FORTY YEARS EDITOR.—Hon. Robert Drummond, editor and proprietor of the "Maritime Mining Record," published at Stellarton, N.S., completed forty years of continuous occupancy of the editorial chair of that paper in the current issue. Mr. Drummond gives an interesting account of some of his trials and tribulations, and concludes: "Forty years in a long time for one to occupy the same position, one which carries no pension, so, possibly, it may be time—unless one makes up his mind to see it through, come what may—to be on the outlook for a job where one is not compelled to not only act as editor, but managing director, secretary, accountant, paymaster, cashier, and office boy." Hon. Robert Drummond was born in Greenock, Scotland, nearly eighty years ago. At the age of twenty-five he came to Nova Scotia and interesting himself in brick making and coal mining. In 1879 he started the "Trades Journal," changing the name to the "Mining Record" in 1888. In 1894 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council and for two years from 1899 and 1900 he was mayor of Stellarton.

PRICE OF CARS ADVANCING.—Owing to various factors like coal and steel strikes which have made a shortage of materials automobile factories are running short on production this year. Some local dealers received word yesterday that their allotment of cars would be cut down 20 per cent. Other dealers received word yesterday of a raise in price. In one particular car the advance was $200.00. The best authorities say that cars are due for an advance all along the line and that owing to shorter labor hours and higher wages paid to labor that cars will never again be sold at the prices prevailing today. There is another factor, and that is the foreign demand for American and Canadian built cars. Japan and the Far East, Great Britain, France, Australia and other countries are buying cars as fast as they can get shipping facilities and deliveries.

After the marriage the young couple drove to the home of the bride's parents, Long Creek where a reception was held, followed by a sumptuous supper in the dining room, being beautifully decorated for the occasion. The gifts numerous and costly including a number of checks testified to the popularity of the young couple. Misses Sentner will reside in Charlottetown where the groom is engaged in business. Their friends all join in wishing them a happy voyage through life.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION: A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lowther on Friday, December 19th, when about sixty neighbors and friends gathered to bid farewell before their departure to their new home in Cornwall, and also to remember them by a suitable gift which consisted of a handsome bookcase and writing desk combined. After the company were called to order Mr. Hermas Myers read the following address, which was very suitably replied to by Mr. Lowther. The following is the address: To Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lowther. We are met together here tonight to express the regret that we feel at the thought of your departure from among us. Perhaps while the "even flow of life moved calmly on" we did not appreciate you enough but it made us fully realize what your loss meant to us individually and as a district when we learned of your intention to remove to another part of the province. You have ever been a true friend and neighbor, one whose word was as good as his bond and ever ready to give a helping hand both in times of need and in the business interests of the community. Mrs. Lowther too, has endeared herself to all by her many acts of kindness for those in trouble found that she spoke in deeds not words. We shall miss the bright faces of your children and our wish is that they may fulfill the rich promise of their young lives. The ladies having brought baskets, then served a very dainty lunch which could not be surpassed and of which the ladies of North Carleton are noted for. We wish you now to accept this gift not for its value but as a slight remembrance from your friends here. We wish you and your family health and strength and that you may have many years of happiness in your new home. May He, we trust surround you with many loving friends to cheer. While yet you keep the memory green And trusting thus we say God-speed; And God be with you all the way. That, sometimes rough and sometimes smooth Leads upward to the eternal day, Your friends and neighbors. The rest of the evening was spent with music and social chat, while the young people enjoyed themselves with games. After bouncing the host, the company dispersed to their homes.
