P. W. C. Annual Boxing Tournament Is Held

Sensational Fighting Features Several Of Seven Bouts On Card

Prince of Wales College staged its second annual boxing championships last night at the Sporting Club and the boys posted an exhibition that mirrored the game as the Marquis of Queensbury must have pictured it. Sportsmanship and clean fighting keynoted every bout.

Seven bouts were on the card and all were three two-minute heats except those that were forced into an extra round for a decision. There were no knockouts.

Highlight of the night was the cagy fight put up by Brent Hooper of Charlottetown. Hooper a stripling of 131 pounds was matched with Alex Matheson, 146, of Brooklyn.

In the opener, Hooper made the mistake of trying to slug it out with his heavier opponent and Matheson caught the Charlottetown boy on the side of the jaw with a right he threw from the floor, bringing Hooper to the canvas. Hooper got up after taking nine counts only to be floored again. He arose to hang on for the rest of the round.

Although shaky, Hooper's clever boxing in the second kept the aggressive Matheson under control and they split the round. Hooper showered a steady tattoo of clean right and left punches on gamey Mathieson to win the next and repeated his performance in the extra round to get a clear-cut decision.

Two spunky youngsters by the name of Benson Auld, 121, West Covehead, and Sterling Banks, 122, a ginger-thatched boy from Conway, fought toe to toe all the way with Auld getting the judges' nod. Turn-about, each had the upper hand, the lean Auld getting his quota of punches and then absorbing stocky Banks' chernings.

In the third young Banks reached his opponent to land a long series of blows to the head put points piled up earlier in the bout gave Auld the decision.

Hooper's win gave him the lightweight title at the college, and Auld's, the featherweight.

Forced To Extra Round

Bert Campbell, 156, of Winsloe, copped the light heavyweight title in his bout with Allison Gillis, 156, of Charlottetown. Aggressive fighting by Gillis forced the bout into an extra round but Campbell's coolness under fire enabled him to chalk up plenty of points that gave him the championship.

The bantamweight title went to Doug MacLennan, 118, of Charlottetown by virtue of his win over Ewen Campbell, 118, of Graham's Road. The two well-proportioned boys staged a bout that featured snap and bounce all the way with plenty of action.

John Richard, 140, Charlottetown, punched his way to a four-round victory over Alex MacLeod, 147, for the welterweight title while Bruce Hawkins' win over Clare Haslam, 155, Springfield, gave him the middleweight championship in a bout that went an extra round. Hawkins, 155, hails from Murray Harbor.

Exhibition Bouts

Two scrappy exhibition bouts were on the card. Louis O'Brien, 121 Morell, and Charles Read, 116, Coleman, fought to a draw and Ken Martin, 135, Springton, defeated Cyril Sinnott, 128, Bristol.

Newhouser Pitches Detroit To Victory

NEW YORK, May 2 —(AP) — Young Hal Newhouser, 18-year-old lefthander, today pitched Detroit to a 5-3 victory over the Senators at Washington in the only game played in the American Baseball League.

Rain and cold weather caused postponements around the circuit.

While Newhouser was keeping the Senators in check, his mates were combing rookie Sid Hudson for eight hits, five of them for extra bases.

Hudson issued seven walks to bring the total bases on balls Washington pitchers have handed out in the last two games to 22.

The Senators got to Newhouser for a run in the first. They counted again in the third but from then until two men were out in the ninth, Newhouser didn't allow a hit.

Pitcher Wins First Home Tilt For Royals

MONTREAL, May 2—(CP)—Kemp Wicker, veteran southpaw, won a three-hit, 1-0 pitchers' duel against Frank Pearce, veteran right-hander of the league-leading Jersey City Giants here today and Montreal got off to a victorious start at home.

It was Wicker's third straight triumph of the young International League season. In the three games he has pitched, he has allowed a total of only eight hits.

Royals bunched two of their blows off Pearce in the fourth for the only run of the game.

Opening Toronto's home season, the Maple Leafs defeated Newark Bears 5-2 to climb into fifth place.

Carl Fischer set down the Bears with five hits. Tommy Padden hit a home run.

The Leafs climbed on Hank Borowy for two runs in the first innings and combed Borowy and Beddingfield for a total of 11 hits.

Hank Gornicki scattered three doubles to help the Red Wings to a 12-1 victory over Syracuse at Rochester.

It was the third victory for Gornicki.

The Wings reached Cy Blanton for five safeties and six runs in six innings, then made an additional four raps and five bases on balls by Less Heckle count for the remaining tallies.

At Buffalo, showers and the Baltimore Orioles dampened the Buffalo club's home season opener as the Orioles clubbed six Bison pitchers for a 14-6 victory.

Infielder Bill Nagel slammed one double and three singles to pace the Orioles to 16 hits, including five doubles.

Buffalo counted 12 safeties off four Oriole hurlers.

N. Y. Giants Give Cardinals Slugging Lesson

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—New York Giants gave the Cardinals a lesson in slugging today with a 14-hit assault that carried with it a 7-4 victory and a boost into exclusive possession of third place in the National Baseball League. The game was at St. Louis.

The Cards were held to five hits, but the game was a knock-down and dragout battle at the plate until Lefty Cliff Melton took charge of the pitching for New York in the third inning and proceeded to hold the vaunted Redbirds scoreless on two hits for the remainder of the way.

The Giants stabbed first with a run in the first inning. Successive walks to John Mize and Don Padgett and a homer by Terry Moore sent St. Louis in front in the second.

The Giants tied it up in the third with Joe Moore's single and Mel Ott's third home run of the season, but the Cards got a run in their half of the inning.

The Giants kept right on going after that.
