WILL THE WAR LAST LONG?

Prussia beat Austria in one campaign in 1866 and triumphed over France in almost as brief space in 1870. Four months sufficed to compel Spain to make peace with the United States. Other wars between Turkey and Greece, China and Japan had also been of short duration. The Boer war extended over two years, but the case was exceptional, owing to British unreadiness, the great distance from her shores of the scene of conflict and the extraordinary fighting qualities of the Africans. So the world had made up its mind that future wars would be brief, and, of course, enormously costly for their duration. For the Boer war cost the British people a round billion of dollars, although all the battles were on land. War when conducted both on land and sea is costlier still.

With this opinion prevalent as to short wars in the future the war between Russian and Japan broke out. Russia hoped speedily to dispose of her adversary by sea and land, but was grievously disappointed. Japan knowing her own preparedness and the unreadiness of Russia, hoped to conquer a peace in the first campaign. Among outside nations there was doubt as to which would win, but it was believed that unless other nations were drawn into the conflict it would be short. For months everything went the Japanese way. The Russian fleet was crippled, the Russian army defeated and driven back. Port Arthur besieged and its early fall predicted. Now, with the first season's campaign drawing to a close, Port Arthur still holds out, and Kuropatkin, although worsted in many battles, has so far saved his main army intact and is probably more formidable than at any previous period of the war. Thus the Japanese successes, brilliant as they have been, have not come up to the national expectations.

So the world, and even Japan, is coming to the conclusion that the war may be prolonged indefinitely. In a remarkable speech recently delivered by Baron Okuma in Tokio he warned his hearers that they must be prepared for a long war, and that Japan must expect before it is over to experience a depreciation of her securities. He estimates that the war may go on for two years and cost Japan as much as the Boer war cost Britain—a billion of dollars. Such an estimate is not expected to be exact, but it fairly expresses what Japan is expected to expend before confessing defeat—something like the limit of her endurance while putting forth her utmost strength. Russia's expense bill is running at a rate three times as great as Japan's. The matter at issue is really vital to Japan, and not equally vital to Russia. But Muscovite pride and obstinacy have to be reckoned with. It is pretty clear that the war will not be settled this year, whether Fort Arthur shall soon fall or not, whether the Russian armies are driven northward beyond Mukden or not.

A published list shows 193 Liberal, 177 Conservative and 20 Independent candidates in the field for election to the Commons.

Col. Tucker, the wealthy bachelor representative of St. John City and County in the last two Parliaments was dropped in rather startling fashion by the Liberal Convention the other day. Col. Tucker never made long speeches, but he is probably thinking long thoughts these days.

One of the English delegates to the recent International Peace Congress in Boston stated that the war now going on in the East was due to the alliance between Britain and Japan, but for which Japan would not have dared to encounter the strength of Russia. This is a matter on which there must be a difference of opinion. The more general view is, while the alliance has undoubtedly lent some moral strength to Japan and has probably done much to prevent outside interference, that still had no such alliance existed Japan would have felt compelled to go to war. Japan is, in fact fighting for her independence, if not for her very existence as a nation, both of which must have been seriously imperilled had Russian aggrandisement in Manchuria and Korea not been checked by armed force.

DO YOU CHOOSE

YOUR MEDICINE WITH CARE AND INSIST ON HAVING

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed AND Turpentine

FOR AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

You cannot be too particular in buying medicine.

It may be a question of life or death. There are so many cough and cold remedies that there is a tendency to carelessness in the selection of treatment, and yet what is more dangerous than a cold?

You would not think of taking any medicine that might be offered for heart-trouble or kidney disease, and yet far more people die from the result of neglected colds than from these ailments. INSIST ON HAVING A MEDICINE OF RELIABILITY AND REPUTATION SUCH AS DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE.

This great family medicine has stood the test of years, never disappointing those who put their trust in it as a cure for croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma, coughs, colds and throat troubles.

Do not be satisfied with substitutes and imitations, for they lack the curative powers which have given Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine its world-wide reputation.

Mrs. Geo. Good, Tichborne, Addington, Co., Ont., writes: "It is with pleasure that I certify to the wonderful success of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for colds. It is the best and surest treatment for coughs and colds that we have ever been able to find."

Mrs. Geo. Good, Tichborne, Addington Co., Ont., writes: "For years I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for my children when they have colds in the winter. I first used it with my daughter, who suffered from a severe form of asthma. The first exposure to cold would lay her up and she would nearly suffocate for want of breath. I must say I found it to be a most satisfactory treatment, and it has entirely cured her. It seems to go direct to the diseased parts and bring the desired relief."
