WEDDING BELLS.—The Truro News Says: On Wednesday morning, Sept. 26th the church of The Immanuel Conception was the scene of a quiet wedding, when Mr. Hugh McLellan of Antigonish, N. S., was united in marriage to Miss Della Scidmore of Oxford Jet. The bride was beautifully attired in a navy blue travelling suit, with hat to match and carried a white prayer book. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Melanson of Brunswick Street, Truro. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kinsella. After the marriage ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McLellan left for Charlottetown, P. E. I., where they spent a few days of their honeymoon trip.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.—The Rev. Mr. Boyer, Maritime Secretary of the Canadian branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, is at present holding meetings in this Province. Mr. Boyer has already held well attended meetings in Malpeque, Kensington, French River, Springfield, York and Tuesday evening at Alexandria. On Wednesday, the Rev. Mr. Boyer speaks at Marshfield. Thursday at Winslow, Friday at Port Hill and next Sunday at Lot 11. At 10.30 a. m., Tyne Valley at 2.30 and evening at Victoria West. On Monday the 8th October he last meeting of this trip will be held at Lot 16. The Rev. Mr. Boyer's most interesting speaker in a great, good, and worthy cause, promoting the circulation of the greatest book and portions of it in the world.

His many friends in Charlottetown and throughout the Province will be grieved to hear of the death of Mr. James Callaghan, who passed away very suddenly at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Callaghan, Smyvale, Lot 65, on Monday afternoon, October 1st. Deceased who had been in failing health for the past two years or more but it was earnestly hoped by his many friends that he might once again be restored to his former health when the end came suddenly from apoplexy. The late Mr. Callaghan was an upright, honest and model citizen respected and honored by all who knew him. He was a high class tailoring establishment now occupied by Mr. George McQuaid, Queen Street. His remains were conveyed from the residence of his father to his home, 20 Euston Street from which place the funeral was held at 4.30 p. m., Wednesday, October 3rd, to St. Dunstan's Cathedral where a Mass of Requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. McQuaid. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing widow and two little daughters, Mary and Margaret, his father and mother, six sisters and five brothers. The pall bearers were C. Gavin Duffy, Patrick McTague, Samuel Craig, Charles Ross, Patrick FitzSimmons, George McQuaid.

HOLMAN'S CATALOG.—Holman's Commercial Fall and Winter Catalogue is again in the mails, replete with the season's most needed goods at the lowest possible market prices. The Guardian is informed that the only way that Holman's present prices are maintained is by contracting for goods many months in advance. Their immense financial resources are quite apparent in their present prices. Holman's catalog is a valuable shopping guide—it tends to stabilize market values, and creates a merchandising competition that is so essential to the progress and prosperity of any community. Holman's catalog required months of persistent planning, months of analyzing, eliminating, buying, a small army of men labored energetically and intently in their persistent efforts to gather together the greatest accumulation of real good values offered by any concern in Canada. A comparison of their catalog will convince readers that they have been successful in no small measure. Holman's guarantee every article listed in their catalog to be exactly as illustrated and described to the smallest detail. Goods can be ordered from Holman's on the distinct understanding that they will be promptly returned if not as good or even better than represented. Nowhere can one shop with greater convenience—with greater assurance of satisfaction. Any reader who has not yet received Holman's catalog can have one by mailing request on a post card to R. T. Holman, Limited, Summerside.

THURSDAY

In the passing of Murdoch McLeod an old land mark of Orwell has been removed. Mr. McLeod was born Nov. 8th, 1832 and died Sept. 17th, 1917, having reached almost 85 years. His wife pre-deceased him several years and a family of five, three sons and two daughters survive him. Mrs. John A. Martin, Eldon; Frank in Heathersage, Alta.; Alfred in Seattle, Wash. and Lawrence and Mary at home. Two sisters of the departed remain: Mrs. Allan Buchanan, Belfast and Mrs. Richard Wood, Orwell. Mr. McLeod up till last March was in good health for a man of his years, but a slight stroke at that time interfered with his activities, but he was still able to be about and was walking about a day or so before the end came. He will be missed from the home where he was so tenderly cared for by his son and daughter. He was a kind, lovable man of a quiet unassuming nature. A Christian faithful to his duties and until laid aside by illness he was always in his place in the church services, a man beloved by all who knew him.

The funeral was held in St. Andrew's Church, Orwell, on the 19th Sept. Services conducted by his pastor and the choir of the church. The pall bearers, all nephews of the deceased were Messrs Hugh D. McLeod, Donald N. McLeod, Neil W. McLeod, John M. Buchanan, Norman Wood, Donald W. McLeod. His remains were laid away beside his wife in Orwell Cemetery. His spirit had gone on to join the ones he had loved and lost awhile, and to be with Christ which is far better. (Patriot please copy.)

Flour Facts—and Flour Fallacies

Every good cook knows that Ontario winter wheat flour makes the most delicious pastry in the world. The good cook, who takes pride in the flaky lightness of her Pie Crusts—in the fine, even texture of her Tarts, Cakes and Buns—says there's "nothing like the famous old Ontario winter wheat flour for pastry".

But the good cook of today does not have to buy "special pastry" flour to get such results. She uses the same flour for Bread as she does for Pastry—and is particularly careful to see that her dealer always sends

BEAVER FLOUR
MILLED OF BLENDED WHEAT

Miss Blenda Wheat Makes Good Things to Eat.

"BEAVER" FLOUR contains Ontario fall wheat blended with western spring wheat to increase the strength, without decreasing the delicate, nutlike flavour. Quite naturally, the Bread, Rolls and Biscuits you make with "Beaver" Flour have a flavour, a tastiness, a satisfying deliciousness, that you never remember to have enjoyed in such breadstuffs before.

"Beaver" Flour is blended in exact proportions, which are predetermined by scientific tests. Thus, it is always the same in strength and quality, and will always give the same happy results.

Try it for Bread and Pastry—have your dealer send a sack for baking day. Be sure and get the genuine—order by name, and insist on having "Beaver" Flour.

DEALERS—write us for prices on Feed, Coarse Grains and Cereals.
