To Farador People Of P. E. Island

At the commencement of my eighth year of work as representative of the Farador Company, I desire to thank all persons, known and unknown, who have done so much to promote the spread of health in this province by advising the use of the Farador.

The year 1918 was a record breaker for the Farador in other parts of the world as well as here.

Although there is so much to be thankful for, it seems a pity that more people who know the value of this drugless remedy, do not see the advisability of recommending it for acute ailments more than they do. The epidemic of influenza afforded an opportunity of recommending what was at once harmless and speedy in giving relief, but unfortunately only a few friends of the Farador embraced this opportunity of doing something really practical for the stay of the plague.

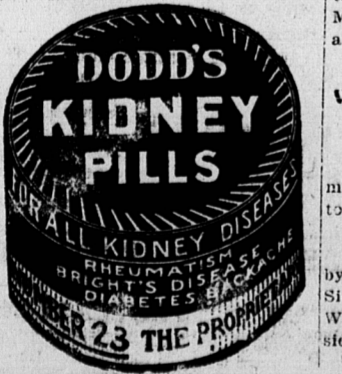

All people without exception readily admit that anything that will save life or relieve suffering should be used regardless of what it is or who originated it. If this theory was only reduced to practice there would be more happiness than sadness in many homes. As the Farador depends entirely on the good words of its users for its success, it is surely asking nothing unreasonable that those who know its value as a saver of life and health should make its merit known.

I would again remind my customers of the advisability of sending their Faradors to me occasionally in order that they may be tested and any defect in the cords repaired.

With best wishes, I remain, Yours for health,

W. EDGAR ENMAN, 226 Richmond Street, Charlottetown Jan. 10, 1919
