The flowers which have been granted an unusually long season in which to put forth blossoms are still to be seen flowering beautifully in many sheltered nooks here and there and bear silent tribute to the wonderful Autumn weather which has prevailed for a number of weeks.

On Thursday evening October 17th Miss Grace Gray gave a very interesting lecture in Victoria Hall sponsored by the local Women's Institute. Her subject was on "How to Stretch the Food Dollar" a very important subject these days. There was a goodly number of the ladies of Victoria present also a number from Crapaud, who listened with capt. attention to the splendid discourse given by Miss Gray. It's being her first visit to Prince Edward Island she was greatly pleased with what she has already seen of it and hopes to enjoy her lecture tour which takes her to several other interesting points during her stay of two or more weeks on the Island. At the close of the lecture a delicious lunch was served by the Institute Ladies.

Mr. Norman Boulter, Victoria received the sad news last week of the death in Plainfield, New Jersey, of his uncle Mr. Benjamin Boulter. The late Mr. Boulter who was a well educated, gifted Christian gentleman was engaged for many years in ministerial work at The Bible Institute where he resided and his rather sudden death will no doubt be a great loss to all who were associated with him there, and also to his many relatives in Victoria and Tryon where he was well and favourably known. He spent a very pleasant vacation in Victoria a year ago this past summer at the home of his nephew Mr. Norman Boulter and before regrets are much expressed that they shall never again welcome this kindly man to their home for to know him was to admire him for his many fine traits of character. To the bereaved relatives, friends and neighbors the sympathy of the people of this community is extended. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord they do rest from their labours but their works do follow them.

FACIALS NEED KEEPING UP

We frequently hear women complain that the trouble with this or that beauty practice is the need to keep it up. Facials are invariably a case in point.

"If facials are to be of any value," women say with a shrug, "you have to keep them up."

Of course you do. But what is there that a woman does to improve her looks which doesn't have to be "kept up"? Manicures have to be. Else nails go to pieces.

Hair that isn't washed and set regularly suffers as sad a plight. Make-up is applied every day by the woman who is particular about the way she looks.

So why should facials—needed by every woman who wants to keep the marks of age off her skin—be expected to escape a routine of regularity any more than other beauty practices?

The care of the skin—which is what a facial is—should be considered as important by the older woman as a regular manicure, make-up and shampoo-and-set.
