Discuss Floor Ceiling

OTTAWA, July 26—(CP) — The need for the placing of a floor under the prices of fisheries products may never develop, but if it does develop it likely will not be until several years after the war, fisheries department officials said today.

The officials said that if the need for a floor developed the government wished to be in a position to enact legislation now under study by the Commons.

The legislation calls for the setting up of a three-man board which would supervise the work of keeping the price of fish and fish products up to a fixed level.

The closing of some export markets might force the price of fish products in Canada to drop unless new peacetime markets were found It was to protect fishermen from a too drastic drop in prices that the government introduced its floor legislation.

Under the legislation the board will be able, with the approval of the federal cabinet, to set a price at which it will buy fish or fish products. Products bought by the board would be sold on any available market and sometimes might be sold at a loss.

A fund of $25,000,000 will be placed at the disposal of the board to enable it to keep the prices at a fixed level. Any profit realized by the board through the sale of the products would revert back into the fund

Institute Convention at Malpeque

The seventeenth annual district convention of Malpeque, Darnley, Sea View, Hamilton, Baltic and Spring Valley met in Malpeque Hall on Friday afternoon, July 14th, 1944, and was largely attended.

The afternoon session opened at 2:30 with the President, Mrs. Gordon Cousins, capably presiding. All joined in singing the "Island Hymn" and repeating the Creed in unison. The minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary and approved.

Mrs. Chas. Lockhart in a well worded address, welcomed the convention to Malpeque. This was fittingly replied to by Mrs. Robert Glover of Spring Valley. A chorus by six girls from Darnley was enjoyed followed by encouraging reports from each Institute outlining their various activities during the year. A demonstration on bandaging by Mrs. James Wall, R. N., was listened to with great interest; also a reading by Mrs. Neil Simpson.

A display of the Sewing Club at Sea View was given, and a review of the four years' work by Elaine Graham, who was wearing a jacket made by herself. Much credit is due the teachers, who through their untiring efforts have made this class a success.

A resolution committee consisting of Mrs. J. W. Pickering, Mrs. Colin Donald and Mrs. George Cotton was then appointed. The same officers were re-elected for the following year, namely:

President, Mrs. Gordon Cousins.
Vice-President, Mrs. James Hickey.
Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Earle MacKay.

The executive named were:
Malpeque: Mrs. Ken Owen and Mrs. Gerald Lockhart.
Darnley: Mrs. Clarence Hickey and Mrs. Wallace Adams.
Sea View: Mrs. J. E. Campbell and Mrs. J. E. Murphy
Hamilton: Mrs. Major Taylor and Mrs. J. A. Ramsay
Baltic: Mrs. Eddie Matthews and Mrs. Lewis Carroll.
Spring Valley: Mrs. Keith Harrington and Mrs. Gordon Brynton.

Miss Janet Auld delighted the audience with two solos, "Bless 'Em All", and "A Wing and a Prayer." An invitation was extended by the Sea View Women's Institute to meet in Sea View for their 1945 convention.

A sing-song with Mrs. Chester Simpson leading at the piano was greatly enjoyed.

Miss Hazard was then welcomed. She congratulated the members on their wholehearted way of supporting the convention. Miss Hazard had with her a beautiful display of quilt patterns which were greatly admired by all present.

A committee was named to judge the six quilts made by the different Institutes. The judges were Mrs. Hopgood, Mrs. Crowdis, Miss Grace Riley, Mrs. Wm. Cousins, and Miss Hazard. Hamilton Institute had the honor of winning first prize.

The meeting adjourned for the tea hour.

EVENING SESSION

The evening session opened by singing "O Canada", followed by a talk on "War Savings Stamps" by Mrs. Thane A. Campbell. A dialogue by Baltic Institute and a duet by Misses Anna and Edythe Donald were greatly enjoyed. Mr. Allan Stewart, M. L. A., gave a brief talk and introduced Mr. L. W. Shaw, Director of Education for Prince Edward Island. Mr. Shaw told of the amazing type of education he had witnessed in Denmark, and then described his work in Newfoundland. "All over the United Nations at the present time there is a definite movement to prepare for reconstruction along educational lines," said Mr. Shaw, and while some people say "we should leave it till after the war," yet in England a definite review of the whole educational system has been made in order to be ready for the future. We can do no better than follow their good example and Canada today as a whole is trying to do the same. He thought it a most difficult task for a teacher in a rural school to try and handle successfully so many different grades at one time. However he did not advise too sudden a change but thought it should be brought on gradually and asked for the support of the Women's Institutes in the great task which lay ahead.

Some instrumental selections by Baltic orchestra with tap dancing by Esther MacKay were heartily encored.

The resolution committee then brought in the following report:

Be it resolved that the thanks of this convention be extended to the Supervisor, Miss Haszard, for her interesting talk on Handicraft. To our officers, for their faithful work and to all others who contributed to the afternoon programme.

Be it resolved that the thanks of this convention be extended to the Malpeque people for their hall and equipment, to our hostesses of Baltic and Hamilton for their hospitality at the tea hour.

Be it resolved that the thanks of this convention be extended to Mrs. Campbell, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Shaw, for their most interesting addresses.

Be it resolved that we, one and all, put a greater effort and zeal into our Red Cross and war work.

Be it resolved that we as Institute members seek to arouse the public to see the seriousness of the liquor situation in our province today and to encourage more temperance education in our home, church and school and further that we extend our hearty thanks to all who helped in any way to make this 1944 convention a success.

A collection taken and a sale of cakes realized the sum of $42.73, which was in aid of the Provincial Sanitorium. The meeting closed by singing "God Save The King."

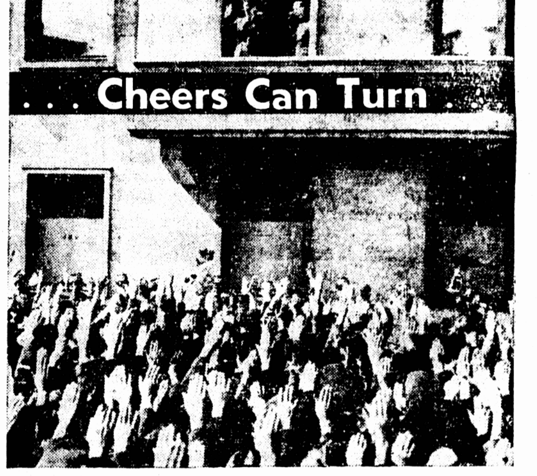
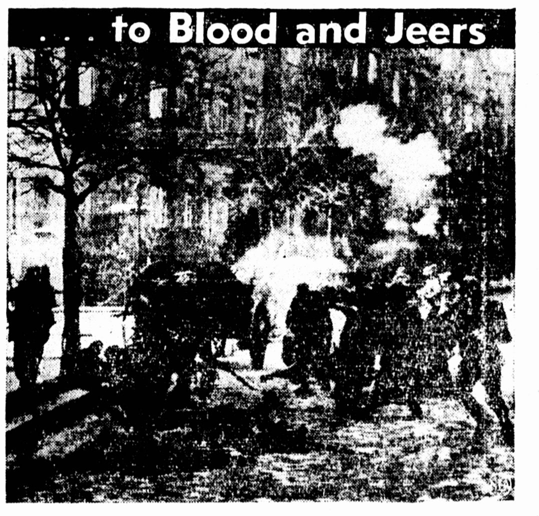
Hitler's Learning That . . .



. . . Cheers Can Turn . . .

. . . to Blood and Jeers



With the attempted assassination of Adolf Hitler and its resultant blood purge, unrest sweeps Germany. The spectre of civil war haunts the battlements of Berchtesgaden. Adolf is learning, like the Kaiser before him, that the hysterical cheers of his high-riding heyday (top photo) can quickly turn to howls of mob-rage, with German killing German, as in bottom photo, which shows government troops and revolutionists fighting in a Berlin street in 1919.
