

Winter's Worst Hazard: SKIDDING

When the roadway is a skidway, beware of rapid acceleration, quick stops and sudden swerves. Also deadly are excessive speed, especially on turns, and uneven braking.

Among The Farmers

The second angle is the reduction in purchasing power of Island farmers if prices are maintained at present levels. We estimate that Island farmers would export approximately two million dozen eggs this year.

If we live up to an average production of 100,000 hogs per year and they average dressed weight 155 pounds, we will be short an additional $75,000.00 based on the forecast five cents per pound average reduction in hog prices.

It has been estimated by responsible officials that if consumers in Canada would eat an average of one egg per week more than our egg surplus would not be a problem. This could easily be done by a proper system of marketing, whereby egg prices would be held at a level that would maintain production and not discourage consumer buying.

Annual Meetings

Arrangements for the annual meeting of the P. E. I. Dairymen's Association and the Federation of Agriculture are almost complete. Mr. G. H. Johnson, manager of the "Capitol Co-operative Creamery" of Fredericton will lead a discussion at the Dairymen's Association meeting on centralized packaging, storage and marketing of dairy products and also review the development of the Co-operative Feed Plant which is designed to serve all farmer Co-operatives in the Maritimes.

There will not be a banquet or special speaker for the Federation meeting. It will be a business session only. The main discussion will be on organization and the setting up of County Federations and appointing district representatives. It will take considerable time to review the new Constitution and By-laws. The afternoon session will be spent entirely on marketing problems.

This will be the last open meeting for the Federation on the Island. Future Provincial Federation meetings will consist only of the fifteen directors from each County and two representatives from the Provincial member organizations making a total of about 65 to 70 people.

The big free-for-all will be the County annual meetings where resolutions will be passed by delegates representing each school district in the County.

Farm Forums, Womens' Institutes and all farmers and organizations in Kings County are asked to make a special effort to have a good representation at their County Federation meeting which will be held next Thursday morning.

As mentioned before we would like to have a good representation of the ladies so that directors can be appointed and arrangements made for a follow-up program in each electoral district. We might suggest also that every one wanting reservations in Charlottetown for these meetings should make them in advance.

The third series of Farm Forum commences Monday night. It is a very important series dealing with marketing, floor prices, tariffs etc.

County Progress. There has been considerable planning done and arrangements are being worked out by the Board of Directors in Prince and Queens County for organizing their district set-up. Bad travelling conditions have slowed down the work. But, it is hoped that arrangements will be completed and special Federation meetings in each school district of Prince and Queens held some time before the middle of February.

This will depend, of course, on travelling and weather conditions and the enthusiasm and co-operation of the people contacted in each district to take the lead in the organizing work.

Picks Top Sport Performers Of Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 - (AP) - Sport Magazine today announced the winners in its "top performers of the year" in 12 major sports, and also named Tommy Henrich of the New York Yankees as the "athlete of the year."

The top performers, who will be honored along with Henrich at a dinner here Jan. 19, are: Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, baseball. Leon Hart, Notre Dame, college football. Otto Graham, Cleveland, professional football. Alex Groza, Kentucky, college basketball. Ray Robinson, world welterweight champion, boxing. George Mikan, Minneapolis, professional basketball. Sammy Sneed, golf. Sid Abel, Detroit, professional hockey. Pancho Gonzales, tennis. Mel Patton, track. Steve Brooks, jockey. Joe Verdure, La Salle College, swimming.

west generally takes a beating, anyway."

Here's what Moore had to say about it: "Keep the split at 50 per cent of the net but include expenses charged to the Grey Cup first before the split is made, the actual travelling, training and living expenses of each team, plus salaries to players, from date of the last game each plays before the final to date of arrival home from the final."

Others favoring a straight 60 per cent pot for the western teams included Frank O'Neill, Vancouver Province; Brit Jessup, North Bay Daily Nugget; Laurie Brain, Galt Evening Reporter; Art Cameron, Cornwall Standard-Freelancer; and Ace Foley, Halifax Mail-Star. Stan Moher, Edmonton Bulletin, Max Ray, Fort William Times-Journal, Dave McKay, Moncton, N. B. Transcript, Don Mackintosh, Sudbury Star, voted for a 50-50 split after expenses of both finalists are paid.

Jim Vipond, Toronto Globe and Mail, also figured the 50-50 split was fair but he thought "allowance should be made for extra western expenses."

"In other words," Vipond said, "travelling, conditioning and living expenses should be paid first."

Urge New Financial Deal For Western Football Teams

TORONTO, Jan. 3 - (CP) - A financial new deal for Western Canada football teams competing in the annual Grey Cup classic is called for by Canadian sports editors and writers. With few exceptions, they would like to see the western champions receive a better-than-even break when the gate melon is cut.

Results of the Canadian Press year-end poll announced tonight showed that only three of the 40 who took part believe the present set-up is equitable. This gives 50 per cent of the net gate receipts to each finalist and pays the teams' transportation for 24 persons with hotel expenses for two days.

Financial and other arrangements are fixed by the Canadian Rugby Union, representative of all senior leagues in the east and west. "The present split is fair," said Phil Seguin of Montreal La Patrie, one of the three dissidents. "Okay as is," said Dink Carroll, sports editor of the Montreal Gazette, but Gerald Renaud of Ottawa Le Droit was more outspoken:

"What expenses they pay in salaries (to players). Western teams should be grateful for attracting a crowd of 20,000 at a single game."

From there in, editors from Newfoundland to Victoria, voting in the poll inaugurated 17 years ago, almost generally felt that western clubs should receive a "break" as they must travel 2,000 and more miles to Toronto each year for the late-November date with the eastern winners. The Grey Cup final is the biggest event on Canada's sports calendar.

Kevin J. O'Neill, sports editor of the St. John's, Nfld., Evening Telegram, figured a 60-40 split in favor of the west is a fair deal "in consideration of travelling expenses." Victoria Times agreed that that percentage was "at least" fair.

Calgary sports editors - Bob Mamini of the Herald and Tom Moore of the Albertan - who watched their Stampede win and lose the Grey Cup the last two years - voted for a better deal for the west. Mamini wants a 60-40 split and injects this aside: "The west generally takes a beating, anyway."

Here's what Moore had to say about it: "Keep the split at 50 per cent of the net but include expenses charged to the Grey Cup first before the split is made, the actual travelling, training and living expenses of each team, plus salaries to players, from date of the last game each plays before the final to date of arrival home from the final."

Towards Graduation At Ten Miles A Minute

ACROSS THE SKY go three Meteor 7's of Britain's Royal Air Force all-jet training school at Driffield, Yorkshire. Recently formed, the school's only subject is propellerless flight. Pupil pilots arrive when they have completed initial training on propeller-driven aircraft. The machines they fly are capable of well over 600 miles an hour, and speeds of something over ten miles a minute are reached before graduation. For R.A.F. operational purposes the Meteor 7 is already dated; it has been replaced by the Meteor 8, a faster ship, the performance of which the British are keeping a secret.

Maxim Arrives For London Bout

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Jan. 3 - (AP) - Joe Maxim arrived here today on the Queen Elizabeth for his Jan. 24 fight in London with Freddie Mills for the light-heavyweight championship.

The Cleveland boxer said he also intends to fight Bruce Woodcock and claim the world heavyweight championship, if he wins. Ezzard Charles is recognized as heavyweight champion by the National Boxing Association of the United States, but Britain has refused to do likewise.

Manager Jack Kearns, accompanying Maxim, said Joey is three pounds over the light-heavy limit but "could be ready to fight tomorrow if necessary."
