Council of the League of Nations
GENEVA, Nov. 21—League of Nations quarters were almost unanimous tonight in the belief that Japan's position was unchanged in any appreciable degree by her reply to the Lytton Commission report on Manchuria which was published here today.
Flat contradiction of the principal findings of the Lytton report regarding Japanese responsibility in events in Manchuria during the past 14 months, is contained in the Japanese observations on the report.
The Council of the League of Nations will begin discussion of the Lytton report tomorrow. President De Valera, of the Irish Free State, who will preside over the council conferred with representatives of the great powers today on matters of procedure. It is expected the council will take up the Lytton report immediately instead of deferring it in favor of minor business.

Tax Reductions Bring Prices of Cigarettes to Pre-War Levels
Canadian Smokers—Canadian Government and Canadian Manufacturers All Stand to Benefit!
Few acts of the present Government in power in Ottawa will meet with greater public acclaim than the recent reduction in the excise tax on cigarettes produced in Canada.
This beneficial legislation has its most direct and pleasing effects upon the cigarette consumer in Canada who will be able, under the new prices to get five packages of 20 cigarettes for the same money that he previously paid for four packages. Many a smoker who has been forced by curtailed income to stop smoking his favourite brand altogether, will again be able to indulge his preference at the new low prices.
The actual benefits of the amendment introduced by the Honorable E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, go much farther than those experienced by the consumer himself. Unless all predictions fail, the Government will realize a greater return on the revised excise than it did upon the old high rate, due to the fact that greater numbers of cigarettes will be smoked. This increased revenue will, it is believed, reduce the number of additional taxes that may be needed for Government revenue purposes, thus directly benefiting the consumer in another way.
The increased consumption of cigarettes in Canada, due to the lower prices, will no doubt prove very beneficial to the tobacco industry as a whole, providing additional employment for many men and girls in the factories of Canada.
Thus in ever widening circles the benefit of this wise legislation will make itself felt. The purpose back of the legislation itself is to compensate for the reduction of the duty on British cigarettes from $4.10 to $3.50 per pound—granted as a result of the Imperial Economic Conferences.
It is also felt that the new low prices of Canadian cigarettes will have a salutary effect upon the losses sustained by Government revenue due to the wide-spread smuggling of American cigarettes which has been prevalent in recent years.

Chinese for Pacific Settlement
Simultaneous with publication of Japanese comments, the Chinese delegation loosed a spirited blast against the Japanese military policy and coupled it with assurance of support for League of Nations efforts toward pacific settlement of the Manchurian problem.
The Japanese document reached delegates to the council of the league too late today for detailed reactions.
Lord Lytton, who was chairman of the investigation commission in Manchuria, said he intended "to speak later in his own name."
The Japanese observations declare the Mukden attack which was the first move in the campaign resulting in Japanese occupation of Manchuria was an act of legitimate self defence authorized by the terms of the Kellogg Pact. The observations likewise directly deny the Lytton commission's conclusion that the organization of the new State of Manchukuo was the work of Japanese officials and was without support of the Manchurian population.
The document asserts "the movement for proclamation of independence in Manchuria was genuine, spontaneous, popular and natural."

Special Regime in Manchuria Not Acceptable
The Tokyo Government says that the establishment of a special regime in Manchuria, as recommended by the Lytton Commission, would "amount in practice to disguised international control over Manchuria and this is certain to be rejected by Manchukuo. Nor from the standpoint of Japan can these suggestions be regarded acceptable."
The memorandum said that Japan finds the Lytton Commission's proposal for settlement in general "unacceptable." It criticized the commission's method of gathering evidence and asserted that items of information from unimpeachable sources were disregarded while undue credit was accorded testimony from obscure or unknown sources.
Tokyo, however, supported the commission's analysis which tended to show that China is in a state of disorder.

Tasmania
"Lost Province" Recovered
After a wait of nearly 50 years, residents of the West Coast of Tasmania, have been placed in direct communication with other parts of the State, the new road having provided a link with Hobart, the capital city. One of the most important factors in the development of Tasmania during the last half century has been the progress of the mining industry of the West Coast. Of the total value of the mineral productions of Tasmania, amounting to about $60,000,000, the western fields have contributed about $40,000,000. The completion of the road to the Coast has occupied more than three years, and has been financed jointly by the Commonwealth and State Governments, at a cost of $146,000.
Apart from its value as a link in the main highway system of Tasmania, the road will be of incalculable benefit as a tourist attraction. The beauty of the lakes and forests, the rugged grandeur of the mountain ranges, piled one upon the other in a disordered mass of peaks and broken outlines, and the attractions of the plains, through which the road passes make it a journey of unrivalled charm.
Export of Egg Pulp
Established with the principal object of stabilising and augmenting the production and the prices of eggs in Tasmania, a plant for the manufacture of egg pulp for export has been opened at Hobart. An experimental shipment overseas has been made, and a determined endeavor is to be made to capture for the State portion of the market in Great Britain, into which eggs and pulp of the value of about $30,000,000 are imported each year. The progress of the poultry industry in the last few years has been most marked, and today it occupies the fourth position, insofar as primary industries are concerned, in the annual production values.
A Brighter Outlook
Notwithstanding a serious decline in the revenue of the Tasmanian Government during the last 12 months, drastic economies and reductions in expenditure have brought about a position which is a sound basis for the confident belief that the State, like the Commonwealth, has turned the corner. There is a more optimistic feeling in the business community throughout the State, and there are definite signs of a recovery of industry. The statements of consolidated revenue are beginning to show excesses of receipts over expenditure.
Great New Industries
The Federal Minister in charge of Development (Senator A. L. McLachlan), after conducting inquiries into the paper pulp and shale oil industries in Tasmania, said that he was impressed with the economic and industrial advantages which would accrue from the paper pulp industry not only to Tasmania, but to Australia generally. He expressed the hope also that something tangible would result from his inquiries regarding the shale oil in-

Justify Incidents of Sept., 1931
The observations were very emphatic in justifying incidents of September 18, 1931, and said that the commission was quite right in saying the Japanese had a definite plan of military operation, adding that this was always true of an efficient army in the face of hostile forces.
The Chinese attacked the night of September 18, 1931, following an explosion on the South Manchurian Railway which had been arranged by the Chinese, Tokyo maintained.
"The commission thought it its duty to add 'military operations of Japanese troops during this night cannot be regarded as measures of legitimate self-defence.' It is entirely impossible to accept this opinion which must be a surprising one to any one belonging to those country parties to the Briand-Kellogg treaty for outlawry of war."

The Turkey Crop Gloomy Outlook
(Canadian Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 21—The turkey of the United States faces a gloomy outlook.
Besides one of the largest crops in the history of the country awaiting the Thanksgiving axe, poultry experts are predicting abundant supply of the birds the year around at a low price. The price here is from 25 to 31 cents a pound.
"It is quite likely," said Paul Mandeville of the institute of American Poultry, "that within a few years we shall see turkeys sold the year around. They can be produced profitably at a fair delivery price possibly lower than chickens for meat."
"We've got to make women realize that depressions are caused by wars."

marriage, and received many useful wedding presents including checks, silver and linen.
Mr. and Mrs. Walsh have taken up their abode at Burnt Pt., where the groom lately purchased the old Capt. McPhee residence known as Riverview Farm. Shortly after their coming to Burnt Point the neighbors called on Mr. and Mrs. Walsh and presented them with a beautiful chair. A very appropriate address was read to the young couple to which Mr. Walsh responded on behalf of himself and his wife.
Luncheon was served and after singing For They're Jolly Good Fellows, the parties left for their respective homes with the happy thought of spending pleasant evenings with their new neighbors.—(Patriot Please Copy).

Viking Stock Was Run Out
(Canadian Press)
COPENHAGEN, Nov. 21—Vikings who settled in Greenland centuries ago were gentle and worn out at 46 in the belief of Professor F. C. O. Hansen, leading Danish anatomist.
He is now dissecting the frozen remains of Vikings brought back to Denmark by the Neerlund expedition to Southeastern Greenland. They indicate the men were probably of stocky build, but not very tall and that they died between ages of 30 and 40 years. They suffered greatly from gout and rheumatism, the Prof. believes.

WATERVALE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE
On Thursday evening, November 17th the ladies of the Watervale Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hayes to hold their annual meeting. The President occupied the chair, and the meeting was opened by singing the Ode in unison. The Secretary, after reading the minutes of the last monthly meeting and those of the last annual meeting, both of which were adopted, gave in detail the financial statement of the past year. Then followed the enrollment of members and the election of officers for the coming year. The officers are:
President, Mrs. Charles Quinn, (re-elected).
Vice-President, Mrs. Margaret Hayes (re-elected).
Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. Augustin Waser, (re-elected).
Directors, Mrs. John C. Waser, Mrs. John T. Grimes, Mrs. Edward Boylan, (re-elected).
Auditors, Miss Annie Byrne, Miss Mary E. Trainor.
The appointment of the different committees then took place, and Mrs. John T. Grimes invited the members to hold their next meeting at her home, roll call to be answered by Christmas recipes. The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close, after which an appetizing lunch was served in Mrs. Hayes' usual capable manner. The remainder of the evening was spent in pleasant discourse and a vote of thanks was tendered the hostess for her genial hospitality.
