfrew record; the Renfrew

Gets 99.99% of the Butter Fat (Results Confirmed by Dairy Schools' Tests)

We know by experience that you will more than likely discover a costly leak in your butter fat profits with your old machine.

Take your pencil and figure the loss on your herd for a year. Won't it pay you to know what it costs you to do without a Renfrew?

And what does it cost you if you want to increase your herd considerably to replace an ordinary separator—or to stand the losses of an overtaxed machine? The Renfrew's exclusive interchangeable capacity feature gives you the full and complete advantage of a new machine by simply changing the bowl and fittings.

Write for our new folder, the "Big Five," and get full details of our exclusive wide open bowl, self oiling system, convincing endurance features, easy running, low supply tank, etc., etc. Send the postal card to-day.
