To live even passively for 69 years is an achievement which not very many enjoy, but to live through 69 years of active competition for the very business which means life itself with thousands of younger concerns being engaged in that competition, but failing to keep our pace, is one of the proud records of R. T. Holman Limited today.

Above the Summerside store you will see flying today the house flag of Holman's, the largest small town store in the world, this week celebrating its 69th Anniversary.
