Head Offices in New Prowse Block—Charlottetown.

The latest news, first of all.

Miss Tena Enman, Ottawa, is visiting in this City.

Miss May Bell, Montague, is spending a few days in this city.

Miss Elsie Mortimer, Boston, is visiting in this city, the guest of Henry and Mrs. Lowe.

Will McKenzie, Vernon, returned Saturday afternoon after spending a few days in this city.

Myron Henderson, Halifax, who has been visiting in this city returned to his home in Halifax on Saturday.

John Burnette, who has been visiting his home here left Saturday morning on return to Waterville, Maine.

Mrs. Roach, of Sussex, accompanied by Miss Marjorie and Master Beverley, are the guests of Supt. Sharpe, Grafton Street.

Mrs. Allan McPhee, North River, leaves this morning for Earl Grey, Saskatchewan, where she will join her husband who is located there.

Mrs. J. Marshall Wright, formerly of Searletown, but for several years past a resident of Winnipeg, has been visiting in Marshfield, the guest of Peter and Mrs. Robertson. Before returning West she will spend some time in Searletown after which she will visit in Boston and New York. Her many friends of former years will give her a hearty welcome.

Frank D. Woodworth, of the sporting department of the Brooklyn Eagle, was in Halifax yesterday. Mr. Woodworth was formerly with the Toronto Mail and Empire and the Toronto Star, and is well-known in the journalistic circles. He leaves this morning for Prince Edward Island and expects to be back in Brooklyn on September 3rd. Mrs. Woodworth accompanies him.—Halifax Herald 27th.

At the Police Court in this city Saturday Colin McDonald was sentenced to six months in jail for fifth offence against the Prohibition Act. The case against Peter J. Doyle, steward of the Charlottetown Club, was further adjourned until September 3rd. Henry Walsh for being drunk was fined five dollars or twenty days, and Michael Hennessey for the same offence forfeited his bail bond of $10 for non-appearance. L. Horne, drunk, was discharged.

Joseph Auld, born at Eretown in this province now managing editor of a newspaper in Burlington, Vermont, has visited his native province. He has written some letters which appeared in the Guardian. Mr. Auld criticises our Prohibition law, our law against autos, finds fault with our little crooked railway, the slowness of our steamers, our hotels, etc. etc. His letters have called forth some vigorous protests by several writers, one being R. H. Sterns, proprietor of the Victoria and Queen Hotels, Charlottetown. On the whole it is well for us to have a man like Mr. Auld tell us some things even if he does go beyond the mark. It is not often advisable to act upon all the free advice one gets, but it does no harm to give the advisers a respectful hearing.—Pioneer.

Principal Miller is certainly taking a long step in advance along practical educational lines, and is making the influence of the Charlottetown Business College felt more and more with each succeeding term. Instead of taking holidays this year he was busily engaged in the interests of his students, providing them with positions and collecting valuable material for the courses of the present term. When a business man required a stenographer, bookkeeper or clerk, Mr. Miller was always within telephone call and their wants were immediately supplied. When the Royal Commission on Technical Education was here, he was with them to give the fullest information, and his services in this connection were so highly appreciated that he has been instructed to open up new departments in connection with the C. B. C. to supply the demand for technical training as shown by the evidence before the commission. He has also secured the services of a number of our leading business and professional men who will assist him in carrying on the work mapped out in the different courses of study. We have been privileged to see the outline of this work, and have no hesitation in saying that he has struck the keynote in practical education. We are glad to mention these facts in advance of the full announcement, for the management of the C. B. C. is usually reticent in making known—save through the student—the great work undertaken and accomplished by this splendid educational institution—Patriot. The Guardian heartily endorses this latest move of the C.B.C. It is, however, but another evidence of the progressive spirit of the management of this up-to-date educational institution.

P. Kelly, Montague, was in the city Saturday.

A. P. and Mrs. DesRoches, Ottawa, are registered at the Queen.

Miss Nora Beardsley, who has been visiting friends in this city, left for Boston Saturday morning.

Miss Elva Stewart, Montague, returned Saturday afternoon after spending a few days in this city.

Miss Margaret Gordon, of New Perth, who has been visiting Mrs. Duncan Kennedy, of this City, left for home Saturday afternoon.

Rev. T. Hicks, Pt de Bute, well-known in this Province preached in Shediac most acceptably last week.

Lawrence Heron, Webster's Corner, was a passenger from this city en route to Lynn, Mass., Saturday morning.

James Walker who has been spending his vacation in Charlottetown, leaves this morning on return to Gary, Ind.

Dr. A. L. H. McNeill, graduate of McGill University, has taken up the practice of medicine in this city and can be seen at his office and residence, 135 Pownall Street. His card will appear tomorrow.

Another record has been broken by the "Royal Edward" of the Canadian Northern Steamships, Ltd. which sailed on August 4th at 3 a. m. from Bristol, Eng., and arrived at Quebec, Aug. 10th at 11 a. m., the time being from land to land three days, fourteen hours and thirty minutes and from dock to dock five days and twenty hours, the fastest passage ever made between Great Britain and Canada. Hyndman & Co., Ltd., are the Agents in this City.

The Guardian has received a clipping from a Regina exchange telling of the recent fair held there. Among the prize winners in the dairy products was Leo McDonald, manager of the Moosomin, Sask., formerly of Vernon River, who carried off second prize for one package creamery butter, 50 lbs in print, first for one package 14 pounds, first for one package 28 lbs and one in sweepstakes, best average score creamery butter diploma.

Echoes from Springfield. The farmers in this section of the country are rejoicing over the abundant crop of hay they had this year, some having as many as twenty-eight stacks. There are some very fine fields of grain in this section. Worthy of note is the twenty-five acre field of Everett Haslam's and the fine field of wheat of M. T. Lamb's also Benjamin Haslam has a remarkable field of wheat all of which is pretty hard to beat.—Archibald Ferguson has a splendid dwelling house erected which is a credit to any farmer. Fred Haslam has his elegant residence nearly completed and it will be next to none in the province when finished.

Compare this new $2.95 Net Waist with Usual 4.00 lines,

SOMETIMES YOU DROP INTO A STORE, and select an article that pleases you. In the hurry and bustle of choosing the article may not make a clear impression on your mind. When it comes home, undistracted by other lines, you see it alone, and you are delighted with it. That's our situation with these waists. Some weeks ago, we selected the lot from a line of samples—and even then they seemed to us about the best bargain of the kind we'd had for a long time. And when they came in—the closer inspection confirmed our estimate.

A dainty little pale ecru net waist, made over silk slip. The front shows a pretty all-over lace effect, rather heavy. The sleeves are the latest model, finished in pretty tucking. Compare with the very best $4.00 waist you can find anywhere else. 2.95

Another great lot of Smart Fall Suits

TO-DAY YOU WILL FIND on our counters another splendid showing of the very latest models in fall suits.

This lot will help fill the gaps made by smart selling during the last week or two.

Notable in the range is a splendid value at $18.00, which is one of the prettiest and most effective suits that we have seen this season.

The last new ones show a fine assortment of blues and greys. All sizes $16.00, 18.00, 22.00

Do You Deny Yourself the necessities of life simply because they cost a trifle more than you would have them cost? There are many people who would buy their glasses at the "bargain counter," satisfied also to be their own physician, or leave it to the clerk to prescribe for them. We come in contact with these unfortunates everyday. It's bad business to juggle with your health, and especially with the health of your eyes, or to allow any one else to juggle with it.

We will examine your eyes safely and accurately and charge you for glasses only. E. Wm. Epstein, Drol Optics of this firm, will be around St. Peter's Bay and will test eyes and supply glasses to suit.
