HUNDREDS ATTEND AUCTION NEW DRUG STORE OPENS TO-DAY

SALE AT BEER AND WEEKS; SALE CONTINUES TODAY

It is many years since the public of Charlottetown and vicinity have been offered such an opportunity for buying as that now being afforded by Beer and Weeks. For the past few weeks this firm have been engaged in selling out their large stock of dry-goods and many have taken advantage of this and procured goods at exceptionally reduced prices. There is, however, a portion of the stock not yet disposed of and Mr. Weeks has been notified that the store must be given to R. T. Holman's Saturday, February 7.

In order to clear out the remainder of the goods Mr. Phillips who is in charge of the sale has instructed Mr. J. A. McDonald, auctioneer to sell at any price. The public auction sale opened yesterday afternoon and Mr. McDonald followed instructions to the—buyers had only to name their price and the article was theirs. Hundreds of shoppers thronged the store until the last minute yesterday and hundreds will be on hand when the doors open this morning.

To say that prices are being slashed is putting the thing mildly. Mr. McDonald has one object in mind—to dispose of everything before Saturday—and the buyer who makes the first bid generally takes away the goods.

Those desiring to procure something at their own price are cautioned to be at Beer and Weeks store when the sale re-opens this morning.

1 o'clock is the hour, don't let this last opportunity pass as this sale ends positively on Saturday night.

Today the new drug store conducted by Mr. Harold L. Worthy of this city will open for business.

The store which was formerly occupied by Mr. George MacQuind, tailor, is situated at 478 Queen St. on the block between Grafton and Fitzroy Streets.

The interior has been remodelled and repainted, the walls, ceiling and fixtures being all very attractively finished in white and gold. The walls on both sides and rear are lined with dustproof cases which are enclosed by glass doors. In these cases and in the large showcase may be found all the requirements of an up-to-date drug store.

Mr. Worthy who is popularly and favorably known has had a long experience in the drug business and was employed with Mr. J. G. Jamieson for the past number of years. He is an expert pharmacist, having passed the examinations with a high standing.

In the selection of his stock Mr. Worthy has taken particular care and he now assures the public of the best in quality, service and satisfaction.

The Guardian extends Mr. Worthy every wish for success in his new enterprise.

Interested in the welfare of both choir and church, Mr. Beer was a member of the choir, when the church was first opened. In those days the choir leader used either a flute or tuning fork to start the tunes.

After the conclusion of the toast list games and contests were indulged in for sometime and finally the singing of "The King" brought this delightful evening to a close.

There was celebrated in Moncton, 12th ultimo, the Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams who resided in Charlottetown for many years and made a great number of friends here. Their ten children were present to take part in the celebrations and to add their felicitations to those of hundreds of friends in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have resided since their departure from Charlottetown. While here Mr. Williams was chief accountant of the Prince Edward Island Railway and after his departure he was for many years, one of the most valued officials in the Inter-Colonial Railway Service.

Mrs. Williams was, and is, a lady who always wins the highest respect of those who come in contact with her. The many friends of the happy couple, here and in Moncton will unite with the Guardian in wishing them additional years of matrimonial felicity.

Responding to the toast to "Our Pastor," Rev. Mr. Ryan referred to the very pleasant and helpful relations which had always existed between the choir and himself, and told of some humorous happenings in his days when the ladies' best organs to assist the singers.

The toast to the Choir, was responded to by Prof. Fletcher and Messrs. Hutcheson, Bentley and Tweedy. The Professor reminded the gathering that it is just five years since he had undertaken his present duties. He had enjoyed his work here and expressed his keen appreciation of the loyalty of the choir and the assistance given by the congregation in the promotion of his work. The other speakers replying to this toast, thanked those who had so cheerfully provided the evening's entertainment, and referred to the benefit accruing from such delightful social gatherings.

A Scottish Editor's Visit To P. E. I.

In his pamphlet entitled Settling in Canada, Col. Edward W. Watt, of the Aberdeen Press Journal, Scotland makes the following reference to the visit of the Scottish editors, of whom he was one, to Prince Edward Island:

"Though time was short we motored through the city and its suburbs and the surrounding country, visited the Experimental Farm and the famous Fox Ranch, where Colonel D. A. MacKinnon, D. S. O., one of the owners, showed us round and told us something of the romance of the growth of the silver fox industry. We then went on to the farm of Mr. Robert Rhynes, Dunstaffnage. The story of Mr. Rhynes is one of encouragement for intending settlers. Mr. Rhynes is an Aberdonian and was an engineer-driver on the old "Great North" having passed through all the grades. He went out to Prince Edward Island in 1910 with no experience of farming. "I had a fortnight looking around before I bought," he told me, "and I went over a good part of the island. I bought this farm of 140 acres for 40,000 dollars with stock, implements, crop and buildings complete. If people only knew the comforts and conveniences they can have here, the happy life, so sociable, because the country is so closely settled! But they must have some money, and if you are the right man, you will get all the money you want. There never was a better chance than there is right now," he added unconsciously using the identical words which Mr. Field had used at Winnipeg. Farm labor, he said, is wanted and the pay is from 30 to 40 dollars a month, all found. The land is very easily worked, with no stones, and it is very fertile. You will grow your crops here as in the old country," Mr. Rhynes holds, "and with half the trouble." I was interested to hear how he had been induced to come to the island. "I was intending to go West," he told me, "but the agent representing the Island was in Aberdeen, and I met him at the K. tyroproseur show. His story induced me to come here and look around, and I am not disappointed that I did not go West. Some winters there is a good bit of snow, but it is not cold. In others there is very little snow and on the whole it is very pleasant, with no "mucky" kind of weather like what there is in the old country." Dairy cows, pigs, and poultry are profitable "side lines" on the farm. There is a nice orchard, and strawberries are grown for home use. Following the prevailing custom on the island Mr. Rhynes goes in for silver foxes. He has five pairs, which have done very well, and he averages 260 dollars per pair at the last spring sales. Another point to be noted is that the women do all their own baking. We enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Rhynes, the latter a native of Burghhead, and left this well-kept and attractive farm feeling that here was an excellent example for the man with a small amount of capital who wants to build up a new home. The Rhynes family are certainly doing well, as two of the sons now have farms of their own.

On our way back to Charlottetown we had an opportunity of visiting Lawndale, the fine dairy farm of Mr. A. R. MacKay, who is of Sutherlandshire descent though born in Nova Scotia. Twenty-two years ago he bought this farm "very cheap." It now carries a fine herd of Holsteins, and there is a ready market for the milk in the capital city. Some idea of the present value of the place may be gained from the fact that the owner has refused 24,000 dollars for it.

In the afternoon we motored to Borden and crossed by the train ferry to the mainland.

Methodist Choir Delightfully Entertained

The choir of the Methodist Church and their friends, were the guests on Tuesday evening, of the Music Committee and the Ladies of the church. About eighty sat down to the sumptuous repast prepared and served in the ladies' best style, and did full justice to the good things provided. Then followed a short sing-song. Mr. Henry Smith was Chairman for the occasion, and in proposing the toast to the King, referred to the fact that his honor, Governor Heartz who had his right, had been a member of his bible class about forty years ago, also that his honor was the first Methodist to occupy the distinguished position which he now so acceptably fills.

Governor Heartz was very happy in his reply. He referred to the development of music in the church and spoke in eulogistic terms of the work of the choir, and particularly of its leader, Prof. Fletcher, under whose capable direction the choir had reached its present high state of efficiency.

TO MAKE COLD CREAM

Take half a pound of lard, half a cupful of olive oil, half a teaspoonful of powdered borax. Melt these and let them come to a boiling point. Take half a cupful of water 5 cents' worth of rose essence or essence of geranium. Add these last two (water and essence) to the boiling fat by drops and then stir until cool by setting kettle into a larger kettle or something larger filled with cold water and beat it into a cream with the egg beater. This will keep in jars for months if kept where it is cool and is a fine, harmless and very inexpensive cream to use.

PREACHING MONKEYS.

The author of "The History of Brazil" tells of a species of monkey called "preachers." Every morning and evening these monkeys assemble in the woods. One takes a high position that the rest and makes a signal with his forepaw. At this signal the others sit around him and listen. When they are all seated he begins to utter a series of sounds. When he stops these cries he makes another signal with his paw, and the others cry out until he makes a third signal, upon which they become silent again. This author, Mr. Margrove, asserts that he was a witness to these preachings.

Haste makes some people waste a lot of other people's time.

About all a pessimist is good for is to sit around and anticipate misery.

Hatred is often the result of knowing but one side of a person.
