CONCLUSION OF MISSION SERVICES IN ST. DUNSTAN'S

Probably the greatest Catholic revival that has ever occurred in Charlottetown was the Eucharistic Mission which has been conducted during the past two weeks in St. Dunstan's Cathedral by Rev. Fathers P. J. Casey, J. P. Walsh and J. F. Cox, all of the Society of Jesus, and Rev. Fr. Maurice McDonald, Rector and Staff. The object of the Mission was prominently to promote a "Greater Love of Our Lord Jesus Christ in the Blessed Sacrament." During the past week the Men's Mission, following on the women's was carried out, services having been held in the mornings and evenings. The masses in the mornings were at 5, 6, 7 and 8 when short addresses and prayers were given by the Missionaries. Over 13,000 communions were given during the last week. On Friday night Fr. J. F. Cox concluded his class of instruction which he had been conducting in the vestry of the Cathedral during the Mission. On the concluding night the large vestry was crowded to the doors, showing the great interest which was taken in this feature of the mission. It has been decided to continue this class throughout the winter. The class is intended for Catholics who have not yet received the Sacrament of Confirmation, Catholics who are seeking further instruction and others who desire a knowledge of the doctrines of the Church.

Each evening a sermon was given preceded by instructions on the Mission and prayers for its success. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament concluded each service. On Saturday evening a "Holy Hour" was observed, the Blessed Sacrament being exposed throughout the service, which was presided by Fr. J. F. Cox who preached a strongly appealing sermon on "The Love of God." On Saturday night and Sunday night a large number joined the Holy Name Society on the exhortation of the Mission Priests. Last evening the sermon was preached by Fr. Casey, his subject being "Perseverance." Fr. Casey said some united effort should be taken by Catholics to prevent drunkenness. If they would do their part he declared God would do the rest. He expressed his thanks to the congregation, to His Lordship the Bishop, to the priests, to the Sexton of the Church and all who had assisted in making the Mission the success it was.

It was perhaps the best of the Revd. gentleman's discourses and contained a magnificent and eloquent appeal to all to be loyal to God and perpetuate the work of the Mission. After the sermon the lights were put out and each member of the congregation who had made the mission lit a blessed candle and renewed his baptismal vows. This was followed by Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, celebrated by His Lordship the Bishop of Charlottetown. After Benediction His Lordship delivered a brief address. He thanked the Mission Fathers of the great Order of the Society of Jesus for the excellent work they had done during the past two weeks, and said that in all his personal experience of the work of the Society this Mission had been the greatest success. He heartily commended it and emphasized the observations of Father Casey on intemperance. He said they should get together, each realizing he was his brother's keeper, in an endeavour to eradicate the evil. He wished to impress upon them the importance of frequent communion and exhorted them to continue in this practice, so admirably observed during the mission. One of the features of the Mission was the nightly increasing number who made the Way of the Cross, the last two nights after service all the aisles in the Church being filled with men practicing this devotion.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock there was a service for the babies, all the little tots in the parish being consecrated to God in a very pretty service. At 4 o'clock a large class received the sacrament of Confirmation, conferred by His Lordship the Bishop. On the whole the mission was a grand success.

Two Passenger Steamers Collide in Irish Channel. Only one Survivor from Both Ships.

(Canadian Press Despatch) LONDON, Nov. 4.—The London and Northwestern Railway steamer Connamara, bound from Greenore to Holyhead, with passengers, has collided with another vessel, and it is feared that the death toll is about three hundred.

The Connamara, 1,106 tons gross and 272 feet long, was built in Dunbarton in 1896. The Retriever was 190 feet long of 674 tons gross and was built in Goole, England, in 1909. She was owned by the West Coast of America Telegraph Company of London.

A steamer service is maintained by the London and Northwestern Railway between Holyhead, Wales, and Greenore, Ireland, a distance of about 80 miles, across the Irish Sea.

So far as is known, there is only one survivor from both ships. A Lloyd's despatch from Belfast says the collision occurred off Carlingford Lough, an inlet on the Irish coast between the counties of Down and Louth. The Retriever was inward bound.

A few bodies have been washed ashore on the county Down coast. The despatch says it is feared three hundred lives have been lost.

LONDON APPROVES NEWS SERVICE SCHEME.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The proposal made in Montreal before the Dominion Royal Commission for the organization of an Imperial News Service is regarded in London with a good deal of interest, and finds many supporters. Sir Gilbert Parker, during chat with the London correspondent of the Montreal Gazette, said that the question was an old one, which grew more important every year. He always considered it unhappy that the Canadian press were obliged to depend on American associations or private enterprises for imperial news. He had seen, in Canadian newspapers, references taken from American news services to the Royal Family and persons in high places which were grossly unfair. Such items no Imperial journalist would cable. There would, he thought, be difficulty in establishing such a service during the war, but it ought to be one of the first products of peace. New conditions after the war could never properly be worked out without a pure Imperial news service. The Australian publicity department was inclined to think that the existing Anglo-Australian services are sufficient, and doubted if the Commonwealth would support the scheme. The Australians think their service is much stronger, with more efficient staffs, than any other colonial press association.

GOVERNMENT WILL ASK FOR FURTHER EXTENSION

TORONTO, November 4.—Hon. A. E. Kemp, who stated that he came direct from cabinet deliberations at Ottawa, reached Toronto this evening, proceeded at once to a meeting of Ward One Conservative association and communicated to the meeting, on behalf of the Dominion government, his intention to seek from Parliament another appeal to the British House for a further extension of its term of office. He said:

"If constitutional considerations were alone regarded it would have been proper to have held an election in the autumn of 1914 or 1915. "The higher consideration of the public interest and decent regard for public opinion were taken into account by the government for an extension of the parliamentary term was proposed for reasons which apply with equal, if not greater force to such further extension as will make an election unnecessary during the continuance of the war.

"For these reasons the government proposes to ask for such further extension as may be necessary, and upon the Liberal party will rest the responsibility of determining whether a war election shall be avoided, or whether party strife shall be precipitated and carried on during the pending struggle.

Germans Wage War On Neural Powers

(Canadian Press Despatch) PARIS, Nov. 4.—(New York Times)—Georges Clemenceau in L'Homme En Chainé, discussing the German submarine attacks in Norwegian waters, declares this shows that Germany has now decided to wage war without formally declaring it, on all neutral powers which thwart her.

"It is," he said, "inauguration of a new 'right of conquest' eliminating all other rights except that of force." Evoking the Lusitania, Clemenceau continues: "Is this not the doctrine by virtue of which the Lusitania was sent to the bottom with her tragic cargo of women and children? Most prudent Wilson found in this only an occasion for a display of jurisprudence, which, above all, had for its result to invite the Germans to renew this revolting spectacle for him by torpedoing the Marlan, manned by an American crew. It is necessary to add that the President-candidate is making an inquiry, of which luckily, the result will only transpire after election?"

"O Democracy, is this all the living humanity you can infuse in the hearts of your pale-faced election?" "I do not yet believe the visit of German submarines to American shores has inspired the United States government with other sentiments than those so courageously displayed by the small Scandinavian states under the menace of Berlin. Inquiry or no inquiry, the facts speak clearly that the party in favor is waging submarine warfare regardless of the consequences. Heated by Von Tirpitz and a staff of hot-heads, it has definitely triumphed over the last hesitations of William II's advisors. The plan of submarine offensive, should I think, call for reaction in the way of defense, and even counter-offensive."
