PEACE CONFERENCE BEING DELAYED

Believed Deliberately by Turks to Gain Time.

(Canadian Press) BELGRADE, Dec. 20.—Newspapers here believe that the Turks are deliberately delaying the proceedings of the peace conference at London to gain time to reorganize their army and start anew. The papers demand that the allies force the Turks to immediately make peace or resume hostilities. D-Javid Pasha, commander of the seventh Turkish army corps, who retreated towards Gorizia after the defeat at Monastir, sent a special delegate to the Serbian headquarters to state that his men are suffering from plague and diphtheria. He made the request that the 200 portions of serum be sent him. The Serbian chief of staff ordered the request to be complied with.

(Canadian Press) LONDON, Dec. 20.—The devious processes of diplomacy advancing towards a solution of the Balkan trouble are at a snail's pace. The definite achievement today was that the agreement by the ambassadors of the six great powers that their governments would accept the principle of the Albanian autonomy and guarantee Serbia a port in Adriatic.

The ambassadorial conference then adjourned till Xmas holidays are over. The sublime ruse has empowered its enjoyers to conclude the Greek delegates in their negotiations for peace. A courier with these instructions is expected here tomorrow. In the meantime despatches from Constantinople say the Turks will not sign the armistice with the Greeks but will continue fighting while discussing peace.

(ROME, Dec. 19.—In a brilliant speech which was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause, Marquis Di San Giuliano, the foreign minister, today replied in the chamber of deputies to those who criticized the renewal of the Triple Alliance. The minister eulogized the Triple Alliance, which, he said, had been for 30 years the strongest guarantee for peace of the whole of Europe. It had permitted Italy to achieve wonderful progress despite innumerable difficulties, both internal and external, and it was one of the principal factors in the great economic advancement, and by more closely wielding the interests of the civilized world and making them more independent, it constituted a new and powerful obstacle to a great war not determined by the supreme necessities of national existence and dignity.

It was eminently able, he continued, to guarantee the interests of the three nations party to it in the Balkans, but it must give support, not only at the present time, but in the future. Each ally must be of the conviction that it could depend on the support, tomorrow, of the others in return for what it did for them today. That must be an essential element in the efficiency of the alliance. Therefore, he maintained, the experience of thirty years and the exigencies of the present situation justifies the renewal of the triple alliance. Turning to its bearing on the Albanian question, the foreign minister said that Italy and Austria, whose mutual relations are to-day most intimate and cordial and who are the two powers most interested in preserving the situation of a footing of equality and liberty in the Adriatic have been able to agree on the fundamental outlines of the solution.

H. M. S. NATAL CRUISER CHOSEN

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Directly the offer of the Malay States was received in London reports became current that the gift was undoubtedly due to pressure of the home government. An official despatch sent to the colonial office by Sir Arthur Young, high commissioner of the Malay States, is therefore particularly opportune. In the words of the Sultan of Perak, the offer was made as a demonstration of loyalty and gratitude for the protection given by Great Britain to the Malay States and the prosperity the states had attained owing to the protection. The gift is to supplement the official naval program and the admiralty is to decide whether the vessel shall be a first-class battleship or a first-class armored cruiser. Sir Arthur Young repudiates the suggestion that the home government had practically brought pressure to bear on the Malay States to contribute to the navy. The offer, he emphasizes, was entirely the result of a suggestion by the rulers of the states and by the chief secretary of the states were not perhaps assisting to an extent commensurate with their prosperity to the defense of the empire.

COUNSEL PLEADS FOR UNION OFFICIALS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 19.—Upon the McNamara Brothers and Orville McMangal "the confessed dynamiters," who in the name of the Labor Unions, committed crimes against which civilization revolts, but in which Labor Unions took no part, Chester H. Krum, arguing to the jury in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today, rested the responsibility for the series of explosions which the forty defendants are charged with having caused. Mr. Krum, associated with United States senator John W. Kern, as counsel for the defense, told the jury that the Government had failed to show that President Frank M. Ryan and other officials of the Iron Workers Union had violated the Federal statute prohibiting the carrying of explosives on passenger trains, and that the Government had based its charges principally upon the admissions of the dynamiters. "It is natural that you jurors," said Mr. Krum, "who have heard the trial for the series of explosions which the forty defendants are charged with having caused. The Government has characterized James B. McNamara, the destroyer of human life at Los Angeles, as a degenerate. What in the name of God shall we call John J. McNamara? If he isn't a paranoiac there never was one. Think of how, in the name of the Union labor, he directed the crime which hurled human beings and property all into one red burial. We regret that any such condition could have been brought about in a civilized community. Mr. Krum told the court that the statute of limitation had run against some of the acts charged, Judge Anderson interrupted him, saying: "You tell that to the Jury and I shall instruct the Jury it is not the law."

BADLY BURNED GIRL SUCCUMBS

Little Brother Attempts to Save But Failed.

(Canadian Press) ST. JOHN, Dec. 20.—During the absence of the mother, Viola, little daughter of Herbert N. and Mrs. Logan, was badly burned to-day and succumbed to the injuries during the afternoon. The mother was absent only a short time, having gone to a nearby store to make some purchases, leaving the little girl and a two-year-old brother alone in the house at the time. Viola is thought to have ignited a stick in front of the stove. Her clothing took fire. The little brother evidently made an attempt to help his sister as he was found to have received some severe burns on the hands.

MALAY STATES' GIFT TO NAVY

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Dec. 19.—The British armored cruiser Natal was moored this morning alongside the jetty in the dock yards in readiness to convey the body of the late Ambassador Whitelaw Reid from England to America after the great memorial service has been held at Westminster Abbey on Friday. A host of carpenters and decorators immediately on the vessel's arrival started on the construction of a mortuary chapel on the quarter deck in which the coffin will rest during the voyage. The warship will sail early on Saturday and naval honours will be paid to the dead ambassador as the cruiser puts to sea. She will fly her colors at half mast throughout the voyage.

BURIED WITH A KING'S HONORS

MUNICH, Bavaria, Dec. 19.—The body of the late Prince Regent of Bavaria was carried this morning to its sepulchre beneath the altar of the Church at Theatins in this city, where it was laid beside that of King Maximilian II. The German Emperor, King of Saxony, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent of Austria-Hungary, and a number of princes representing the royal houses of Europe, followed the coffin in the procession which passed through streets crowded with silent mourners. All the time the procession was on the way to the church and also during the service minute guns were fired and the church bells throughout the city were tolled. Although during his life the aged prince regent had declined to accept the royal title because, he said, the real king was still living but unable to rule on account of insanity, Bavaria treated the dead Emperor with king's honors. The funeral was conducted with all the ritual employed in the case of dead Bavarian sovereigns, including the escort of the coffin in mediaeval costumes, while the coffin was accompanied by cowed candle bearers. The heart of the dead regent was embalmed separately and interred with those of many preceding Bavarian rulers at the village of Alt-Oetting, where it reposes in a silver casket beside the famous shrine of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

STEAMER BUELOW HAS ROUGH TRIP

Passengers Were Forced to Remain Below Decks.

(Canadian Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The steamer Buelow arriving last night from Bremen faced a very rough storm in the North Atlantic. For ten days 985 staterage passengers had to be confined below the decks. One immense wave broke over the stern of the vessel and carried away the port rail and flooded the second cabin.

THE OLDEST SKULL YET DISCOVERED

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Portions of the oldest skull that has yet been discovered have been laid before the Fellows of the Geological Society by Charles Dawson and Dr. Arthur Smithwood Woodward of the Natural History Museum at Kensington. According to Dr. Woodward, whose deductions receive the support of the Society, the skull belongs to the "Lower Pleistocene Period," which cannot be accurately computed in terms of years. It was the oldest example of the human skull that has come to light and is far older than the skulls which are preserved in France, Germany and Belgium of the "Cave Men," which was the oldest type of man previously known. The skull was unearthed from a dried-up pond in Sussex. "The discovery," says Dr. Woodward, "confirms in a striking manner the theories of scientists. Boyd Dawkins discovered flint implements long ago and described a race of men who existed before the known cave dwellers whom he called "River Drift Men." "There has been no relics of their skeletons heretofore found which would prove that such a race ever existed but these remains establish the fact and bring us nearer towards tracing the human beginnings. "It is impossible to fix the date of the skull but a dim conception of its antiquity may be gained when I state that the gravel in which it was imbedded may have been carried there by a stream which is now the river Ouse, which has since cut for itself a channel eighty feet deep a mile distant from the spot. "In the gravel too were relics of an elephant, mastodon and hippopotamus, besides implements anterior to those used by cave dwellers."

SYDNEY PASSES LAKE $2,200 OFFER

OTTAWA, Dec. 19.—To-day it was announced that Manager Ross of Sydney had offered Fred Lake $2,200 for the season, but Lake was out with the Ottawas to-night as well as Westwick and Lesueur, both of whom had offers. Lowery and Dufour were with New Edinburgh, also Greg and Basil George, who had been with the Stewarts. The latter left for Toronto to-night with a well-balanced team. Dion was unable to make the trip. New Edinburghs tried to-day to get Merrill and Leete back in the game, both refusing, but Merrill may return to the game later. He slipped and fell and before he could recover himself the "charger" was upon him. One leg was cut off and the other badly mangled. He died a couple of hours after being removed to the hospital. A particularly sad feature is the fact that the "charger" was run by the deceased's brother.

BOY KILLED AT SCOTIA FURNACES

SYDNEY MINES, December 19—John Hopkins, a sixteen year old boy, was killed at the open hearth furnaces here this afternoon. Hopkins was a water boy and was crossing the track on which the "charger," which carries the ore to the furnaces runs.

WOMEN SCORE IN EGG SELLING

(Canadian Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—The women who started today to break prices in fresh eggs here to 24 cts a dozen as a warning to dealers not to try and raise the price above that figure were successful in selling 700,000 eggs and forcing the dealers all over the city to advertise fresh eggs at that price or less to offset the campaign. The Chicago Clean Food Club engineered the campaign and made a profit of 2 1/2 cts a dozen which will be used to further campaigns for clean food and face prices.

I. C. R. CONDUCTOR KILLED AT ST. LAMBERT

MONTREAL, Dec. 20.—An inquest will be held today to inquire into the death of Conductor J. A. Bouchard, of the Intercolonial Railway, in charge of the Halifax express due at Bonaventure station at 6:30 last night and crushed to death in the Grand Trunk Railway yard outside the station in St. Lambert. His train was held in the yard and as he was already three hours late he walked ahead to enquire about the delay in the yard, first sending a brakeman back to protect the train. The brakeman received a signal a few minutes later that the track was clear, and it was thought that Conductor Bouchard was on the train, but when it pulled into the station at St. Lambert he was missing and his mangled remains close to the main line were found. He had evidently been run down by one of the switching engines.

This army which was made up of a number of hot headed youths from Canada and the United States set out from Charlotta in three ships, one of which went aground, the other being captured by the American authorities, the third managing to land, the two hundred men who captured the Windmill. Over thirty raised their flag which consisted of an eagle between two stars on a blue field. After a short bombardment by the British the force capitulated. Two of the British leaders in the movement were hanged, many were imprisoned, while twenty two were pardoned by the late Queen Victoria.
