LECTURES BY

Robt. G. Jackson, M. D.

IN HOLY NAME CLUB HALL

On May 1st. and 2nd.

8.15 P.M.

Subject :

"Natural Health through Natural Living Habits."

ROBT. G. JACKSON, M. D. From photograph taken in his 77th year.

Dr. Robert G. Jackson is now in his 78th year. At 50 he was about to die from a long drawn out combination of diseases. By correcting his living habits he came back to be one of the most vital men in North America, no age barred, and still is. His lectures will demonstrate this claim beyond question. Come and see him and hear him and be convinced.

Dr. Jackson's lectures are on the general subject of "Natural Health through Natural Living Habits leading to a natural immunity from disease." You will be willing to sit for hours under the spell of his convincing argument, delivered in a youthful, vigorous, resonant voice. You will be astonished at his demonstrations of youthful agility and strength. You will be charmed by his perfect diction, intrigued by his agile, erect, athletic, youthful figure and marvel at the snappy brilliance with which he answers questions from the audience at the close of each lecture. Come! And come early or you may fail to get a seat, as was the case with hundreds last year in many places. This may be the last opportunity you will have for some time to hear Dr. Jackson as pressure is being brought to bear to have him lecture next season and probably for several seasons in the British Isles. Lectures free.

ANZAC DAY CELEBRATED

Tribute Paid to Heroes of Gallipoli By Government Leaders.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, April 25 — British Government and such of the Dominion government leaders as are here ready for the Royal Jubilee took part today in celebrating Anzac Day—the 20th anniversary of the historic and costly landing at Gallipoli.

Observances at the Cenotaph, in which a group of French war veterans now visiting London shares, were echoed in observances at many lesser memorials. General Ian Hamilton placed a wreath at the memorial in St. Clement's Church where Stanley Bruce of Australia and Sir James Parr of New Zealand, high commissioners for their Dominions here, were present.

The United States also joined in commemorating the heroic landing which led to a painfully-fought campaign and final abandonment of the peninsula eight months afterward.

Attend Services

PARIS, April 25—(C. P.-Havas)—For the first time since the end of the Great War the Turkish Ambassador, accompanied by the Turkish military attache, attended services held tonight at the Arc de Triomphe marking the 20th anniversary of the landing of the "Anzacs" at Gallipoli and the opening of the allied offensive on the Dardanelles.

The eternal flame over the tomb of the Unknown Soldier was renewed by a representative of the National Association of Veterans of the Dardanelles campaigns. Capt. Field, representing the British Ambassador, and Lieut. Col. Hyman, representing Australian war veterans, placed wreaths on the tomb.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION

PUBLIC NOTICE

A Proclamation issued by His Excellency the Governor General in Council requests the Archbishops, Bishops and other titular heads and the clergy of all religious denominations throughout Canada when they assemble in their respective churches for Divine Worship on Sunday, the 5th of May, A. D. 1935, to give an appropriate expression of gratitude to Almighty God for the manifold bounties and great mercies which the people of Canada have enjoyed during His Majesty's Reign.

The Proclamation appoints Monday, the 6th day of May, A. D. 1935, as a day of general thanksgiving and rejoicing on the occasion of the Silver Jubilee.

The Provincial Committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration of the Jubilee expresses the hope suitable programs will be carried out at numerous centres throughout this Province and that particular emphasis will be placed upon the importance of having the children attend and take part in the Celebrations.

In conforming with the plan of celebration in England, the Committee recommends the lighting of bonfires on high land points through the Province and in as many school districts as possible. In the placing of bonfires every care and precaution for the protection of property should be exercised.

At Charlottetown the program will consist of a parade of ex-service men, militia, societies and organizations to Victoria Park. Upon arrival of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor the royal salute will be given, followed by the singing of O Canada, addresses by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor; Honourable W. J. P. MacMillan, Premier of the Province; His Worship Mayor Kennedy, M. B. E., Mayor of Charlottetown. His Honour the Lieutenant Governor will present Jubilee Medals to persons to whom they have been awarded in recognition of outstanding service during His Majesty's Reign and the proceedings will close with the singing of the National Anthem.

H. R. STEWART,
Secretary.

In fond and loving memory of LLOYD ELDON WHITE
Who departed this life April 27, 1934
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile
But they little know the sorrow
Which that smile hides all the while
You are not forgotten Lloydie dear
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

Britain, Germany Exchange Officers

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

BERLIN, April 25—German and other military circles here tonight agreed that Germany's and Great Britain's decision to resume exchanging officers represents "return to normalcy."

"A routine matter" and "an attempt to cement friendlier relations" were other phrases employed in discussion of the move.

All quarters pointed out that the custom of exchanging officers was common to many countries, with the purpose of giving each opportunity to observe military practices and improvements of the other.

One foreign military observer asserted:

"It is very likely both the British and German armies will gain a great deal in the exchange—each will get a line on what the other is doing. Surely Germany stands to get valuable pointers for her rebuilt army."

Authoritative quarters, meanwhile, revealed that the Reich would like to exchange officers with other nations, especially Japan. The custom has not been observed since the war.

Disclosure that the Reich and Britain had resumed exchange of officers came first at London, where it was said three officers of each country, representing infantry, cavalry and artillery, would be attached to corresponding units in the other nation's army for six weeks' courses, with further exchanges likely to follow.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. RODERICK MCLEOD

Mrs. Roderick McLeod died at Bridgetown, April 19th, at the age of 96 years. The deceased was in her usual good health until six weeks before her death. She was born at Dundas, and lived there all her life, with the exception of two visits to U.S.A. She was the daughter of the late Jonathan McKenzie, and his wife Ann McLeod, and was until her death the last survivor of a family of eight. Her husband Roderick McLeod predeceased her 12 years ago. She was the mother of seven children. Two died in infancy, Norman was killed by a train in Halifax in 1901, Gordon died at home in 1920, Christina, who became the wife of Stewart Hunter, died in 1923; another daughter, Annie, who is now Mrs. George White, lives in Taunton, Mass., and came home and cared for her mother for some weeks before her death. One son, Samuel, is on the homestead, and the mother resided with him. There are thirteen grandchildren and twenty-two great grandchildren.

The deceased was endowed with a body of unusual strength, and comparable to those of vigorous, active men. The passion of her life was to minister to others. She was, in as far as lay in her power, doctor, nurse and benefactor to the whole community. Calls for her help came at all hours of day and night, and were never treated lightly. She went out in the wildest storms, and on almost impassable roads; and she has been known to leave the horse and driver floundering in the snow banks, while she made her way through every opposing power to the side of the needy sufferer.

Such as she cannot lay up material possessions, she gave to the impoverishment of her home store, and also to the satisfying of her soul. Not her relatives alone, but the people of a very large community rise up to call her blessed.

We bore her remains from the home to the United Church and conducted the funeral service there, and we recalled the tests of genuine character presented by Jesus, our Saviour—"I was an hungered and ye gave Me meat, I was thirsty and ye gave Me drink, I was a stranger and ye took Me in, naked and ye clothed Me, I was sick and ye visited Me, I was in prison and ye came unto Me —for inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

We reverently placed her remains in the cemetery that surrounds the church, and in ground that her father gave to the people for a church site. The pall bearers were Messrs. John D. McLean, Herbert McLeod, and four of her grandchildren, Leslie, Russell, John and William Hunter.

MRS. WILLIAM LARRABEE

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., April 8—The death of Mrs. William Larrabee, aged 87 occurred at her residence, Central Carriboo, on Sunday afternoon, April 7, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Larrabee came with her husband some twenty years ago from Eldon, Prince Edward Island. She was the daughter of Alexander Williams and his wife, Ann Morrison, of the Island. By her fine christian character, her uncomplaining patience through a trying affliction and her numerous kindnesses to all, she won a large place in the affections of the entire community as was shown by the large funeral which took place on Monday the 8th, being conducted by Rev. Dr. Baird of First Presbyterian Church of which she was a loyal and valued member for many years. The musical selections by a local choir were: "The Sweet Bye and Bye and "Shall We Gather at The River."

Mrs. Larrabee leaves to mourn her husband, Mr. William Larrabee; her adopted son, Harry Barnard and his wife and family with whom she lived, and some distant connections on P. E. Island. A sister, Miss Julia Williams died in January of this year. Interment was made in the family lot at the Central Carihoo cemetery.

ONE DEAD IN QUARREL

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, April 25—A double shooting following a domestic quarrel brought death to a Montreal policeman in hospital tonight while his wife was in a serious condition thorugh loss of blood from a bullet wound in the neck.

A flare-up at the noon meal over a proposed visit to his mother-in-law caused 32-year-old Arthur Besner to hit his 26-year-old wife. According to police Mrs. Besner ran to her bedroom screaming and Besner ran after her and fired while she was lying dazed on the bedroom floor beside their one-year-old daughter.

Besner, for seven years a constable on the Montreal Police Force, then put the muzzle of his service revolver in his mouth and pulled the trigger, police said. He died several hours later without recovering consciousness. Police said Besner suffered a fractured skull thre years ago when struck by an automobile.

Mrs. Besner was struck on the jaw on the right side by the bullet which emerged under the ear on the left side. The flesh wound in itself was not considered dangerous but Mrs. Besner's condition is serious because of loss of blood.

HAS COLOR SCHEME IN BREEDING MICE

(By The Canadian Press)

ABERDEEN, Scotland, April 25—John Taylor, unemployed cooper has gone "mousey" and is getting along famously.

Taylor, in his early 60's has been breeding mice now for about five years and a first look at his collection is a bit bewildering. He has hundreds of the rodents,—red ones, champagne ones, dove-grey and piebald specimens.

Mr. Taylor doesn't bother with the common or garden mouse variety. He tends only to aristocrats—sleek, pink-eyed beauties of the most delicate shades of coloring which in the past two years have won for him a large number of prizes at leading shows.

"The great thing with the mice is the coloring," he says, "and it is by mating one kind with another that the correct shades are obtained." Taylor said no other creation, bird or animal had taken such a hold of his affections as his mice. "I simply adore them, and I don't know what I'd do without them now."
